Allies Drive Slavs Before Them in Advance on Lemberg.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, June 17 (via Chiasso to Paris, June 18.)—Italian troops have arrived in sight of Trieste.

PARIS, June 17.—The official communication issued by the War Office this afternoon describes intense activity on the French front, the allied troops delivering powerful attacks and the Germans counter-attacking furiously. To the north of Arras the allies have carried several lines of German trenches, and are making steady progress toward Souchez. Artillery duels on both sides are reported. The text is as follows:

"There has been great activity on our front during the last two days. Fighting to the north of Arras yesterday has taken on a character of extreme intensity. The infantry actions have been numerous and desperate; the duel of artillery violent and continuous.

"We have realized important progress, almost all of which has been maintained, notwithstanding the furious counter-attacks of the enemy, some of which were markedly accentuated today.

"It is especially in the north part of the sector that we have progressed, carrying several lines of trenches on both sides of the road from Aix Houlette to Souchez. The Germans are still holding on in the Fond de Bouval, but they are almost completely surrounded.

"We made advances yesterday and today toward Souchez in the directions northwest, southeast, west and east in an interrupted fashion.

"Farther to the south we have taken foot in the park of the Chateau de Carleul, the moats of which, filled with water, served as a base for the enemy defenses; captured the cemetery of Souchez and gained ground

SAYS WOMEN EAT MOST.

Famous Chef Insists They Keep Restaurants from Going Broke.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 17.—Alfred Steimer, famous as a chef in the cafes of San Francisco, made the statement today before the National Convention of Cooks in session here that women eat more than men. "No matter how small a woman is," he said, "she can eat three times as much as a man when she gets into action. If it were not for the gentler sex the big restaurants of the country would go broke, for men do not eat big meals as a rule when they are paying big prices for them. Women's appetites are increased by lights, music and high prices, while a man's hunger is proportionately decreased under these circumstances."

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

The names of the parties to the coalition of neutrals in line with the United States against the closed sea of German submarine warfare and English long-range blockade are being signed to a Declaration of Independence which may be of equal moment to future generations as the one which bears the name of John Hancock has been to past generations. They may at the same time become the nucleus of the "world court" which Mr. Taft would like to see established to put an end to war for all time. How far off that day is can be measured by the ferocity of the fighting now going on in Europe as recounted in dispatches to The Times last night.

Another "peaceful invasion" of Mexico is likely. The matter is entirely in the discretion of Admiral Howard. The cause: The uprising of the Yaquis against American colonists.

Discretionary.

MAY INVADE MEXICO WITH AMERICAN MARINES

Admiral Howard is Given Free Rein to Handle Situation in Yaqui Valley.

In Any Event, Acquisition of Foreign Territory is Out of the Question—Cruisers on the Way to Guaymas with Detachments of Men Who will be Sent into the Interior if Occasion Requires.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 17.—Discretionary power lodged in the hands of Admiral Howard to use such measures as he deems necessary to protect American citizens in Mexico from Yaqui Indians is the first step in the administration's new policy of greater vigor in the handling of Mexican affairs.

That the United States government has prepared to use more drastic means of protecting American interests in Mexico was announced in these dispatches a week ago, and it can be stated authoritatively now that President Wilson will act with reference to general Mexican conditions with equal decision unless Carranza and Villa get together within a reasonably short time.

There is little likelihood of Carranza "getting together" with Villa. Gen. Carranza has already said that he would not enter into negotiations with the revolutionist from the north. As "supreme chief" of the Constitutionalist revolution, Gen. Carranza believes he is strong enough to overcome all such obstacles as Villa and Zapata and the lesser insurrectionists and then "force" recognition by the United States. Carranza is all the more bent on doing things his own way since he has heard that President Wilson's programme for the pacification of Mexico contemplates not only the elimination of Villa and Zapata, but the elimination of Carranza as well. Carranza does not like to be eliminated.

Although standing by the announcement that this government means to protect the Americans, State Department officials made it plain today that under no circumstances will the American forces attempt a permanent occupation of the territory, and that the only purpose of an invasion of the Yaqui Valley would be to bring out the Americans to places of safety. Secretary of the Navy Daniels today stated that these Americans, if they so desired, would be given asylum on the American warships and brought back to the United States.

Conditions at Mazatlan on the West Coast, where there are said to be many foreigners, were reported today by Admiral Howard as being precarious.

CARRANZA RESOURCES.

The State Department, it was learned today, is giving serious attention to reports from Rear-Admiral Caperton at Vera Cruz to the effect that as fast as Red Cross supplies are landed there, for use in the interior localities to relieve famine conditions, the Carranza authorities are exporting similar supplies back to the United States at large profit.

J. C. Weller of the Red Cross left Piedras Negras yesterday for Monclova with a carload of corn and beans. Before leaving he conferred with Gen. Duvall, the Red Cross manager on the border, and while at Monclova will make an exhaustive investigation of conditions. Vice-Consul Blocker, at Piedras Negras, reported to the State Department today that the Mexican authorities there seem anxious to assist in the relief work.

PRESSURE.

In the meantime the State Department, through Consul Silliman, at Vera Cruz, continues, it is said, to bring pressure to bear on Carranza to accept Villa's suggestion of a peace conference. In view of Carranza's apt intention to ignore the suggestion, it is thought likely that the administration here will shortly issue another statement demanding that the peace be restored within a fixed period.

NO NEED TO LAND, SAYS MAYTORENA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Gov. Maytorena of the State of Sonora advised the United States today it would be unnecessary to land any of Admiral Howard's forces to rescue or protect the American colonists, as he would furnish troops for the purpose. Admiral Howard's orders will remain unchanged, however, and he will be expected to act with wide discretion in any emergency.

American colonists in the Yaqui Valley will determine for themselves if they wish to leave the region of Indian depredations. Instructions of Admiral Howard, commanding the Pacific fleet, who sailed today from San Diego with a relief expedition are to give refugees asylum if they ask for it; to land forces for rescue if necessary, but not to take any territory.

The admiral today reported conditions on the west coast of Mexico unchanged.

DR. O'CONNOR ON WAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 17.—Announcement was made here today by the American Red Cross Society that Dr. Charles J. O'Connor, director of the Pacific division, was on his way to Vera Cruz, Mex., personally to direct the relief operations in Southern Mexico. Dr. O'Connor will join Arnold Shanklin, Consul-General at Mexico City, at Vera Cruz. With Mr. Shanklin he will proceed to Mexico City.

CHATTANOOGA ON ITS WAY.

ALLIES AT GALLIPOLI IN DESPERATE STRAITS.

Withdrawal of Bombarding Fleets on Account of Menace of Submarines has Left Forces on Land in Great Danger of Being Wiped Out—Turks are Aided by German Machine-gun Squads.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Brooklyn "Eagle."

[BY WIRELESS AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 15.—(By Courier to Berlin and via Sayville, L. I.)—The forces of the allies on the Gallipoli Peninsula at Ari Burnu and Seddul Bahr are in the gravest danger as a result of a withdrawal of the bombarding fleets, necessitated by the activity of the German submarines, and the consequent difficulty of maintaining communications over sea from the Aegean Islands.

The English position is at present desperate. The inability to land heavy artillery was at first compensated for by the protection given by the guns of the fleet, but the withdrawal of the ships from Ari Burhu leaves the shore forces resting almost on the water's edge without means of meeting attacks. Heavy British batteries are mounted on the surrounding heights. These statements are made after a week spent in the Turkish field under the first personal pass issued to a newspaper correspondent by Field Marshal Liman von Sanders, the commander-in-chief of the Turkish army.

The Turks are fighting confidently, aided by a few German machine-gun squads. The farthest advance made by the English at Ari Burnu is 1000 yards from shore. At Seddul Bahr about two miles. Forts Chanak and Kalid Bahr are still intact. The net result of the English attacks to force the Dardanelles are at present almost nil.

TURKS ARE REPULSED.

LONDON, June 17.—Turkish troops in the Dardanelles have been repulsed in their attempt to recapture the trenches lost by them to the British on June 12, according to an official statement on the situation in the Dardanelles made public here today.

"The text of the announcement follows:

"On the night of June 15 a party of the enemy, led by a German officer, made a gallant attack on the trenches occupied by one of the British brigades. A few of the enemy were killed on the parapet, but a majority of them fell before reaching our trenches. Fifty dead were counted, including the German leader and his Turkish subordinate.

"These trenches were captured by us on the night of June 12. After a strong attack the Turkish positions were enfiladed by our machine guns from right to left. The Dublin Fusiliers attacked with the bayonet. When the trenches were occupied they were found to contain 200 dead Turks. Twelve prisoners also were taken. Our casualties were very slight."

LOSSES AT ARI BURNU.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 16 (via London, June 17.)—The following official official statement was issued tonight at the Turkish War Office:

"Our artillery has caused the enemy heavy losses at Ari Burnu.

"Our coast batteries successfully bombarded the enemy's transports, camp and airship sheds at Seddul Bahr."

ELEANOR TAYLOR MARRIES G. M. CARNOCHAN, JR.

Ceremony is Performed at the Little Church in Middle Haddam and is Attended by Members of the Astor, Belmont and Harriman Families.

MIDDLETOWN (Ct.) June 17.—The marriage of Miss Eleanor Taylor, daughter of Attorney Howard Taylor of New York, to Gouverneur Morris Carnochan, Jr., also of New York, was solemnized this afternoon at Christ Church, Middle Haddam. Among those present were members of the Astor, Belmont and Harriman families.

The ceremony was performed in the little white church erected in 1787, on land given by the great-great grandfather of the bride. The clergymen were the Rev. Theodore Sedgewick of Calvary Church, New York, a college classmate of the bride's father, and Rev. Anthon T. Gessner, the rector of the church.

In the bridal procession Miss Taylor entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. Geoffrey Taylor, brother of the bride, was best man. The bridesmaids were Miss Eleanor Hartshorne and Miss Carlina Wyeth of New York, the latter a cousin of the groom. The ushers were Frederick G. Carnochan, brother of the groom; Murray Taylor, brother of the bride; George Parker and Herman Schwab, all of New York.

YOUNG GIRL BOOK-KEEPER IS TAUGHT FOLLY OF BEING "FRESH" IN COURT.

PORTLAND (Or.) June 17.—When Miss Alice M. Davis, a book-keeper, 23 years old, "sassed" Judge Stevenson in the municipal court today after he asked her about her brother, Jack Davis, aged 19 years, being intoxicated last night, the court promptly ordered her committed to jail. Jack Davis, Mrs. Edna Rickman, another sister of Davis, and H. C. Peterson were arrested in a hotel. Miss Alice Davis appeared as a spectator at the trial. Jack Davis testified that he had been made intoxicated by liquor furnished by his sister. Miss Davis was called on for an explanation, which she refused to give satisfactorily. Judge Stevenson became impatient and ordered her commitment. After half a day in jail the young woman was brought into court again and testified freely.

NEGRO SUSPECTED OF KILLING AN ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL IN CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, June 17.—Mrs. Mary Nolte today found the body of her 11-year-old daughter Elizabeth in the rear yard of her home here. The body was without clothing and wrapped in a sheet. The child had been assaulted and murdered according to the police.

In reporting the disappearance of her daughter yesterday Mrs. Nolte said a negro had given candy to the child last Tuesday morning and that she disappeared shortly afterward. The child's throat had been cut.

Both Germany and England Indicted as Violators of International Law and Promises in Conferences of the Ministers of Norway, Sweden and Denmark with Secretary of State Lansing.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 17.—Denmark, Norway and Sweden are supporting the efforts of the United States to induce both Germany and Great Britain to comply with international law in conduct of their maritime warfare.

This became known today following a conference of Secretary of State Lansing with Minister Bryn of Norway, Minister Ekengren of Sweden and Minister Brun of Denmark. These three kingdoms of Northern Europe have suffered almost as much as has the United States from the warfare of reprisal by the principal belligerents. Their merchant ships have been torpedoed and their subjects killed by German submarines. Their commerce, particularly with the United States, is practically disrupted by the British long-range blockade.

INDORSEMENT.

The position assumed by the United States in the correspondence with Berlin is indorsed by Denmark, Sweden and Norway. Each of these countries is preparing to address to Germany representations similar to the American demands, urging that the submarine warfare be conducted so as to spare noncombatants and neutral vessels.

All the ministers took to the conference with Mr. Lansing voluminous data on the injuries suffered by their countries from the German and British naval warfare. The grievances of the three kingdoms against Germany rest upon the torpedoing of the following merchant vessels and the killing of some of the members of their crews:

GERMAN PROMISES.

Germany already has promised not to attack neutral merchant vessels which are guilty of no hostile act and to pay indemnity for such vessels as are injured by "accidental and unintentional acts." Settlement on this basis has been accepted by the three kingdoms in some of the cases at issue. The neutrals, however, believe that Germany ought to change the methods of submarine warfare so as to prevent even accidental attack upon merchant vessels. So, for this reason,

Italy and France Now Insist that Republic Shall Cease to do Business with Germany, Which is Sure to Arouse Resentment in Berlin—Expulsion of Teuton Secret Service Agents also Contemplated.

BY GORDON GORDON SMITH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MILAN, June 17.—The inevitable has happened between Italy and Switzerland. It was clear that France and Italy would profit by the fact hat Switzerland was completely dependent on them for food supplies and raw materials to dictate the conditions of supply, the first of which is that Switzerland ceases to do business with Germany.

This has already led to friction, Italy desiring a general prohibition en bloc, while Switzerland desires to proceed by the prohibition of particular classes on goods.

It is reported this evening that the solution of the conflict will be the creation of a Swiss import and export trust under British surveillance, the same as already exists in Holland, which would handle all business.

The danger is, however, that Germany and Austria may declare that the submission of Switzerland to these conditions is practically a breach of neutrality, and the equivalent of an alliance with their enemies.

Switzerland has earned an immense proportion of her income from her commerce with Germany. The cessation of this would diminish her revenues by 50 per cent., and that at a time when her expenditure, necessitated by the war, is going up by leaps and bounds.

Germany, naturally, is leaving no stone unturned to envenom the situation and encourage Switzerland to resist the demands of the allies.

Fortunately, President Motto is an Italian Swiss, and knows the Italian character.

What might be more serious would be the demand for the expulsion being made by Italy for the thousands of Germans driven out of Italy and now living on the Swiss-Italian frontier. As hundred of them are professional spies and secret service agents, this step would undoubtedly be justified, but it is none the less certain to be resented by Germany in her present humor.

VICTORY OF VENIZELOS BITTER PILL FOR BERLIN.

BERLIN, June 17 (via London.)—The news of the complete victory in the Grecian general elections of the party of former Premier Venizelos, which is in favor of Greece's participation in the war on the side of the allies, has proved an unpleasant surprise to the newspapers of Germany.

The Kreuz Zeitung publishes a headline over the Athens elections dispatches reading, "The Next Enemy," and says:

"With this result the return of M. Venizelos to the government is as good as secured, and with the support of such a majority in the Chamber (Venizelos has 193 seats and the government 100 out of a total of 314) he will be able to carry through against all other influences his policy of joining with the Quadruple Entente."

ABSOLUTE NEUTRALITY THE POLICY OF DENMARK.

LONDON, June 17.—A Reuter dispatch from Copenhagen, says the Danish Folkething, or lower house of Parliament, today unanimously resolved to support the Ministry in its policy of absolute neutrality.

A dispatch from Copenhagen Wednesday said that as a result of attacks by the Conservative newspapers and their demands for the formation of a coalition government, owing to the radical Cabinet's policy of neutrality in the war, the government purposed to ask for a vote of confidence on its policy and that if this was not given it would resign.

ALLIANCE OF NATIONS PLAN TO PREVENT WAR.

Former President Heads Movement Aimed to Avert Future World Cataclysm.

Noted Men from All Parts of United States Foregather in Historic Independence Hall and Inaugurate Association Which it is Hoped May Meet Approval of All Great Powers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—Within historic Independence Hall today—the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill—there was formed an organization whose object it will be to promote the creation of a league of nations with a view to preventing wars or, at least, to lessen the possibilities of armed conflicts. The name adopted by the organization, after some debate was "League to Enforce Peace, American Branch."

Former President Taft, who presided over the conference for a part of the time, was elected permanent president, and in addition a number of representative American citizens were named as permanent vice-presidents. A permanent Executive Committee was selected with instructions to take all measures necessary to promote the objects of the league.

In moving the adoption of the report of the Committee on Resolutions, which embodied the objects of the league, the former President of the United States expressed the hope that "out of this historic building may come a message that shall again help the world."

The conference was not an assemblage of what one participant termed "pure peace" men, but a gathering of those who for the most part believed in trying to bring about peace even though they had to use force to do it.

MORNING SESSION.

The morning session of the conference was taken up with the delivery of formal addresses in support of the object of the league and with the forming of a temporary organization. During the noon recess the Resolutions Committee formulated its report and it was presented to the afternoon session by Chairman Lowell with the statement that, while there had been some differences in the committee as to some of the points covered, the report had been adopted unanimously.

Chairman Lowell said some of the suggestions offered were rejected because they were not germane to the subject and because they could be better taken up in other ways.

As Mr. Taft had to leave the city early, he called Prof. John Bassett Moore, Columbia University, to the chair and before leaving gave hearty indorsement to the report.

MR. TAFT'S IDEALS.

"We are in favor of doing something as well as thinking something," Mr. Taft said. "I believe in praying for peace and I also believe in doing something to support that prayer."

It is expected the Executive Committee will meet in the near future to adopt plans to carry out the objects of the league. One of the things that probably will be done, according to members of the Executive Committee, will be to start a propaganda in this country with a view to having the United States Senate adopt measures in line with the object of the league. Mr. Taft, in a brief speech today, said that judging by its action in rejecting treaties in the past, the chief stumbling block to the aspirations of the league would be the Senate. Steps will also be taken to get European countries interested in the league.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED.

After set speeches had been made by Theodore Marburg, Baltimore, former Minister to Belgium; Prof. John Clark, Columbia University, and Edward A. Filene, Boston, all of whom gave strong indorsement to the proposed League of Peace, the conference received resolutions to be acted upon by the Committee on Resolutions. Mr. Filene in his address advocated a modification in the scheme so that economic pressure can be brought to bear on nations that are intent on going to war before the league uses its military power to prevent hostilities.

William Dudley Foulke, Indiana, offered to the first article of the proposed league an amendment which in effect would leave to the nations in the league the option to place in the treaties they sign the specific things they declare shall be justiciable or non-justiciable.

Victor Berger, Wisconsin, proposed an amendment that when two nations go to war after the league has exhausted its powers the nonbelligerent nations in the league shall be prohibited from furnishing arms or ammunition to the combatants, but there shall be no interference with food supplies.

The League of Peace plan is largely the idea of the former President, and is understood to have the personal, though unofficial, indorsement of President Wilson. At a banquet given by the provisional committee last night Mr. Taft outlined the purpose of the conference. He declared he was firmly of the opinion that a league of peace could be formed which would enable nations to avoid war by furnishing a practical means of settling interest quarrels or suspending them until the blinding heat of passion had cooled.

"We are not peace-at-any-price men," he said, "because we do not think we have reached the time when a plan based on the complete abolition of war is practical."

Four articles which had been agreed upon by the provisional committee as a basis for the conference were presented to the meeting today, and it was hoped by members of the committee that they would be sent to President Wilson for his consideration and to the heads of other nations.

ANIMATED DISCUSSION.

There was an animated discussion over the adoption of the name of the league, and the only division that occurred on the several questions that came before the conference was on the changing of the title of the organization and to eliminate from the report of the Resolutions Committee that paragraph which bound members of the league of nations to use both their economic and military forces against any one of their number that goes to war against another member before the questions at issue are submitted to the tribunals provided for by the league.

George W. Kirchwey, professor of law, Columbia University, suggested that the name be changed to "League to Establish and Maintain Peace." The proposed elimination of the word "force" found supporters, but it was defeated after a vigorous speech by A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University and chairman of the Resolutions Committee.

"We are here to enforce peace, otherwise we have no business here at all," he exclaimed with spirit. "We have here a means to discourage war, and that means is the threat to use force."

THE REPORT.

After this speech the report of the committee was adopted. The text of the report is as follows:

"We believe it to be desirable for the United States to join a league of nations binding the signatories to the following:

"(1.) All justiciable questions arising between the signatory powers, not settled by negotiation, shall, subject to the limitations of treaties, be submitted to a judicial tribunal for hearing and judgment, both upon the merits and upon any issue as to its jurisdiction of the question.

"(2.) All other questions arising between the signatories and not settled by negotiations shall be submitted to a council of conciliation for hearing, consideration and recommendation.

"(3.) The signatory powers shall jointly use forthwith their economic and military forces against any one of their number that goes to war or commits acts of hostility against another of the signatories before any question arising shall be submitted as provided in the foregoing.

"(4.) Conferences between the signatory powers shall be held from time to time to formulate and codify rules of international law, which, unless some signatory shall signify its dissent within a stated period, shall thereafter govern in the decisions of the judicial tribunal mentioned in article one."

One of the principal suggestions rejected by the Resolutions Committee, Chairman Lowell said, was that offered by Victor C. Berger, Wisconsin, which would prevent the signatory nations furnishing the belligerent countries arms and ammunition.

THE REPORT.

Another one was offered by the Rev. Dr. H. Pereira Mendez, New York. It provided that the judicial tribunal of the league of nations be composed of jurists, skilled diplomatists and clergymen.

Mr. Berger, who, with Mr. Kirchwey, voted against the adoption of the report, characterized the report as "too militaristic."

"You are using too much force," he said. "You want more militarism to fight militarism. We don't want to be the world's sheriff or the world's policeman. To apply your plan it would require a bigger army and navy and it would have the United States in trouble all the time. There is too much Teddy Rooseveltism in it."

There were half a dozen brief speeches in favor of the report. John Wanamaker did not think the report went far enough. He had hoped the conference would send out a message to the warring nations that would make them pause and think. He could not help but favor the report, he added, but felt that it, standing alone without any further action, would be laughed at by those on the other side of the Atlantic.

TAFT OPENS CONFERENCE.

Former President Taft in opening the conference, expressed gratification at the large attendance. Mr. Taft likened the proposed league to the States in the American union and said there was no reason why nations could not federate in a somewhat similar way. The judicial tribunal of the council of conciliation, proposed in the League of Peace scheme, could settle disputes between nations much in the same way as the Supreme Court of the United States adjusts disputes between the States.

Among the vice-presidents named were Lyman Abbott, New York; Alex-

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Formal notice that United States mail pouches destined for Sweden had been broken open in England and their contents tampered with, was submitted to the State Department today by W. A. F. Ekengren, the Swedish Minister, with a request for appropriate action.

The Minister called at the department and delivered Acting Secretary Lansing a letter, written on instructions from his government, reciting instances of interference with mail for Sweden and pointing out that such acts were in violation of the provisions of the world postal convention and of other treaty stipulations.

Two specific cases were mentioned, one involving mail sent on the American steamer New York, when she left on May 29, and the other pouches carried by the British steamer Adriatic, which sailed on May 27.

In the former case, it was asserted, out of twenty-nine registered letters and packages, seven arrived in Sweden opened, while the greater part of the other mail had been censored. Of the Adriatic's mail, which arrived in Gothenburg on June 9, several letters were said to have been opened and one registered unit to have been retained.

Whether the piece of mail matter shown by a comparison of receipts to be missing was an official communication has not been revealed, but it is known that diplomatic correspondence was sent from Washington on the Adriatic.

While various reports have been in circulation as to the interference with mail since the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, the protest from Sweden is the first official communication on the subject.

Officials at the State Department did not discuss the visit of Mr. Ekengren. It was understood in diplomatic circles, however, that the matter would probably be the subject of representations by the United States to Great Britain, asking that special precautions be taken to protect American mail passing through British territory.

Unofficially it was stated in allied diplomatic quarters that there had been various instances of interference with official mail in this country and that the Russian Embassy had evidence of six cases in which mail had been tampered with on United States railway mail cars.

ARRIVAL OF CANADIANS TO ESCAPE WAR DRAFT.

TOPEKA (Kan.) June 17.—Young Canadians by thousands have poured into Kansas during the last two weeks to help in the wheat harvest. It was not the chance to work in the harvest field here that brought them into Kansas but the threatened draft for service in the European war.

Information has reached Topeka that at least 100,000 young men from Canada have crossed the line into the United States in the last three months to avoid going to war. Many of them are farmers.

On account of the heavy rains over the State the harvest will be backward. Usually the harvest fields are alive with machines and men by this time, but it will be two weeks yet before cutting will begin in earnest in the wheat belt.

CANADIANS DISLIKE TO TRANSACT BUSINESS THROUGH J. P. MORGAN.

LONDON, June 17.—David Lloyd George, the Minister of Munitions, is arranging to send a prominent business man to America to discuss the whole question of American and Canadian contracts for war munitions.

The Minister of Munitions made this announcement in the House of Commons this afternoon in reply to criticism that Canadian manufacturers were required to deal with the imperial government through the house of J. P. Morgan & Company, and that some Canadian firms refused to transact business through the agency in the United States.

NO REASON FOR ALARM IN WAR BABIES' QUESTION.

LONDON, June 17.—"No evidence available justifies the belief that the conditions of war have resulted in any exceptional increase in illegitimacy," is the conclusion reached by a committee, of which the Archbishop of York is the chairman, which has been investigating the "war babies" question. The report says that special inquiries in sixty-two towns and districts brought no confirmation of the alarmist rumors that have been in circulation concerning illegitimacy and that therefore it had been considered unnecessary to organize special agencies to deal with the problem.

Bombs Left in Hull Explode but Fail to Send Her to the Bottom—Three Turkish Transports are Reported Destroyed—British Dreadnaught Said to be Aground on an Island.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, June 17.—It is officially announced that the Italian submarine Medusa has been torpedoed and sunk by an Austrian submarine, says a dispatch from Rome to the Stefani agency. The Medusa was a vessel of 241 tons, and was built in 1911. She had a speed of thirteen knots above water and eight knots submerged. Her ordinary complement was fourteen men.

DREADNAUGHT IS AGROUND.

AMSTERDAM (via London) June 17.—A dispatch has been received from Constantinople saying that according to official announcement a Turkish aviator reports having observed a British warship of the Agamemnon type aground in Kefala Bay, Island of Imbros. The deck of the vessel is almost completely submerged.

The Island of Imbros is off the entrance to the Dardanelles Straits. A story published recently that the British battleship Agamemnon had been sunk by the Turks was categorically denied by the British government.

GERMANS' HASTE SAVES STEAMER.

MILFORD HAVEN (Wales) June 17.—With a big list to port and her pumps working at full pressure, the steamer Turnwell arrived here today after having surrendered to a German submarine, the crew of which had exploded bombs in her hold.

The escape of the steamer was due to the fact that the submarine's captain, eager to sink another steamer, did not remain long enough by the Turnwell to make sure of the effectiveness of the bombs.

The Turnwell, which is a vessel of 4264 tons, left Liverpool June 15 for New York. She was overhauled by the submarine thirty miles off the Pembrokeshire coast Wednesday morning and her crew ordered to take to their boats.

The Germans boarded the Turnwell, exploded the bombs, and then hurriedly put off from her, having sighted the British coasting steamer Trafford, a vessel of 224 tons, which they pursued and sank. The Turnwell's crew then returned to their

BRITISH INTERFERENCE.

Secretary Lansing discussed with the three ministers the British interference with trade between their countries and the United States, which will be the subject of the forthcoming note to London. The data submitted by the ministers shows conclusively that commerce between the United States and Northern European countries exists purely at the sufferance of Great Britain.

CARGOES SEIZED.

The British have seized more than 2000 neutral cargoes since the war began. Many of these were detained but a short time pending search for contraband. Hundreds of neutral cargoes, however, were subjected to delays that were ruinous to their owners. The European neutrals complain that Great Britain has proceeded on the theory that the greater part of the goods shipped to them from the United States were intended for the German army.

Denmark, Sweden and Norway indorse the contention of the United States that the British are illegally blockading their neutral ports. This complaint will be dwelt on in President Wilson's note to Great Britain. The United States will submit evidence that the British naval cordon has been guilty of high-handed practices in enforcing the paper blockade which are not in accord with the promises of Sir Edward Grey to legitimate neutral commerce.

THE FRYE CASE.

Secretary of State Lansing is at work on the reply to the British note announcing that the Frye case would be adjudicated in the British prize court instead of being settled through diplomatic negotiations as suggested by the United States. The reply will take exception to the German contention that under the London declaration of 1828 it is permissible for the British to destroy a vessel in order to get possession of its cargo. Acceptance of the contention will be tantamount to admission that it is permissible to destroy a vessel merely because it is under contraband.

NEBRASKAN.

Ambassador Page's report on the jury to the American steamer Nebraskan has been referred by the State Department to the Navy Department for an opinion. The latter will examine also the proceeds of the metal forwarded with the Nebraskan which are supposed to indicate whether the vessel hit a mine or was torpedoed. The Page report and the opinions of experts who examined the vessel are of the opinion that it was torpedoed.

VON BERNSTORFF DENIES REPORT.

Meyer-Gerhard Fabrication Stirs up Ambassador.

Asks Lansing to Abate Press Misrepresentations.

Special Envoy in Conference at Von Jagow's Office.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, who was in New York today, made an engagement by telegraph to call at the State Department tomorrow to personally inform Secretary Lansing there is no foundation for published reports that a safe conduct was issued for Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard of New York used to return to Europe by Alfred Meyer, a German purchasing agent of war munitions.

Mr. Lansing announced today the receipt of a message from Haniel von Haussen, counselor of the German Embassy and its Charge d'Affaires at Cedarhurst, L. I., making a formal denial of the published reports of deception.

Later came the telegram from the ambassador himself. He is expected to ask the State Department tomorrow to use its influence to prevent the repetition of such reports. He appealed once more to the department to prevent misrepresentations of the embassy and its staff in some newspapers.

Secretary Lansing said today he had received word from an American in New York whose word he would not doubt and who knew both Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard and Dr. Alfred Meyer very well, stating that he went to the pier to say good-by to the former and did not see the latter. The man is known to be the proprietor of a New York afternoon paper, but refused to allow the use of his name.

In reference to newspaper articles, the German counselor states as follows:

"It is unnecessary for me to assure you that the story circulated by these papers is untrue from beginning to end. It contains a personal attack upon the Ambassador and his delegation. Dr. Meyer-Gerhard, and is likewise at the same time to nullify the sincere and earnest efforts of the Ambassador to bring about an understanding between the United States and Germany in the Lusitania question."

DENIAL FROM BERLIN.

BERLIN, June 17 (via London.)—A report that Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, who arrived here today from Washington with messages to the Foreign Office from Count von Bernstorff, is in reality Dr. Alfred Meyer, head of the supply department of the German army, was denied authoritatively here today.

The meeting Dr. Meyer-Gerhard had protracted conference with Foreign Minister Von Jagow and Minister Solf of the Colonial Office.

LANDS LEASE.

Plans for Working Tracts Worth Millions are Finally Agreed Upon.

Washington.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Plans for the leasing of oil lands of the Osage Indians in Oklahoma, worth millions of dollars, were agreed upon today by the Tribal Council of the Osage nation and approved by Secretary Lane of the Interior Department.

Later the Indians made a formal call upon President Wilson.

The new arrangement eliminates the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Company, which now owns the so-called Foster lease, covering 680,000 acres of land in the Osage reservation. The Foster lease expires March 16, 1916. After that date the new plan limits leases to 4800-acre tracts or quarter section units will take effect.

Lessees now holding land under the Foster lease will be given an option to lease direct, subject to the 4800-acre limitation. Quarter-section units, however, which are capable of producing twenty-five or more barrels a day, will on July 1, 1916, be withheld and with the land taken up by the sublessees will be offered for lease at public auction under rules to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior. All oil leases will provide that the government may exercise an option to purchase all oil produced at the highest posted market prices on the day of the sale.

Royalties will be made on a royalty basis, one-sixth of the production, except that on the wells in any quarter section which produce 100 barrels a day for a calendar month period, when the royalty will be one-fifth. Unless lands are developed within one year after approval of a lease by the Secretary of the Interior, the lessees shall pay $1 an acre a year.

All present oil sublessees must find new occupance of the new terms before August 1, 1915, and after that date all land open will be offered to the highest bidder.

NORTH WIRES UNAFFECTED.

Only Eastern Telegraph Circuits Interrupted by the Aurora.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 17.—The electrical disturbance caused by the aurora borealis, reported this morning from various western States, had a serious effect also on cable and telegraph lines in the northeastern part of the United States and Eastern Canada. For several hours during the early morning cable communication via the Newfoundland cables of the Western Union was all but paralyzed, and the disturbances, although they diminished, were still felt up until the late afternoon. A peculiar feature of the phenomenon was that only east and west wires were affected. Interruptions in land service were frequent, the wires being heavily surcharged with electricity.

OBSERVERS SEE BRIGHT AURORA.

EXCEPTIONAL DISPLAY IS WITNESSED BY EXPERTS AT FLAGSTAFF.

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) June 17.—A brilliant aurora was observed early today at the Lowell Observatory. The northern horizon was peculiarly bright and ruddy at midnight. Although it lost color for a time it continued abnormally bright for several hours when the characteristic greenish-yellow auroral rays rapidly developed. The phenomenon extended from 25 deg. west to 45 deg. east of north along and upward from the horizon.

The display reached its greatest splendor a few minutes after the columnar rays first appeared and continued visible until dawn. The rays swung rapidly eastward, reaching upward generally to a height of 20 to 30 deg. The longest reached almost to the zenith.

Although common in northern latitudes, it is exceptional to see an aurora this far south, in latitude 35 deg. It is doubtless explained by an unusual encounter between the earth and a strong stream of radiant matter from the sun. Observations of this remarkable aurora will prove of great scientific interest.

SINGER DESCRIBES OUTRAGES OF ITALIAN MOB.

Phyllis Partington Says Strong Feeling of Friendliness for the United States Exists and Great Concern was Felt Over Sinking of the Lusitania.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 17.—Miss Phyllis Partington, a soprano from San Francisco, who arrived here today from Naples on the Italian liner, Europa, said she had observed in Milan a strong feeling of sympathy and friendliness for the United States. The loss of American lives on the torpedoed Cunarder Lusitania, she declared, was taken in Italy with much sorrowful concern.

Miss Partington said she was in Milan when one great mob became augmented to such proportion that it became subdivided into fifty smaller mobs that went about the city in search of German shops and warehouses.

"I was carried along with the mob to a place where a German had a large piano warehouse. The doors were battered down and the crowd rushed to the fourth floor, where strong arms lifted up about twenty pianos to the windows and dropped them into the street. When the loft was cleared out they hurried on to other shops to continue the destruction.

"After my experience in Milan I was a nervous wreck," said Miss Partington. "It was dreadful to witness such destruction, and the fearful yelling of the mob, I shall never forget. I managed to escape finally, but when I reached my hotel, I fainted."

ACQUITTED AND INDICTED.

Germans Charged with Preparing Dynamite for Shipment to be Tried Under the Federal Statutes.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW ORLEANS, June 17.—Although acquitted by the State courts on a charge of having prepared dynamite for shipment on a foreign vessel, Hans Helle and Charles Sommers, Germans, were today indicted by the United States grand jury under section 235 of the Federal Statutes for sending seventy-five packages of dynmite to the American Express Company for shipment to New York to be placed aboard a French vessel bound for France and which was timed to explode at sea. The arrest of Helle and Sommers by the Federal government a few days ago caused great wonder, and the indictment of the two was a big surprise today.

SAYS LUSITANIA STEERED WRONG

A. C. Edwards Declares Company is Culpable.

Thinks Zig-zag Course Would Have Saved the Ship.

Hearing into Sinking of the Steamer is Ended.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, June 17.—The public inquiry into the sinking of the steamer Lusitania by a German submarine was ended this afternoon. A short session in camera will be held tomorrow to take further evidence as to whether Capt. Turner observed fully the Admiralty's warnings, but none of this will be made public.

When the attorneys connected with the case were asked for their opinions this afternoon, A. C. Edwards, M. P., representing the Seamen's Union, said it was obvious that if a zig-zagging course was an element of safety, as an Admiralty expert had testified, then the captain and owners of the steamer "showed grave culpability."

"Had it anything to do with the calamity?" asked Baron Mersey.

Mr. Edwards replied that the evidence disclosed the company was economizing in the consumption of coal. As Capt. Turner was holding the ship to a straight course at a speed of eighteen knots, he said, it was easy for a submarine to take its proper position, whereas if the vessel had been zig-zagging it would have been difficult, if not impossible, to tell where the ship would pass.

"The evidence shows the torpedo suddenly came into the side," was Baron Mersey's comment. "How would the speed of the vessel have affected that catastrophe?"

The only question on which Baron Mersey desired light was the statement of D. A. Thomas, the coal operator, that while the first and second-class passengers were calm and the stewards and stewardesses brave and helpful, the steerage passengers were in confusion and members of the crew were mainly interested in saving themselves, giving a general appearance of lack of discipline.

Solicitor-General Smith presented statistics of those saved, showing that 41 per cent. of the crew, 38.8 per cent. of the male passengers, 38.6 per cent. of the female passengers and 27 per cent. of the children, were rescued. Mr. Smith declared after submitting these figures, that they did not give a fair idea as the women and children were unable to stand exposure while the sailors and passengers who were able to swim were of more hardy physique.

The outstanding questions, Mr. Smith said, were the responsibility of the ship's master and the company's action in restricting the number of boilers in use.

TO DEFEND AMERICANS.

Special Agent Carothers Goes to Chihuahua to Review Cases of Men Accused of Counterfeiting.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) June 17.—A telegram received here states that George C. Carothers, special representative of the United States government in Villa territory, and Miguel Diaz Lombardo, Foreign Minister in the Villa Cabinet, plan to leave Chihuahua tonight for El Paso. They have been engaged at Chihuahua in reviewing the cases of three Americans sentenced to be shot for passing counterfeit Mexican currency. The Americans are George Marx and Samuel Finkelstein, convicted in Juarez, and W. B. Cox, convicted in Torreon. The telegram did not intimate whether consideration of the case had been concluded.

Persistent but unconfirmed reports were that Obregon's forces continue to push northward and that Villa has evacuated Aguascalientes. Such a move, if true, is regarded here of little importance, as Aguascalientes is of no strategic value. Villa adherents maintain if Obregon has occupied Aguascalientes he has laid his line of communication open to attack between Silao and Leon by Villa forces reported several days ago in the vicinity of Dolores Hidalgo and San Felipe.

GENEVA (via Paris) June 17.—News dispatches reaching Geneva from Friedrichshafen set forth that double shifts are now working in the Zeppelin airship factories, which are turning out a complete Zeppelin airship every twenty days. One of the two Zeppelins destined for operations against Italy was sent away from Friedrichshafen yesterday to replace the dirigible destroyed over Belgium recently by the Canadian aviator Warneford. It is reported in Geneva that German authoritites are preparing for an important combined raid of Zeppelins and aeroplanes on Paris and London in retaliation for the recent attack on German towns by aviators of the allies.

Persona Non Grata.

SHE OFFENDED QUEEN VICTORIA.

LATE COUNTESS OF CARDIGAN HAD STORMY CAREER.

Was Widow of Leader of Charge of Light Brigade, but also had Proposals from Disraeli, Duke of Leeds, and Many Other Noblemen of Victorian Court.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONDON, May 30.—The Countess of Cardigan, whose death, at the age of 91 years, was announced here this month, had a remarkable career. She saw as a child much of the court life of King William IV, heard Tom Moore sing his own songs and knew the Marquis of Hertford, the original of Thackeray's Lord Steyne. Her matrimonial experience included the Earl of Cardigan, who led the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava, and, after his death, a Portuguese nobleman, but she also received proposals from the Legitimist heir to the Spanish throne, whom she narrowly missed marrying, and from Disraeli, a warm suitor; Lord Sherborne, the Duke of Leeds, Prince Soltykoff and the Duke of St. Albans. Her name will go down in history as the author of a book of memoirs exposing all the scandals in high life during the Victorian era.

It was not until the Countess of Cardigan was 85 years old and almost forgotten that she startled England with her chronicle of aristocratic scandal under the title of "My Recollections," in which she concealed nothing to save her own reputation or others'. Many heroic figures of history, such as Disraeli, emerged from her book considerably shrunken.

The Countess' father was Spencer de Horsey, M.P., and her mother the daughter of the Earl of Stradbroke. From childhood Adeline de Horsey moved in the highest society in England. The Duke of Wellington was one of her father's intimates.

The young lady's views were decidedly advanced for her time, and because she was not allowed a latch-key she left home and got a house of her own in London. It was at this time she met the Earl of Cardigan. The Earl possessed brute courage and nothing else, and failed of promotion to a generalship on this account. He had made an unhappy marriage with the divorced wife of a brother officer, from which he was released by her death. Her intimacy with Cardigan in his wife's lifetime offended Queen Victoria. The result was she was practically ostracized by her own class because of the royal snub. With iron courage she went to garden parties, balls and functions in which she sat absolutely alone and ignored. Her husband's cousin, Lady Ailesbury, the social dictator of that time, came into her power, however, because of her knowledge of a scandalous chapter in that lady's past.

When, after being widowed, she married the Count of Lancastre of Portugal, she gave fresh offense to the Queen by taking the title of Countess of Cardigan and Lancastre, for the Queen was in the habit of calling herself the Countess of Lancastre when traveling incognito.

Her gifts of mind and her beauty made the Countess the leader of aristocratic Bohemia. She entertained large parties in the fine old Tudor mansion left her by her first husband.

Critics charge that the Countess wrote her recollections to revenge herself on those who refused to receive her.

Thompson Baker of New Jersey, and family, and a silver tray from Mr. and Mrs. David Jane Hill.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR DIPLOMACY.

EXPERTS TRYING TO FIND OUT HOW THE NEBRASKAN WAS DAMAGED.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Experts of the Navy Department today began an examination of evidence gathered by the American Embassy at London concerning the explosion which damaged the American Steamship Nebraskan off the Irish coast several weeks ago.

From this examination, which is being directed by Rear-Admiral Strauss, chief of the Ordnance Bureau, and Rear-Admiral Taylor, chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, it is hoped to determine definitely whether the Nebraskan struck a mine or was torpedoed by a German submarine. On the result will depend any action which may be taken by the State Department.

PURE MILK PROPAGANDA.

Plans to Secure Aid of American Medical Association are Suggested at Convention.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Plans to secure the financial and moral aid of the American Medical Association for the spread of the pure milk propaganda throughout America were laid today at the opening here of the American Association of Medical Milk Commissions' ninth annual convention. Dr. Otto P. Geier of Cincinnati, secretary of the association, sponsored the movement.

Dr. Geier also recommended to the delegates from the various commissions that they experiment with ether as a cure for bovine tuberculosis after he described such experimentation by the Cincinnati commission.

All speakers indorsed certified milk. Dr. Henry L. Colt of Newark, N. J., referred to as the founder of the certified milk process, reviewed the history of the movement since its inception in 1893.

Dr. E. C. Fleischner of San Francisco said that replies from 500 California doctors to questions put by him to 1500 have convinced him that the majority of medical men in California fail to recommend certified milk to patients in health.

Dr. Fleischner said that as a result of his investigation it was shown that out of 500 cases of infant tuberculosis, 15 per cent. of the cases had been fed on certified milk and 85 per cent. on "commercial milk."

The third session of the convention will be held tomorrow in the Agriculture Building of the University of California at Berkeley.

MAYOR GOES TO PRISON.

Roy Montgomery of Gillette, Wyo., Sentenced to Two and a Half Years for Alleged White Slavery.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) June 17.—Roy Montgomery, Mayor of Gillette, Wyo., today started for the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., to begin serving a two and one-half-years' term as a result of his conviction eighteen months ago on a charge of violating the Mann White Slave Act. A number of prominent men of Wyoming have appealed to President Wilson for an immediate pardon in behalf of Montgomery.

WIFE OF EVANGELIST'S SON IS GIVEN DECREE ON GROUNDS OF INTEMPERANCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.) June 17.—Frances W. Sankey of Greenwich was today granted a divorce from Ira Allan Sankey, a wealthy resident of the same place, and son of the late Ira Sankey, the famous evangelist and song writer, on the grounds of intemperance and intolerable cruelty. Mrs. Sankey was also allowed alimony in the sum of $10,500, and Judge Shumway ordered Sankey to pay her $40 a week.

GREAT BRITAIN TO REPLY SOON.

ANSWER TO AMERICAN PROTEST WILL STATE POSITION ON COUNCIL ORDER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 17.—It was stated officially today that there had been intimations from Great Britain recently that a reply might be forthcoming soon to the American note of March 30, protesting against the illegality of the order in council in its restriction on non contraband commerce with Germany through neutral countries.

The close relation of the order in council, prohibiting non contraband commerce with Germany, to the traffic in contraband articles with neutral countries has caused British officials to combine all phases of these questions in a single note which is expected to be sent as soon as all data is obtained and when the situation with Germany is clarified.

KILLED WHEN BRIDGE FALLS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CLEVELAND, June 17.—Vance Heel, a foreman, was killed and ten workmen were injured in the collapse here today of a steel arch of a bridge being constructed over the Cuyahoga river.

The Clerk Guaranteed It.

"A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, 'Have you anything that will cure diarrhoea?' And my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and said to him, 'If this does not cure you, I will not charge you a cent for it.' So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured," writes J. H. Berry & Co., Salt Creek, Va. Obtainable everywhere.—[Advertisement.

Advice.

COMMON SENSE FOR MOTHERS.

Doctor Says Tango Existence is Injury to Babies.

Fox Trot Pace too Much for Coming Generation.

"Twilight Sleep" Defended at Homeopathic Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—"A good dose of common sense for the mothers" was suggested today by Dr. Harry V. Brown of Los Angeles as a remedy for conditions which have handicapped modern children, at the closing session of the National Eclectic Medical Association.

"Many babies when born today look as if they had been through the boiling process," he said. "It is not to be wondered at in the light of the hurlyburly, tango existence which modern mothers enjoy from childhood to maternity. This fox-trot pace set for women today, together with constant physical abuse, explains the disparity between children of today and their mothers, when tried out in the endurance test of life."

The impossibility of right living in commercial centers, social tendencies to turn night into day, cocktails and highballs, the lack of the mother instinct among the well-to-do class and similar reasons were blamed for this condition. "Back to the farm" was said to be the only permanent cure.

THE OFFICERS.

Cedar Point, O., was named as the 1916 convention city and the following officers were elected:

President, Dr. T. D. Adlerman, Brooklyn, N. Y.; vice-presidents, Dr. E. H. Mercer, San Francisco; Dr. F. M. Andrews, Lincoln, Neb., and Dr. A. J. Atkins, San Francisco; recording secretary, Dr. W. P. Best, Indianapolis; corresponding secretary, Dr. W. N. Mundy, Forest, O.; treasurer, Dr. E. G. Sharp, Guthrie, Okla.

Officers elected for the California Eclectic Medical Association were: President, Dr. Charles Clark, San Francisco; vice-presidents, Dr. W. T. Coates, Cedarville, Cal.; Dr. Theodore Snypp, Auburn; recording secretary, Dr. H. Ford Scudder, Los Angeles; corresponding secretary, Dr. H. C. Smith, Glendale, and treasurer, Dr. J. A. Munk, Los Angeles.

MENACE TO MOTHERHOOD.

Modern business life was said today to interfere with health and motherhood in women by Dr. Ella M. Caryl of Los Angeles. "Women who support a home are liable to unfit themselves anatomically for motherhood and health," she said. Such a task, she said, should be undertaken only by women capable of meeting the demands of the economic struggle.

To better develop women she recommended right exercise and intelligent medical advice during childhood so the women might be prepared. Corsets she said, should never be worn but the muscular covering of the body trained to do its natural work.

"When men and women free themselves from sex slavery," she concluded, "then posterity will be welcome and healthy, and books on gynecology will read like ancient history."

"TWILIGHT SLEEP."

"Twilight sleep" was declared by Dr. Florence N. Ward of San Francisco to have a legitimate place in obstetrics, but to be unsuited to many cases, in an address before the thirty-ninth session of the California Homeopathic Medical Society.

Dr. Ward returned recently from study under Prof. Schoffling of Freiburg, Germany, who introduced the method of scopolamin and morphin amnesia.

"Good judgment must be exercised," she said, "in selecting patients. It is unnecessary to dwell upon the futility of administering the technique where any abnormality exists, demanding surgical interference. However 'twilight sleep' must be recognized."

She said much of the hostility and prejudice toward the method was due to the unwise publicity given it and attempts to use it in cases to which it was unsuited.

"But there can be no doubt," she concluded, "that this mitigation of suffering from childbirth and the conservation of nervous force in women will hold a still larger place in obstetrics as years go on."

Owes Her Life to This Lung Medicine

Sufferers from Consumption should take the trouble to investigate what Eckman's Alterative has accomplished in restoring others to health. Read this:

Griffith, Lake Co., Ind.

"Gentlemen:—About Sept. 10th, 1908, my mother-in-law was taken sick with Catarrhal Pneumonia, which developed into Tuberculosis. In January, when Rev. Wm. Berg of St. Michael's Church, at Schererville, Ind., prepared her for death, he recommended that I get Eckman's Alterative, and see if it would not give her some relief. The attending physician declared she had Consumption and was beyond all medical aid. Practically without hope for recovery, I insisted that she try the Alterative, which she did. I am glad to say that she soon began to improve. Now she works as hard as ever, weighs twenty pounds heavier than she ever did before she took sick and is in good health."

(Abbreviated.)

(Affidavit) JOS. GRIMER.

Eckman's Alterative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and upbuilding the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Small size, $1; regular size, $2. Sold by leading druggists. Write for booklet of recoveries.

INVITE OFFICIALS TO LASSEN PEAK.

CONGRESSMEN TO BE SHOWN THE NEED OF IRRIGATION AT HAT CREEK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—The members of the subcommittee on appropriations of the House of Representatives and of the Reclamation Commission who are jointly investigating the reclamation projects of California, were the guests today of the Chamber of Commerce and the San Francisco Commercial Club at an informal luncheon.

Following addresses of welcome by representatives of the local commercial organizations, United States Senator James D. Phelan expressed the good will of California toward the visitors and invited them to visit Lassen Peak, California's active volcano, which he dedicated to the committee. He cautioned them not to overlook the irrigation needs of the region affected by the choking up of Hat Creek by volcanic mud.

Congressman J. J. Fitzgerald, chairman of the Appropriation Committee; Congressman Frederick H. Gillett, Assistant Secretary of the Interior; Mather and Congressman Frank W. Mondell made brief addresses.

MOST COUNTIES RAISE SALARIES.

FORTY-FOUR IN CALIFORNIA APPEAL TO LEGISLATURE.

San Francisco and Los Angeles are Among Those Which Considered Their Public Officials are Receiving Enough Pay—San Diego Leads in Sweeping Advance.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, June 17.—Forty-four of the fifty-eight counties of the State during the recent session of the Legislature called upon their representatives to pass county government acts, either increasing the salary of county offices or to facilitate the workings of the government to meet the changed conditions during the past two years.

The fourteen counties which did not find it necessary to increase or broaden their governmental powers were: San Francisco, Los Angeles, Tulare, Solano, Siskiyou, Calaveras, Amador, San Benito, Colusa, Eldorado, Inyo, Lake, Lassen and Alpine. Most of the counties increased salaries. The total advances will run into several hundred thousands of dollars. Alameda county raised the salaries of her County Clerk, Sheriff, Recorder, Auditor, Treasurer, District Attorney and other minor officers.

In San Diego every officer, even the grand jury, was given an increase in pay. Other counties to raise the salaries of their officers were: Humboldt, Contra Costa, Stanislaus, Mariposa, Placer, Plumas, Sierra, Modo, Del Norte, Trinity, Modoc, Sutter, Madera, Glenn, Santa Clara, Fresno, Sacramento, San Bernardino, San Joaquin Sonoma, Kern, Riverside, Orange, Santa Barbara, Butte, San Mateo, Santa Cruz, Marin, Monterey, Mendocino, Napa, San Luis Obispo, Shasta, Ventura, Kings, Merced, Nevada, Yolo, Imperial, Tehama, Yuba, and Tuolumne.

In increasing the salaries of the officers of the various counties their duties are increased.

Dr. Risques Speaks Before Pan-American Medical Congress on Tropical Diseases—Dr. Pottinger of Monrovia Declares Tubercular Infection Can be Transmitted.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—After the opening formalities in a general session more than 200 delegates to the Pan-American Medical Congress began the real work of the convention in the afternoon session of the various sections today.

Dr. Francis M. Pottinger of Monrovia, in a paper read before the section of general medicine, discussing tuberculosis, said his investigations have led him to the conclusions that:

Bovine tubercular infection can be transmitted to humans, but that the human bacillus is accountable for most of the disease in the human race. That bovine infection is common in childhood but rarely found in the adult, although the latter is not immune.

Dr. F. A. Risquez, delegate from Venezuela, in a paper on the tropical diseases of his country, said that leprosy is spreading despite preventive measures, and that venereal diseases are prevalent. He said, also that tetanus is alarmingly prevalent among infants, who become inoculated at birth.

Dr. Charles A. L. Reed of the University of Cincinnati, president and organizer of the congress, presided at the opening general session of the convention, the seventh triennial. Chester Rowell of Fresno welcomed the delegates for Gov. Johnson, and Dr. Rupert Blue represented the Federal government.

HEAVIEST WOMAN IN KANSAS.

Mabel Hammond, Aged Twenty-six and Weighing 800 Pounds is Dead at Her Home in Harlan.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HARLAN (Kas.) June 17.—Mabel Hammond, aged twenty-six, declared to be the heaviest woman in Kansas, died here today as the result of a stomach ailment. She weighed 800 pounds. When she attended the local school in her girlhood days, it was necessary to enlarge the door of the schoolhouse. She has a younger sister who weighs 650 and is said to be still growing. The parents are average size.

SUFFRAGISTS ARE SNUB

Granted One Minute by Busy Congress.

Miss Whitney and Others Vowing Vengeance.

Mondell Tries to Square Matters by Saying He's Sorry.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Woman suffrage was "snubbed" today when Representative J. J. Fitzgerald, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee and his colleagues, in a statement by the Congressional Committee on Woman Suffrage, accused Congressmen, all but three, of voting without even lifting their [illegible] during the recent session of Congress.

Twenty-five women seized the audience with the Congressmen for one minute" to prove "that the people of California stand behind the [illegible] amendment" for universal suffrage.

"These men have given one minute to women voters who visited Washington to present the justice of the movement to enfranchise the women of the United States," it was said in a statement issued by Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass of Oakland, chairman of the California States union. "It is a significant fact that the chairman who took the most autocratic action is not dependent upon women voters."

In spite of the Congressmen's action, Miss Whitney managed to get before the purpose of the delegation and found a willing listeners ear.

Among those in the party of women were Miss Dorris Stevens and Miss Jessie D. Hampton of New York.

ARRIVE AT HOTEL.

The deputation arrived at the hotel where the Congressmen were staying, holding a reclamation hearing. On appointment made by Representative Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming. The women entered the room as the hearing opened and the secretary addressed Chairman Fitzgerald.

"Ladies," said Mr. Fitzgerald, "we have no appointment with you or any other time. This hearing is set for a reclamation project."

The deputation retired to the corridor of the room were closed and the men waited.

An hour's vigilance was rewarded with the appearance of the committee men with Mr. Fitzgerald in the lead.

Miss Whitney had time to say: "Gentlemen, we want you to know that California woman stand for equal suffrage amendment that will be voted on the next Congress." By the time the last of the Congressmen had passed, "without even lifting their hats" the women said.

"We are here on business matters for the government," Chairman Fitzgerald said later. "If you have any time to any and every one who wanted to talk to us we complish nothing.

MONDELL'S REGRET.

Mr. Mondell said: "I regret very much the incident." He added that a tentative appointment had been made with the women, he said.

"I told Mr. Fitzgerald that if they were coming," he said, "that I thought the committee was very busy and that there was not a binding appointment. It would have been the same if I had agreed to have received the ladies. Fifteen minutes would not have been enough. The rules of the committee require that members of the committee be present.

"However, the committee has no jurisdiction over suffrage matters. My duty is here only on reclamation matters and inspections. I did what I could to arrange the hearing at a time when the committee could be present, but I cannot blame me for the [illegible]

Twenty-five women asked for an audience with the Congressmen for one minute" to prove "that the people of California stand behind the [illegible] amendment" for universal suffrage.

"These men have given one minute to women voters who wished to present the justice of the movement for the enfranchise the women of thirty-six States," it was said in a statement issued by Mrs. Charlotte Anita Whitney of Oakland, chairman of the State union. "It is a significant fact that the chairman who took this autocratic action is not answerable to women voters."

In spite of the Congressmen's [illegible] Miss Whitney managed to declare the purpose of the delegation as having a willing listeners fled.

Among those in the delegation were Miss Dorris Stevens and Jessie D. Hampton of New York.

ARRIVE AT HOTEL.

The deputation arrived at a hotel where the Congressional party is holding a reclamation hearing, [illegible] appointment made with Representative Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming. The women entered the room as the hearing opened and Miss Whitney addressed Chairman Fitzgerald.

"Ladies," said Mr. Fitzgerald, "we have no appointment with you at this or any other time. This is the time set for a reclamation hearing."

The deputation retired. The door of the room were closed but the women waited.

An hour's vigilance was rewarded with the appearance of the Congressmen with Mr. Fitzgerald in the lead.

Miss Whitney had time to say: "Gentlemen, we want you to know that California women stand behind the suffrage amendment that comes before the next Congress." By that time most of the Congressmen had fled, and "without even lifting their hats" the women said.

"We are here on important matters for the government," Mr. Fitzgerald said later. "If we are to have time to any and every delegation that wanted to talk to us we would accomplish nothing.

MONDELL'S REGRET.

Mr. Mondell said he regretted very much the incident. "It was only a tentative appointment for the convenience of the women, he said.

"I told Mr. Fitzgerald the ladies were coming," he said, "but of course the committee was very busy. I think there was not a binding appointment. It would have been the greatest pleasure to have received the ladies. A few minutes would not have violated the rules of the committee. Several members of the committee regret the occurrence.

"However, the committee has no jurisdiction over suffrage matters. It is here only on reclamation business and inspections. I did what I could to arrange the hearing so the ladies cannot blame me for the incident."

a force on Mexican territory. The protected cruiser has a crew of 450 officers and men, of whom 300 would be available for landing.

The Chattanooga is expected to arrive at Tobari Bay next Sunday afternoon within a few hours after the arrival of the Colorado. The cruiser Raleigh, it is expected, may leave port tonight with a crew numbering the same as that carried by the Chattanooga.

THE COLORADO SAILS.

With three companies, totaling 300 men of the Fourth Regiment, aboard, the flagship Colorado, Admiral Howard commanding, sailed from San Diego at 9:35 o'clock this morning for the Lower California coast.

Orders for the embarking of the marines were received by Col. Joseph H. Pendleton, commanding the Fourth Regiment, last night and without loss of time a battery of four rapid fire field guns and two automatic guns were sent aboard the Colorado. At 5 o'clock this morning the companies of marines with complete field service equipment left the camp at the exposition grounds and by 7 o'clock every man was aboard the cruiser. On the expedition the marines are under the command of Maj. W. N. McKelvy.

DEPARTURE DELAYED.

Departure of the Colorado was delayed for several hours although all preparations for sailing had been completed yesterday afternoon pending the receipt of final orders from Washington. These came shortly after 9 o'clock and thirty minutes later anchor was weighed and the big cruiser was on the way to sea. The Colorado does not take any bluejackets other than the regular members of her crew numbering about 550 officers and men.

Of these a force of about 500 men will be available for land duty in the event Admiral Howard decides on an expedition.

The orders to Admiral Howard by the Navy Department directed him to go to Tobari Bay near Guaymas. Before leaving the harbor Howard stated the Colorado would maintain a speed of fourteen knots an hour on the voyage south. At this speed the Colorado is expected to arrive at Guaymas about noon next Sunday.

[illegible] the Austrians decided [illegible] would make no resistance. [illegible] they were expelled all the people who were favorable to Italy, leaving behind only those who sided with Austria. They were instructed to act as spies and to organize brigandage on the Italian rear. In order to deceive the invaders they were to pretend to be enthusiastic supporters of Italy. The Italian authorities discovered this alleged plot. In some cases they even caught and convicted offenders who had been found in possession of underground telephones and other means of signalling. But as the Italians found it impossible to watch all the people in this district the complete evacuation of the villages was ordered.

COULD A BOY TEACH BRYAN?

HIS AMAZING UTTERANCES ARE JOKE OF CAPITAL.

Preachers and Others Now Hobnobbing with Late Secretary of State, Compare Texts and Rush into Print with Long-winded Spiels on War Situation.

BY HARRY CARR.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 17.—After much excited consultation with the preachers who came to call and with visitors from his home town in Nebraska Mr. Bryan, the late Secretary of State, has issued to the press another piece about peace.

The further he goes the more amazing does Mr. Bryan become. A perusal of his latest installment, which was issued today, forces one to the conclusion that the cheapest thing the United States government could do in the circumstances would be to give some 10-year-old school boy a quarter and ask him to explain to Mr. Bryan some of the more obvious facts about national defense.

It hardly seems possible that a man who has been Secretary of State of this great nation could give forth anything as silly as the following, which is quoted from his spiel of today:

"The United States," says Mr. Bryan, "is without excuse for entering into a mad rivalry in preparation for war. We are protected on either side by thousands of miles of ocean and this protection is worth more to us than any number of battleships."

Of course, as nearly everyone knows, miles of ocean on either side does not protect us. The oceans, once our protection before the age of rapid transportation, have now become our greatest military danger.

In just the proportion that we have great fleets of battleships floating thereon can we neutralize the peril that the bordering seas present to us. In fact, exactly the opposite of what Mr. Bryan says is true.

If Bryan were now Secretary of State and were promulgating these absurd military doctrines, his words would be read with dismay by military men.

At last, after all these years, Mr. Bryan has found his true level—a simple, amiable country squire, proudly excited over seeing his pieces printed in the paper.

Number of "Alien Enemies" Loose in London is Again the Subject of Agitation in the Commons.

LONDON, June 17.—The great number of Germans and Austrians still at large in London and elsewhere again has been the subject of agitation in the House of Commons. Sir Edwin A. Cornwall, Liberal member for Bethnel Green, remarked today in the Commons that he had been informed that three of the present ministers had secretaries who are of German origin. This statement remained unanswered during the discussion that ensued, but Sir John A. Simon, the Home secretary, said that the internment of aliens of enemy countries was proceeding as rapidly as possible.

KING VICTOR IS OMNIPRESENT.

UDINE (via Paris) June 17, 5:55 p.m.—The Italian soldier seems imbued with the belief that King Victor Emmanuel is able each day to be on every battle front and that he always is where peril seems the greatest, or where encouragement and succor is most needed.

As a matter of fact, the monarch is a most energetic personage. In his gray automobile he dashes along the flat road to Friuli, appears on horseback in the hills near Gorizia, climbs on muleback the Carnic Passes and ascends on foot, aided by an alpenstock, the heights of the peaks overlooking Rovereto.

Tuesday evening King Victor Emmanuel crossed the Isonzo south of Monte Nero on a pontoon bridge. After sunset an officer of the General Staff reported to the King that an attack by Austrians was expected during the night and that it would be unsafe for him to remain on the left bank of the river.

"If this point is dangerous for my soldiers, it is my place," the King is reported promptly to have replied to the officer, and he remained there the entire night, passing from position to position, encouraging his troops.

The soldiers admire Victor Emmanuel for his modesty and simplicity and lack of affection. When the army retires to their tents at night the King studies the plans of battle for the following day or sends his daily report to his family. He always speaks of his "wife and children," never "the Queen" or "the Prince and the Princesses."

To Crown Prince Humbert, who in one of his letters asked the King when he would return home to his "boy," Victor Emmanuel replied that he could not leave while thousands of his "boys" were risking their lives.

GREEK KING IS IMPROVING.

LONDON, June 18.—"The King's physicians expect their patient to enter upon convalescence in a day or two," says Reuter's Athens correspondent. "They think His Majesty can be transferred to his country castle at Dekilia within a fortnight.

"The King's mind is now entirely clear. He has been informed of the results of the elections and concerning the political situation. In view of the King's improved condition, the proposals for a regency are not likely to be considered by the government.

"Regarding the demands of the Venizelists for the immediate convoking of Parliament and the resignation of the Ministry, Premier Gounaris declares that he will adhere to his former decision to postpone action until the regular convening of Parliament, July 20. He explains that there is no necessity for the immediate presentation of these important matters of state business to the convalescing King, whose health is too precious to be risked rashly."

INCREASE HOLD OF ITALIANS.

ROME, June 17 (via London, June 18, 3:45 a.m.)—Continued general progress by the Italians, as the result of a number of successful actions, is reported in tonight's official statement. Sasso di Stria and Albergo di Falsarego, in the Costeana Valley, have been occupied. The hold of the Italians on the Monte Nero region has been strengthened still further; 600 prisoners were taken there, and more headway has been made along the Isonzo, according to the statements. It adds that artillery is being used with great effect in Carnia and Gorizia.

on the slopes to the southeast of Souches (Hill 119,) thanks to several brilliant assaults.

"The gains of yesterday were enlarged today. To the north, to the east and to the south of Neuville we took by assault the enemy's first line and at certain points the second line. The units engaged fought at the point of the bayonet and with grenades under a violent artillery fire.

"Our infantry, after having attacked with great spirit, very efficaciously supported by a fire of nearly 300,000 shells, was obliged to make front during the night of Wednesday-Thursday against violent and repeated counter-attacks carried out by large effectives, and repulsed them along the entire front.

"We have evacuated only a small wood conquered yesterday morning to the south of Hill 119, which the enemy's artillery fire rendered untenable.

"The Germans brought into the engagement eleven divisions, which suffered extremely heavy losses. The morale of our troops is perfect. The number of prisoners taken by us exceeds 600, including more than twenty officers.

"Our air squadrons have bombarded effectively the enemy's reserves at Givenchy and in the forest of La Folce, and have dispersed contingents in the act of taking up their formations.

"The grave check suffered by the enemy in his counter-attacks at Quennevieres is confirmed by the great number of German dead found in front of our trenches.

"A long-range piece has twice bombarded Villers-Cotterets. One person was wounded.

"At Rhiemes an examination of the points where German projectiles fell establishes the fact that more than eighty shells, several of which were of incendiary type, have fallen on the town and more particularly on the cathedral.

"In Alsace our success continues. We have taken Altenhof (Althof,) a suburb of Metzeral; then Steinbruck, and we are continuing our progress on both banks of the Fecht River. The Germans are setting fire to Metzeral.

"The number of prisoners who have fallen into our hands has reached 500, of whom ten are officers and twenty-eight noncommissioned officers. To the war material already reported may be added three bomb throwers; three machine guns, some field telephones and apparatus for the emission of asphyxiating gases.

"An enemy aeroplane has been brought down by one of our machines in Alsace. The two German aviators were killed."

PUSH ADVANCE TOWARD LEMBERG.

LONDON, June 17. — Another twenty-four hours of fighting in Galicia has developed nothing to stem the Austro-German advance toward Lemberg from the west and northwest and tonight Berlin claims that the Russians are retreating over their own frontier toward Tamogrod, about four miles from the Galician border.

This means an invasion of Russian territory at a new point, but according to military observers here it may spell ultimate advantage for the Russians in that a general Russian retirement northward into Poland would divert Gen. Linsingen's attempt to crush the Russian center near Zurawna, which would effectively sever the communications of the Russian army in Southeastern Galicia and Bukowina. The military writers here say that the real danger zone from the Russian standpoint is in the Zurawna district and along the Dniester.

According to Berlin, the Austro-German forces have battered through Niemerow, thirty miles northwest of Lemberg, and are advancing toward Jaworow, which is only twenty-five miles to the west of the Galician capital. Three great masses of Austro-Germans thus are sweeping from the San toward the capital city, and the prediction is made that the decisive battle, if one is fought, will take place in the vicinity of Grodek, where the British military observers consider that the Russians should benefit by the lake country.

The British newspapers, though not minimizing the importance of the Austro-German successes in Galicia, acclaim what is styled the Grand Duke Nicholas's elusive strategy in shifting his front from north and south to northwest and southeast. This maneuver, it is asserted, has deflected the Austro-German blow to some extent and at the same time denied to them a full test of strength. Thus the Russian retreat is characterized in London as strikingly paralleling the allies' retreat in the west last fall, which culminated in the allies' victory on the Marne. The struggle along the Dniester and before Lemberg, it is considered here, must determine which side is the more astute in the present maneuvers.

CRUISER EROS GOES ASHORE.

PALMA (Island of Majorca) June 17 (via Paris, June 18, 1:35 a. m.)—The cruiser Eros, while patrolling the Balearic Islands, has gone ashore in the Bay of Pollensa. It is hoped that the vessel can be refloated.

Available naval records contain no warship named the Eros. The Balearic Islands are Spanish.

ITALIANS TAKE ARMORED TRAIN.

GENEVA, June 17 (via Paris, June 18.)—This evening's military newspapers report the capture of an Austrian armored train near Plava. The train, consisting of six cars filled with machine guns and ammunition, was allowed to enter one of the seventy small tunnels on the line. The Italians then blew up the track and took the train intact.

ITALY'S SOLDIERS ASKED TO DESERT.

ROME, June 17 (via Paris, June 18.)—An official note issued today says:

"The Austrians are dropping by means of toy balloons, ridiculous proclamations inviting Italian soldiers to desert. They are offered ten crowns if they bring in a second rifle; 500 for a machine gun, 2000 for a field gun, or an aeroplane, and 150 for a horse."

SAYS MIDDIES ARE SCAPEGOATS.

A WITNESS TESTIFIES SEVEN MEN WERE PICKED BY THE INVESTIGATORS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) June 17.—On the stand today before the court of inquiry investigating the alleged cheating during the recent examination in modern languages, Midshipman H. M. Mullinix said it was the consensus of opinion among midshipmen that the seven original defendants were picked as scapegoats by the original investigating board appointed by Superintendent Fullam of the United States Naval Academy.

Mullinix testified that J. K. Davis and W. E. Mackey did not study the advance questions which were generally circulated because they thought these "might be really part of the examination." The witness said he thought the "dope" given him might have come within illegal classification and possibly had been gotten out, not with the approval, but at least with the knowledge of the authorities.

PIUTE'S TRIAL IS SET.

Tse Ne Gat Pleads Not Guilty and Asks for Gen. Scott to Come to His Aid.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER (Colo.) June 17.—Tse Ne Gat, Piute Indian, pleaded not guilty in the Federal District Court today to the charge of murdering Juan Chacon, Mexican sheepherder, a year ago in Southwestern Colorado. Trial was set for July 6.

It was the charge of murder against Tse Ne Gat that sent a marshal's posse to Bluff, Utah, to arrest Tse Ne Gat, who, surrounded by renegade Piutes, led by Old Polk, his father, refused to submit to arrest and engaged in a running fight for several weeks last winter; the fight ended by surrender to Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army.

Tse Ne Gat, who has been a Federal prisoner in a local hospital under treatment for advanced tuberculosis, inquired eagerly today for "John Scott," otherwise Gen. Scott, who he believes will aid him in his trial.

SKIN ERUPTION ITCHED AND BURNED

On Face and Shoulders. Scratched and Made Worse. Great Disfigurement. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Spots All Gone.

R. F. D. No. 3, Box 9, Joplin, Mo.—"My trouble began first as little red spots appearing on my skin. They affected my face and shoulders. They itched and burned terribly. Then I would scratch them and it would make them worse. My whole face and shoulders would be sore. The eruption would burn and itch especially when I would get in the sun and get very warm and when I did my face would break out worse. It was a great disfigurement while it lasted. Some nights it kept me awake. I could hardly bear any clothing on my shoulders at all.

"I tried several different remedies all in vain. I almost gave up trying when a friend advised me to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In a week my face began to get better and in another two weeks the spots were all gone." (Signed) Miss Alta Scott, June 2, 1914.

OCEAN OUR PROTECTION; BRYAN SCORES BIG ARMY.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Asserting that preparedness provokes rather than prevents war, and that the upheaval in Europe was the result of the false philosophy that "might makes right," former Secretary Bryan today, in the second of his series of three statements on The Causeless War, submits an argument against military preparation by the United States and praises the course of President Wilson in the international emergency.

"If any nation is without excuse for entering into a mad rivalry with the belligerent nations in preparation for war, it is the United States," says Mr. Bryan. "We are protected on either side by thousands of miles of ocean, and this protection is worth more to us than any number of battleships.

"We have an additional protection in the fact known to every one that we have the men with whom to form an army of defense if we ever are attacked, and it is known also that we would have the money, too—more money than we would have if all the surplus earnings of the people had been invested in armament.

"We not only do not need additional preparation, but we are fortunate in not having it, since it seems impossible for a nation to have what is called preparedness without having along with it a disposition to use its preparedness on the slightest provocation.

"The leading participants in the present war are the nations that were best prepared, and I fear it would have been difficult for us to keep out of this war if we had been as well prepared as they.

"Happy for our nation that we have in the White House at this time a President who believes in setting the world a good example, instead of following the bad example which it sets in this matter; what an unspeakable misfortune it would have been if in such an hour as this the nation had been under the leadership of a President inflamed by the false philosophy which has plunged Europe into the abyss of war."

In preliminary discussion of the cause of the European conflict Mr. Bryan, in an analysis of the situation, argues that it is no war of race, religion of families, and declares:

"If I have correctly analyzed the situation, the war is the natural result of false philosophy. . . . The fundamental precept of this philosophy is that 'might makes right.'"

Leading up to this argument against preparation for war by the United States, Mr. Bryan says:

"We dare not trust the peace of the world to those who spend their time in getting ready for wars that should never come. Half the energy employed in preparing for war would effectually prevent war if used in propagating the principles which make for peace. Instead of preventing war, preparedness provokes war because it is impossible to coerce the people of hearing the burdens incident to preparing without cultivating hatred as if it were a natural virtue. There must be some one to fear; some other preparing nation that must be represented as plotting for war.

"How can preparedness prevent war if all prepare? Each step taken by one nation toward more complete preparedness excites the other nations to additional purchases and new levies until all have exhausted their productive industries, and menaced their moral progress.

"The doctrine that preparedness will prevent war will not stand the test of logic and the conflagration in Europe shows that it fails when tested by experience."

ALAMEDA MERMAID WEDS SUDDENLY.

SURPRISES FRIENDS BY ANNOUNCING MARRIAGE AT SAN FRANCISCO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 17.—Nell Schmidt, the Alameda mermaid, whose aquatic feats have been the talk of the Pacific Coast for several years, surprised her friends and followers today when she quietly appeared with Richard R. Hauk at the County Clerk's office and procured a marriage license.

"Mother, I have just been married," was the laconic message phoned to Mrs. A. M. Schmidt by her daughter this afternoon.

Mrs. Schmidt asserts that she had no knowledge of the proposed nuptials and in fact does not know the groom, though she understands he is an actor.

BRIEF TRIBUTE OF WARNEFORD

Aviator Who Wrecked Zeppelin is Dashed to Death.

Henry Beech Needham Killed in the Fall.

Machine Dropped From Five Hundred Feet.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, June 17.—Lieut. A. J. Warneford, who gained fame recently by blowing to pieces a Zeppelin over Belgium, was killed today by the fall of an aeroplane in France.

Lieut. Warneford was piloting a machine, which had as a passenger Henry Beach Needham, the American writer, who also was killed.

Lieut. Warneford and Needham fell from a height of 500 feet. A fellow tenant had been speaking to Needham in Paris, where he came after the Zeppelin exploit, to receive the decoration of the Legion of Honor.

According to a report current in Paris, the accident resulted from an explosion in midair which wrecked the machine, causing it to fall. Lieut. Warneford to be in the machine crashing to earth.

Needham's body was taken to the English hospital in Versailles. He had been in Paris about four months acting as correspondent of magazines and a New York newspaper. He had received permission from the military authorities to make a flight in order to get material for a story. His wife, who is also a writer, accompanied him to Paris early part of his stay. Needham sailed for Europe a year ago.

The death of Lieut. Warneford has caused much regret among the French people, his exploit having made him as popular here as in Paris. Shortly after his arrival in Paris he became the object of attentions on the part of military men and the public.

Only last night he was the guest at a dinner of friends who tendered him. It was given in a restaurant in Paris, and at the end of the repast, which was one of the famous dishes of the restaurant, approached Lieut. Warneford's table and in French congratulated the young aviator. Warneford responded in Arabiah, which a companion translated to the Count. Before the dinner party broke up a collection had been finished and a purse of gold forwarded to Warneford "for the widow of France" and "Long live Warneford," which was greeted with cheers.

The exact cause of the accident has not yet been established. Those who slept in the same room with Needham are of the opinion that Warneford was attempting to loop the loop and lost control of the aircraft, a heavy biplane, and he was unable to regain when again

Reginald A. J. Warneford was a Canadian sub-lieutenant in the British navy, suddenly acquiring international renown by destroying a Zeppelin over Belgium on June 7, this being the first time on record that a Zeppelin had been wrecked by an enemy aeroplane. By a brilliant feat Warneford obtained a position above the Zeppelin and dropped bombs on it. The dirigible caught fire, fell to the ground and burned to a crisp, killing eight men in the airship. Warneford escaped unhurt. For this feat Lieut. Warneford was decorated with the Victoria Cross of the Legion of Honor.

Lieut. Warneford met his death in a flight at Hendon, England, a few months ago and had been attached to the flying squadron only a few days.

SUFFRAGE VOTE IN SEVEN STATES

Question to Come up Either this or Next Year.

Mothers' Pension Laws in Eight Assemblies.

Eugenic Marriage Measure is Defeated in Indiana.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 17.—Equal suffrage and other legislation affecting women figured prominently this year in the discussions of a large majority of the State Legislatures. The sessions of most of them have now come to a close and a summary of their activities collated by the Associated Press discloses that the question of woman suffrage came up for deliberation in twenty-two States and that divorce laws, mothers' pensions, women police, minimum wage, eugenic marriage or other subjects relating to women were considered in twenty-eight States.

The Legislatures of seven States adopted resolutions whereby a constitutional amendment giving women equal suffrage rights with men will be submitted to the people at the fall elections either this or next year. They are Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania in 1915; Iowa, North Dakota and West Virginia in 1916. Tennessee adopted a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding Legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. Old Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision in the State Constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three had already been filed with the Secretary of State.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that State had been an unqualified success. Oklahoma will consider the question at an adjourned session to begin July 7.

DEFEATED IN ELEVEN.

In eleven States woman suffrage measures met defeat—Connecticut, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas and Vermont. Only last night he was the guest at a dinner of friends who tendered him. Labor laws for women were enacted in Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts and Wyoming. Maine wrote into her statutes a fifty-four-hours-a-week law for both women and boys under sixteen working in mills, factories and laundries. It stipulates that such employees shall not work more than nine hours a day unless for the sole purpose of permitting a shorter schedule for one day in the week. Massachusetts legislated to prohibit the working of women and children overtime for the purpose of making up for time lost on a legal holiday. Wyoming enacted for her working women an eight-hour day; and both maximum hour and minimum wage laws for women were passed by Kansas. A commission to investigate a minimum wage law for women was created by Idaho. A bill providing for minimum wage for women in Michigan was killed in committee, although the commission appointed by Gov. Ferris two years ago to investigate the subject returned a strong report in favor of the enactment of such a law.

New Mexico passed an act increasing the property rights of the wife, and Wyoming and Idaho, in this particular, placed wife and husband on an equal footing. New Jersey authorized the appointment of women policemen. Oregon forbade discrimination between male and female public school teachers in the payment of salaries. An attempt in California to enact a law to forbid women to shake dice for money or prizes was defeated. So was a bill providing for women jurors.

RANGERS GIVE WARNING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MENTONE, June 17.—A five-room cottage on Church street, between this place and Redlands, burned last evening, there being no eyewitnesses. The cottage had not been occupied for several months. A number of men had been clearing the adjacent land of brush during the day and burning it. When they left it was thought that all the fire had been extinguished but it is supposed that the grass caught fire and carried to the house. There have been a number of brush fires in this vicinity lately and the fire rangers are warning all property owners to be careful in lighting fires and leaving them. The grass is dry and a fire would spread easily.

SHOT BY RIVAL IN LOVE QUEST.

MEXICAN MAY DIE AS RESULT OF BULLET IN THE STOMACH.

Antonio Garcia, 20 years old, of No. 236 Quirola street, was shot in the stomach early last night by his rival for the attentions of a senorita well known in the Plaza district. A major operation was performed upon the young man at the Receiving Hospital. Police Surgeon Wiley stated that he has little chance for recovery.

After Garcia had told his story to the police they started in search of Manuel Jaramillo, with whom the injured man said he quarreled frequently of late. At about 8 o'clock last night they met on the sidewalk at No. 245 Utah street, when Jaramillo is alleged to have drawn a gun and without warning pressed it against Garcia's stomach and pulled the trigger.

While he was on the operating table being prepared for the operation Garcia told a rambling story of how he and Jaramilla loved the same girl. Asked her name he said he would not drag her into the trobule.

JUVENILE HALL "RIOT."

Three Inmates Almost Put Attendants to Rout.—Police Arrive in Nick of Time.

Three inmates of Juvenile Hall made a desperate attempt to escape last night and fought like demons when found hiding in the cellar. Screaming, scratching and pulling hair they terrorized the attendants and Mrs. Paulsell, one of the assistant matrons, sent an urgent appeal to the East Side Police Station.

When the officers arrived they found the girls in the midst of a terrific melee and to all appearances having much the better of the tussle. The rescue party soon subdued the belligerent inmates, and when Sergt. Marden of the Juvenile Department arrived he found them handcuffed to beds. Upon their promise to be good and give the attendants no more trouble the handcuffs were removed.

The girls are Julia Sanches, 15 years old, of El Monte; Laura Moreno, 14, No. 116 South Hope street, and Sarah Wilson, 15, No. 2360 East Ninth street.

The "riot" is the third in the past two months at Juvenile Hall and it was stated last night that steps will be taken to place a stronger guard over the inmates.

Vienna.

RUSSIANS RETREATING IN MIDDLE GALICIA.

Are Nowhere Able to Offer Any Effective Resistance, Says Report from Vienna—Italian Attacks Have been Repulsed on the Isonzo Front—Teutonic Allies Advancing Toward Jaworno.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

VIENNA (via London) June 17.—The following official statement was issued by the Austrian War Office tonight:

"The Russians nowhere have been able to offer resistance to our forces. In Middle Galicia, protected by strong rear guards, they continue to retreat on the entire front to the northeast and east, hotly pursued by the allied armies.

"North of Sienawa our troops advanced across Cieplice and Cewkow, repulsed strong Russian forces and drove them across the imperial frontier, inflicting severe losses.

"To the eastward the allies reached Lubaczow and captured Niemierow after heavy fighting and are now advancing toward Jaworow.

"On the Lemberg road, during the evening we repulsed strong Russian rear guards near Wolczuchy across the Weresxyca, and at midnight stormed the west part of Grodek. South of Grodek the west bank of the Weresxyca has been cleared of the enemy.

"South of the Dniester the situation generally is unchanged.

"In the Italian theater on the Isonzo front our troops have repulsed several attacks with heavy losses to the enemy near Plava. In the Rocky district spirited fighting is proceeding. Nothing of importance has occurred on the Carinthian frontier. In Tyrol attacks by the enemy have been repulsed."

Balkans.

ATTITUDE OF BULGARIA IS STILL IN DISPUTE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, June 18.—Conflicting reports are afloat concerning Bulgaria's attitude. According to the Paris Matin negotiations between Bulgaria and Turkey under German auspices are about to result in the cession to Bulgaria of the whole right bank of the lower Maritzau, including a portion of Adrianople, which would give to Bulgaria a railway from Dedeaghatch to Mustapha Pass.

This, of course, if true, would mean that Bulgaria would remain neutral.

According to a Sofia dispatch to the Times, dated June 15, Bulgaria's reply to the proposals of the Entente powers has just been delivered, but the contents are kept secret.

The correspondent, however, gathers that the reply may constitute a general basis of agreement. He adds that German diplomacy is actively employed in an endeavor to induce the Turks to surrender the Dedeaghatch line to Bulgaria in the hope of avoiding the rupture between the two countries.

Cruiser Meteor.

THREE SCANDINAVIAN SHIPS SUNK BY THE GERMANS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

COPENHAGEN (via London) June 18, 2:38 a.m.—According to the newspapers here the German auxiliary cruiser Meteor has sunk the Norwegian lumber ship Granem, fifteen miles south of Christiansand. The Meteor is the cruiser which captured the Swedish steamer Torsten Wednesday morning off the Island of Vinga and towed her southward and shelled the Swedish steamer Verdandi after it had been torpedoed by a submarine. The crews of all three of these ships were taken on board the Meteor and later landed at a Swedish port by a torpedo boat.

"Labyrinth."

ALL HANDS ARE BUSY IN FRENCH TRENCHES.

BY FREDERICK PALMER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY IN FRANCE, June 16 (via London, June 17, 7:35 p.m.—The heavy distant bombardment bq the French in the region of the "Labrynth," which has continued like the ceaseless roll of thunder for several days, was drowned eearly this morning by the nearer soll of heavy artillery—preparations for an attack accompanying the offensive of the allies at two points on the British front, where for several days we had only sniping exchanges of the rifle and machine gun shots between trenches, and of shells between batteries, and a lull in the siege warfare.

At the transfer station for ammunition, the most significant point in the rear when an action is under way, all hands were busy through the night. Motor trucks were running from the rail head, feeding the guns as they concentrated on the German trenches, tearing them apart with high-explosive shells, and bathing them with shrapnel before the infantry charged.

An attack in the sector of Hooge was made along a front of three-quarters of a mile. The front line trenches and a German salient were carried, and also a length of the second line. The number of prisoners taken has not yet been stated.

In the Festubert region, also, the first line of trenches was taken, and the second penetrated in parts, but the ground gained had to be yielded.

Through the day there was only desultory firing until mid afternoon, when one looking over the country around Festubert witnessed a renewal of the bombardment. In the warm, hazy June day only the brownish auricles from the burst lyddite shells as they raised the dust of the trenches heavenward were visible, while even the flashes from the hidden guns were invisible, and the foliage hid the infantry.

The United States Football Association, the governing council of the soccer style of football in this country, includes twenty-five state associations. James Fernley of New Bedford is president, Thomas Cahill of New York, secretary and A. Birse of Chicago, treasurer. A national referees' association has also been formed with David M. Whyte of Brooklyn, president.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

In Two Smash-ups.

AT LEAST TEN INJURED AS FOUR AUTOS CRASH.

WITH a broken neck, and a skull that is almost a pulp, Albert G. Leick, a real estate dealer, No. 134 North Hope street, still lives in the California Hospital, following an automobile crash at San Gabriel boulevard and San Bernardino road, near Alhambra yesterday in which seven others were injured in a minor manner.

No hope is entertained for Leick's recovery, and his stamina that preserved life after the terrible injuries is a matter of wonderment to the attending surgeons. He was sinking last night, and his death hourly expected.

Others injured were C. F. Barton, No. 4411 Victoria Park avenue; Will S. Thatcher, real estate man, No. 1275 Elysian Park avenue; John Partridge, No. 690 Magnolia avenue, Pasadena; Frank K. Partridge, same address; Miss Margaret Beuhlo, a nurse, Pasadena; Rev. L. E. Leonard, Pasadena, and his brother, A. Leonard.

On a trip to inspect real estate properties, a large machine carrying Leick, Thatcher and Barton, with Barton driving, was traveling east on the San Bernardino road, when the other machine, with John Partridge driving, came south on San Gabriel boulevard.

Neither driver saw the other until the machines were rushing into the crash. Partridge made a futile effort to swerve his car to avoid the collision, but his car caught the rear of the Barton machine. Mr. Leick, sitting in the front seat, caught the full force of the blow, and was precipitated from his seat, striking some distance away against the root of a tree. The others were only shocked, with minor cuts and bruises.

The accident is the third occurring at the corner during the last six days, and each has been accompanied by a tragedy.

Mr. Leick was taken to the California Hospital by a police machine. The others returned to their homes.

Two other automobiles collided on Washington boulevard, near Culver city, early last night and as a result Miss Lucy Guth, No. 1316 West Fifth street and George Mather of Ocean Park are in the Clara Barton Hospital. Miss Guth is suffering from a fractured limb and other injuries while Mr. Mather is badly cut about the face, arms and body. Both machines were wrecked.

Mr. Mather, who is employed as a driver by a Los Angeles laundry, was taking Miss Guth to the beach for an outing. They were traveling at a fair rate of speed when they approached a railroad crossing just outside of Culver City. Another machine, which has not been identified, coming toward this city, came into sight so suddenly that neither driver was able to avoid the collision. The occupants of the car whose owner is unknown were injured and brought to this city in a passing automobile.

Mr. Mather and Miss Guth were hurriedly taken to the Clara Barton Hospital.

The unidentified automobile bears emergency number X73D.

NERVY BURGLAR.

As Family Partakes of Meal He Helps Himself to Valuables—Makes a Good Haul.

While the family of N. M. Entler, No. 4001 South Normandie avenue, was partaking of lunch on the porch of the handsome residence yesterday a thief entered and got away with jewelry valued at $565 and some valuable legal and private papers. Nearly every room in the house was ransacked.

Mr. Entler reported to the police that his family had eaten on the porch to avoid the excessive heat and they were out there for more than an hour. When one of the members had occasion to go to an upstairs room he discovered the theft.

POMONA COLLEGE CLOSES FOR YEAR.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK ENDS WITH ALUMNI BANQUET AT CLAREMONT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLAREMONT, June 17.—With the annual alumni banquet, held last night at the Claremont Inn, the Pomona College activities of Commencement Week came to an end. More than 250 graduates of Pomona sat down at the spread.

Robert C. Owens of San Francisco, Pomona 1900, was toast master, and in the course of the evening called on four other Pomona graduates, as well as on President James A. Blaisdell of the college. The general theme underlying all the discussions was one of enthusiasm over the successful completion of Pomona's million-dollar campaign for an increased endowment, with plans for still more ambitious undertakings for the college in the future.

Miss Charlotte Neely spoke for the graduating class, and Ralph J. Reed, '05, Dr. Augusta A. Bassen, '09, and Kauffman L. Carver, 12, as well as President Blaisdell, responded to toasts. In addition to the regular programme Prof. A. J. Cook, State Horticultural Commissioner and formerly a member of the Pomona College faculty, and Dean E. C. Norton of the college, who is to be away next year on leave of absence, responded to calls with short, humorous speeches.

In the annual alumni meeting of the afternoon that preceded the banquet, A. M. Dole, '96, Llewellyn Blake, '01, W. B. Himrod, 98, Lynn Birdsall, '10, Alfred Woodford, 13, Laura Squire, '08, and Dr. George S. Sumner, '94, were elected to the board of directors of the alumni body to serve for the ensuing year. Later the board met and organized, with Dr. Sumner as president, Miss Squire as vice-president, Alfred Woodford, secretary, and Lynn Birdsall, treasurer.

PAYING DEARLY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, June 17.—The cost of "interfering with the National Guard" by making remarks and giving mock orders to the men who were drilling Tuesday night in front of the armory was twenty-five days in jail for Albert Burch, who was an employee at the Soldiers' Home in Sawtelle. This is the first case of its kind ever reported to the local police and Judge Carrillo "handed" the transgressr a good sentence. If the man had been able to pay $25 fine he could have escaped the jail sentence, but as he was minus the cash he had to go to prison. Few people are aware of the fact that a State ruling makes this offense punishable by either fine or imprisonment, and Capt. Harry F. Palmerston of the local guard made an example of young Burch when he arrested him and turned him over to the local police.

WILL REPEAT PARADE.

"Queen Flora, a Feast of Flowers," to be Shown Again Thursday Evening.

By request of the Los Angeles Realty Board, and in honor of the National Real Estate Association, which will hold its convention in Los Angeles next week, the beautiful electrical pageant "Queen Flora, a Feast of Flowers," will be repeated Thursday evening.

The guests of the Los Angeles Realty Board will occupy seats of honor in the official reviewing stand on Hill street, between Eleventh and Twelth.

The parade will leave Grand avenue and Jefferson street at 8 p.m. sharp, going north on Grand to Sixteenth, east on Sixteenth to Hill, north on Hill to Third, east on Third to Main, south on Main to Jefferson. It is expected that the pageant will pass the official reviewing stand at approximately 8:30 o'clock.

It is not believed that the crowds will be so great as to necessitate the roping of the streets. The Bear float was but slightly damaged during the last presentation of the pageant, and has been entirely redecorated, and will appear in the parade.

ROBBED BY BANDIT.

E. P. Goltzos, of No. 1533 East Forty-sixth street, was held up and robbed of $50 by an automobile bandit at Sixth street and Fremont avenue late last night. The bandit drove up in a car and accosted Goltzos, saying he was a detective. Then he searched him and took the money, winding up with bending his gun over the victim's head and driving off in his car.

THE PAIN OF NEURALGIA

People think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face but neuralgia may affect any nerve of the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease is the same, the cause is the same and the remedy to be effective, must be the same.

The pain of neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood, which normally carries nourishment to the nerves, for some reason no longer does so and the pain that you feel is the cry of the nerves for food. The reason why the blood fails to properly nourish the nerves is often because the blood itself is weak and thin.

Anemia, or thin blood, is the most common cause of neuralgia. Build up the thin blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you are attacking neuralgia at its root. These tonic pills also have a peculiar and direct action on the nerves so that they are probably the very best possible remedy for the treatment of neuralgia.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Get a box today and write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free book, "Nervous Disorders, A Method of Home Treatment."

Mr. Gordan says:

Think of the coolest kind of clothes you know of. Then think of the firmest.

Then think of them both combined in one piece of goods and you have my new Porous material.

It's firm, wonderfully cool, and actually porous. Hold it to the light and it looks like a fine screen. Yet it holds its shape indefinitely.

I'm showing it in plain colors, in stripes and in novel mixtures that strike that quiet yet individual note that many men prize.

Suitings are $55—and worth it! Other fabrics and other weaves down to $40 and up to $60.

Classified Liners.

AGATE TYPE ONLY.

Accepted subject to the following rates and rules:

Rates: The rate for inserting Want Ads in the Daily Times is 1c per word each insertion; for the Sunday issue 1½ c per word each insertion. The minimum charge applicable to any single insertion and to each non-consecutive insertion is 50c daily; 60c Sunday; "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Social Notices," "Medical," "Professional," "Business Announcements" and "Baths and Massage."

An extra charge of 25 per cent. is made for the use of capital letters.

Minimum space for classified advertisements ordered for more than one insertion, 14 words.

White space and dashes are charged for on the basis of seven words to a line.

Ads. set solid are counted strictly by the word. For paragraphed or lined-up matter set in eight-point face (5½ average words to a line. Not set in caps, estimate five (5) average words to a line). Nine and eight (9) average words to each line following. In this kind of advertising the actual number of words set solid is counted, and eight (8) words added for each unfilled line.

The Times reserves the right to classify all advertisements under appropriate headings.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Errors not the fault of the advertiser which clearly lessen the value of an advertisement will be rectified by republication, without extra charge, on presentation of receipt within five days after insertion. No allowance will be made where the error does not materially affect the value of the advertisement.

No allowance will be made for advertising items not affected by an error or errors which may occur in other items in the same advertisement.

Advertisers should retain receipts issued by The Times for payment for "liners," as no mistake can be rectified without them.

The Times will not accept phone or verbal orders to discontinue or change "till forbid" advertisements.

Telephoned orders to discontinue advertising in The Times are numbered in the order of their receipt, and in each instance the number of the order is given to the advertiser who should make a record thereof. In case of dispute no charge for advertising will be rebated unless the "stop order" number is presented to The Times by the advertiser.

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 8 o'clock Saturday night. Other classified "Wants," "To Lets," "For Sales," "Help Wanted" and "Too Late to Classify," if not received before 8 p.m. Saturday, will be printed under the heading of "Too Late to Classify," but will not be guaranteed to appear in Sunday issue.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 80,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

FOR SALE—

AUTOMOBILES.

Good, reliable, high-grade used cars of standard makes.

You are not buying a TRADED-IN car, PRACTICALLY WORN OUT, and about to fall to pieces.

NEW CARS used but a few thousand miles, that people are willing to sacrifice comprise the greater part of our stock.

No one would trade a PERFECTLY GOOD CAR in and lose SEVERAL HUNDRED DOLLARS by depreciation if that particular car was giving GOOD SATISFACTION.

Before buying a traded-in car at an exorbitant figure look over some of the BARGAINS we have to offer in cars that must be SOLD, not TRADED.

Many FOURTEEN and FIFTEEN models from which to make your selection.

AUTOMOBILE CLEARING HOUSE ASSOCIATION,
1039-41 South Broadway.

IS YOUR TIME WORTH ANYTHING?

If so why do you tramp around in the sun, here and there wearing out shoe leather, flagged out, tired and discouraged, looking for the car you want at a reasonable price when you can go to the where it is cool and comfortable, and where you can easily select the car you want at a price to suit you.

At all times we carry from 75 to 100 cars, of every make and description.

Try this just once, and I am sure

You will profit by it.

1039-1041 South Broadway.

Terms to reliable parties.

USED CAR WEEK—

This week we are selling our our USED CARS at prices so low that even a dealer can afford to buy them and resell at a big profit.

Our stock consists of NATIONALS, OAKLANDS, CHALMERS, and others.

Each car is in first-class shape, and the prices cannot be duplicated.

We sell for cash or terms to responsible parties.

If you want a good used car with or without electric starter, don't fail to come in this week.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

On Unemployment.

"Unemployment, its cause and cure," will be the subject of William Caldwell in an address, to be given this evening in the assembly hall of the Grand avenue school.

Stanton W.R.C. Dinner.

Stanton Post, Women's Relief Corps, will serve a home-cooked dinner from 11 a.m. to 1.30 p.m. today in Patriotic Hall. Mrs. Ella Parker will act as hostess, assisted by a committee selected from the members of the corps.

Sinai Temple Musicale.

A special musicale has been arranged for the regular service this evening at Sinai Temple. The programme will be under the direction of Rev. J. Weinstock. Herman Regiore will be confirmed by a special dispensation at services at the Temple tomorrow morning.

Cirgonian Luncheon.

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, gave a humorous talk before the Cirgonian Club at its regular weekly luncheon at noon yesterday at the Clark. Music was furnished by George Bemus, basso; Ray Hastings, pianist, and Ingzaid Wicks, violinist. E. C. Lyon presided in the absence of President Forbes Lindsey. Eighty persons were present.

For a Western West Point.

The Chamber of Commerce yesterday sent telegrams to the President, the Secretary of War and Brig.-Gen. Hugh L. Scott, saying: "This organization desires to go on record as favoring the establishment of a military academy, similar to the Military Academy at West Point, at some point to be determined by the government, west of the Missouri River, and respectfully request your co-operation."

For Beautiful Babies.

There will be a beauty show at Universal City tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, but this time it is for babies. There will be a prize of $10 gold for the most beautiful baby between 2 and 4 years, and a second prize of $5 gold. The judges will be three local artists. The winner will also be used in pictures from time to time. All babies are eligible and parents will be admitted free to the studio.

Dinner for Undertakers.

A complimentary dinner to the undertakers of the city was given Wednesday evening by the Pacific Coast Concrete Company at the Clark. A history of cement vaults, tombs and mausoleums, extending from the time of the ancient Egyptians to the present date, was given by Jay D. Brunner, C. W. Bresee of Bresee Bros., George A. Fitch of Santa Monica and D. M. Codd, also gave interesting talks. Twenty-two guests were present.

L.A.A.C. Dinner-Dance Tonight.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club's annual dinner and dance, scheduled originally for the 23rd inst., will be held tonight instead, out of courtesy to the Los Angeles Realty Board, which will have a garden party in Chester place, the former date. The L.A.A.C. affair tonight will be under the auspices of the Mayor of Rowansburg and his cabinet. Dinner will be served in the main dining-room from 6:30 to 9, with private dinner parties in the blue, red, English and gold rooms. Dancing in the gymnasium from 9 to 12.

Credit Men's Banquet.

The Association of Credit Men of Building Material Dealers held its annual dinner last evening at the Hollenbeck. After a literary programme the following officers were elected: President, H. B. Potter of the Los Angeles Pressed Brick Company; vice-president, D. H. McDonald of the San Pedro Lumber Company; and directors, D. H. McDonald, John Hokom, J. C. Belding, and H. K. Koebig. Plans were discussed for the outing to be held on the 26th inst. by members of the association, the Builders' Exchange and the Southern California chapter of architects.

Brilliant Masonic Reception.

The twenty-five Masonic lodges of Los Angeles city, with their 8000 members, will give a brilliant official reception followed by a dance to Hon. Benjamin F. Bledsoe, Grand Master of the Masons of California, at Shrine Auditorium tomorrow evening. All Masons and their families are invited. The following Grand Lodge officers will also attend: Francis V. Keesling, Senior Grand Warden, San Francisco; John Whicher, Grand Secretary, San Francisco; Thomas J. Baker, Grand Lecturer, San Francisco; Rev. Matt S. Hughes, Grand Orator, Pasadena; Hon. William Kettner, Grand Marshal, San Diego; Charles H. Ritchie, Grand Pursuivant, Ocean Park.

New Monthly.

The initial edition of the University Forum, a new monthly periodical published in the interest of the University Forum Society, which has headquarters at No. 357 South Hope street, has been distributed. The editor of the magazine is Dr. Nathaniel I. Rubinkam, organizer and lecturer of the society. The first volume consists principally of an article by Dr. Rubinkam entitled "The Protest of a Protestant" which sets forth the aims of the Forum Society, organized several weeks ago by Dr. Rubinkam, who came here from Chicago. He was trained for the ministry in Princeton University and preached for twenty years before he undertook some sixteen years ago, his work along the lines of modern ethical culture.

BURGLARS FEED CANARY.

While Ransacking House During Family's Absence, They Give "Roger" His Dinner.

Two daylight burglars fed a canary bird while they were ransacking the residence of W. J. Kimber, Ninth and Berendo streets, yesterday with satisfactory results. The loot included $100 and jewelry valued at $400.

The Kimbers were absent at the time, entertaining Mrs. Kimber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Frady of New York, with a motor tour of the orange district. The burglars entered the house with the aid of a passkey, admitting them to the kitchen where "Roger," a fat and wise canary, was perched.

"Roger" has a habit of singing lustily for his dinner like the legendary character of the nursery, one Mr. Thomas Tucker. But as "Roger" had been indisposed for several days, Mrs. Kimber had decided to heal his ailments by fasting, so no seed and titbits had been delivered to him.

When the Kimbers returned, "Roger" was regaling himself with a grand assortment of all things desirable to the canary heart, even to a piece of pork, given him only when he is an especially good bird. And none but the thieves could have fed him.

The police were informed of the burglary.

FOR A RESERVE ARMY.

Spanish War Veterans Discuss Military-defense Problem—More than Two Hundred Show Interest.

The advisability of organizing and maintaining permanently a reserve force of trained soldiers was discussed last night at a banquet of the members of Roosevelt Camp, No. 9, United Spanish War Veterans, held in Patriotic Hall. More than 200 members and guests were present by the time the first speaker took the floor.

Two retired regular army officers, Col. J. W. Williams and Maj. Hoag, addressed those present, but confined themselves to other topics than that of a standing reserve army. Because they are army officers, although retired, they could not express their views on the subject.

Dr. H. W. Seager, Col. E. E. Lane, U.S.W.V., and E. O. Loucks all spoke in favor of the movement. Col. Lane is in favor of forming a Los Angeles troop, which would meet once a week to drill, and would go to the front in case of war. Col. Lane added that if the idea was followed out in every city of the United States we would soon have a reserve army that would at least go into the field knowing how to take care of itself. He added that after all this is the greatest thing for a soldier to learn.

PERSONALS

Frank Burt, director of division concessions and admissions of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, is at the Angelus.

B. G. Graham, banker, and Mrs. Graham, of Florence Kan., arrived at the Hayward yesterday. Florence is in a prosperous wheat-growing district. Mr. Graham says that the crops of the Middle West are unusually large this season.

United States Senator Reed Smoot arrived at the Angelus yesterday accompanied by Mrs. Smoot. They have visited the expositions at San Francisco and San Diego and will rest here two days before returning home to Salt Lake City.

Sherman A. Cuneo, proprietor of the daily Wyandotte Union-Republican of Upper Sandusky, O., is in Los Angeles on the way to San Francisco to attend the Panama-Pacific Exposition. He is a personal friend of Gov. Willis of Ohio.

Porter Pollock, capitalist of Youngstown, O., is at the Alexandria accompanied by Mrs. Pollock and their children, William Pollock and Miss Mary Pollock, and her friend, Miss Lititia Adams. They are in California to visit both expositions and take a number of side trips.

HAIR IS GRAY; YOU LOOK OLD
Look Young by Darkening Gray Hair With Q-Ban—No Dye—Harmless.
If your hair is gray, faded, wispy, thin, prematurely gray, or streaked with gray, you will look twelve or fifteen years younger if you darken your gray hair by shampooing your hair and scalp a few times with Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer. It is not a dye, but acts on the roots, makes gray hair healthy, turning your gray hair to a beautiful, lustrous, soft, natural dark shade, darkening your gray hair and entire head of hair so evenly that no one need suspect you use Q-Ban. Besides, Q-Ban stops dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, promotes its growth, makes hair and scalp clean and feel fine and always darkens gray hair. Try it at our risk. Only 50c for a big 7-oz. bottle at McKay & Monkman's Drug Stores, Bdwy. and Ninth; Pico and Flower; Daly and North Bdwy., Los Angeles. Out-of-town folks supplied by mail. Call or write asking for Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer.—[Advertisement.

WHAT TO DO FOR ITCHING SKINS
Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so easily made worse by improper treatment that one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need not hesitate to use, even on a baby's tender skin—that is, the resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor, put up in the form of resinol ointment and resinol soap, which proved so remarkably successful that thousands of other physicians have been prescribing it constantly for 20 years.
Resinol stops itching instantly, and almost always heals the eruption quickly and at little cost. Resinol ointment and resinol soap can be bought at any druggist's and are not at all expensive.

The Real Suffrage Thought of Women
Motherhood is always uppermost in woman's mind. And with it comes thoughts of how to reduce and overcome the pains and distress of the ordeal.
An external remedy, "Mother's Friend," is highly recommended. Hundreds of young mothers write how rejoiced they were at the absence of morning sickness, nervousness and other distresses. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" at any drug store. Simply apply it over the stomach muscles and rest assured of perfect safety and comfort day and night. Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 184 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their handsome and instructive book.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, June 17.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.91; at 5 p.m., 29.91. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 64 deg. and 81 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 77 per cent.; 5 p.m., 44 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northwest, velocity 2 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 8 miles. Highest temperature, 85 deg.; lowest, 62 deg. Rainfall for season, 17.05 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—The western low-pressure area noted on Wednesday's weather map has moved slowly eastward and now overlies the entire Rocky Mountain region. The depression over the lake region moved eastward down the St. Lawrence Valley into the Atlantic Ocean. Two areas of high barometric pressure appear on the map, one over the North Pacific Coast, and the other is central over the lake region. Rain has fallen during the last twenty-four hours in Western Washington, Northern California, Western Canada, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Iowa, Illinois, Florida, New York and Massachusetts. Elsewhere the weather is fair. The temperature has risen slightly over the western portion of the country, except in Nevada, where it has fallen, and is practically stationary over the eastern portion. Friday will be fair in Los Angeles and vicinity.

LOCAL FORECAST.

For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Friday; westerly winds.

For Southern California: Fair Friday.

STATE FORECAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Weather forecast: San Francisco and vicinity: Friday, cloudy or foggy in the morning, probably followed by fair weather; moderate west wind.

Northern California: Friday, cloudy or foggy along coast, fair in interior; light northwest wind.

Sacramento Valley: Fair Friday; light south wind.

Santa Clara Valley: Fair Friday; light northwest wind.

San Joaquin Valley: Fair Friday; light northwest wind.

Southern California: Fair Friday; light west wind.

SAILOR A CITIZEN.

Italian Who Served Four Years in the American Navy is Granted His Citizenship Papers.

An unusual proceeding took place in Judge Trippet's court yesterday when Antonio Bonadies, an Italian sailorman who, about three years ago, completed a term of four years in the American navy, was admitted to citizenship, under the provisions of a recent law, relating to followers of the sea becoming naturalized.

Bonadies was discharged at the Mare Island navy yard in October, 1912, and his papers were exhibited in court. When asked why he desired American citizenship, the young man replied that he proposed re-enlisting in the navy. A few questions were propounded by the court and the oath was administered.

The law in question provides that members of the navy, marine corps, revenue cutter or naval auxiliary service, may become American citizens upon the filing of a petition asking that such action be taken without any previous declaration of intention and without proof of residence on shore. The provision was tacked on the Naval Appropriation Bill by Congress in June, 1914. No such provision applies to soldiers in the army, the idea being that by reason of the roving character of the naval service, it would be impossible for a sailor to comply with the requirements of a residence.

SEEKS A BARGAIN.

Man Accused of Smuggling Chinese Dickers with Federal District Attorney Over Sentence.

Eben Holden and his celebrated "hoss" trade has nothing on the efforts of Frank Grand, indicted for smuggling Chinese, to dicker with the Federal authorities as to what punishment he should receive in return for his plea of guilty. Grand was arrested about a year ago with Pablo Visus, who is doing a stretch at McNeil's Island for bringing four contraband by the automobile route via Santa Ana to Los Angeles.

The date for Grand's trial is set for July 8, but he is willing to plead guilty if the government would take a fine for the offense. Then Grand raised the ante, and offered to plead guilty if Asst. Dist.-Atty. O'Connor would see to it that he received not to exceed six months in the County Jail.

As the District Attorney's office does not mete out sentences, the deal has been declared off, and Grand will be compelled to go to trial.

WHERE IS HE?

"Where is this man Wheeler?" exclaimed Judge Wood yesterday afternoon, after he had granted Carl L. Williams, a police officer, a decree of divorce from his rougish-eyed wife. "I wish I could lay my hands on him."

This indignant protest against "the man in the case" marked the close of a pathetic suit—the efforts of a husband to live with his wife for the sake of their child, finally forced by circumstances to sue for divorce.

Mrs. Williams admitted gossiping with Thomas Wheeler, a trolley employee, and she said she told her husband about him, but he offered her no protection. Mr. Wheeler suggested that he go to another city and have her follow him ten days later. She assented to the plan, she says, but admitted it was a ruse to get rid of her suitor.

The court was sorry that the young couple had to part, but there had been two reconciliations, and they had proved futile. He awarded the custody of their daughter, Eleanor, 4 years old, to Mrs. Williams until September 27.

GRAPHIC STORY OF DEATH DROP.

George A. Tweedy Describes Mazatlan Tragedy.

Wife and Another Killed by Fifty-foot Plunge.

Little Daughter Senseless for Seven Days.

How he sat helpless, seventy-five feet away, and watched the carriage in which his wife and three little daughters were riding, plunge over the cliffs of Mazatlan, fifty feet to the water's edge below while on their way to the steamship that was to bring them home, was told yesterday afternoon by George A. Tweedy, director of the great Tajo mines near Mazatlan. Mrs. Tweedy and the governess, Miss Mary Skinner, were killed in the accident, and the youngest daughter, Chiquita, so severely injured that she remained unconscious for seven days. The two other little girls escaped miraculously with only a few bruises.

Mr. Tweedy returned to the United States with the body of his dead wife and his three little daughters, on board the U.S.S. gunboat Raleigh, which was placed at his disposal by order of the Secretary of the Navy. The body of the governess was also brought in the funeral ship, and was buried yesterday, following services. Funeral services for Mrs. Tweedy will be held later, following arrangements to be made by the bereaved husband. The body was cremated yesterday morning at the Rosedale Cemetery.

TRAGIC STORY.

"The accident occurred about 5:30 o'clock the afternoon of the 3rd inst.," Mr. Tweedy said yesterday. "We had closed up our home, Quinta Monica, situated on the heights near the main front, preparatory to boarding the steamship Prince Albert, of the Southwest Steamship Company, for Los Angeles Harbor.

Several friends had gathered to see us off, and as they all wanted to go to the pier with us, I ordered two carriages from below. Mrs. Tweedy, the three children and the governess got in the first carriage. I was in the second with three friends.

"The road from our home to the pier is called the Olas Altas, and runs down from the heights where our home stands, to the beach. It is not considered dangerous. I thought no more of the trip than if I was starting down on a street car. There is very much chance of a fatal accident on a street car ride as there is on the Olas Altas road.

"We had started, with our second carriage about seventy-five feet behind the vehicle in which my family were riding. The descent was hardly steep, when the pole strap of the leading horse broke. This put all the weight of the rolling carriage on the wheels horse and threw him around so that he faced the sea. The cochero yelled, and frantically tugged at his horse. But the impetus of the heavily-loaded vehicle was too much for the horses. He was forced over the cliff, dragging his mate and the carriage with him.

FALL FIFTY FEET.

"The cochero jumped, but those inside had no opportunity to escape. The sum

TRAGIC STORY.

The accident occurred about 5:30 [illegible] the afternoon of the 3rd inst.," [illegible] Tweedy said yesterday. "We had [illegible] to our home, Quinta Mon[illegible] situated on the heights near the [illegible], preparatory to boarding [illegible] Prince Albert, of the [illegible] Steamship Company, for [illegible] Harbor.

"Several friends had gathered to [illegible], and as they all wanted to [illegible] pier with us, I ordered two [illegible] from below. Mrs. Tweedy, [illegible] children and the governess [illegible] first carriage. I was in the [illegible] with three friends.

"We had from our home to the [illegible] the Olas Altas, and runs [illegible] the heights where our [illegible], to the beach. It is not [illegible] dangerous. I thought no [illegible] trip than if I was starting [illegible] on a street car. There is [illegible] chance of a fatal acci[illegible] a street car ride as there is [illegible] Olas Altas road.

"We had started, with our second [illegible], about seventy-five feet be[illegible] the vehicle in which my family [illegible]. The descent was hardly [illegible] when the pole strap of the [illegible] horse broke. This put all the [illegible] of the rolling carriage on the [illegible] horse and threw him around [illegible] to faced the sea. The cochero [illegible] and frantically tugged at his [illegible] but the impetus of the heavily-[illegible] vehicle was too much for the [illegible]. He was forced over the [illegible] dragging his mate and the car[illegible] with him.

FALL FIFTY FEET.

"The cochero jumped, but those in[illegible] had no opportunity to escape. The horses and carriage, with its occupants, plunged over the cliff, falling on the rocks at the water's edge below. It was a sheer drop of fifty feet.

"I don't know how I ever got down there, but I was at my wife's side in an instant. I must have jumped it. I was unhurt. Miss Skinner, the governess, was instantly killed. Mrs. Tweedy lived two hours.

"Inside of fifteen minutes, we had six physicians, three Americans and three Mexicans, at our house, which we turned into a hospital. They worked frantically with Mrs. Tweedy, but it was of no avail. My little daughter, Chiquita, was unconscious. No bones were broken, but she had struck her head. She did not regain her senses for seven days.

"There is a law in Mexico concerning foreigners dying on Mexican soil. This law prohibits the removal of bodies until they have been buried one year in Mexico. The Governor of Sinoloa, Guiterrez Rodringuez, than proved himself a friend in need. He treated me royally, and I will never forget it. He came to me personally and told me that in my case there was no law. I could take my wife's body home whenever I wished.

"The officers of the American ships stationed there came to my assistance in a body. Dr. Ernest W. Brown, of the Raleigh, worked continually first with my wife, and then with my little daughter. He has saved Chiquita, I believe. The two other little girls, Janice and Katherine, while bruised were not severely injured.

"Commander Thomas Pickett Macgruder, of the Raleigh, did everything in his power to help, even requesting orders to take us back home."

Mr. and Mrs. Tweedy went to Mazatlan last January. Mr. Tweedy has been general manager and resident director of the mines belonging to the Bradbury estate near Mazatlan. He was returning with his family to their home in this city to spend the summer.

OUR FIRST "WAR BABY."

Problem that has Stumped All Europe is Puzzling Local Federal Officers.

The "war baby" problem, looked upon as one of the most serious phases of the great European conflict, from a social standpoint, came to Los Angeles yesterday and our authorities admit that they are at a loss to know what to do.

Jeanne Bernstene, a comely French girl and prospective mother of the child of Isidore Etchery, a Basque soldier now at the front, is here in the hands of friends pending a disposition of her case by the immigration officers. She came to this country with the understanding that her fiance, in whom she expresses the greatest confidence, will join her after the war.

Although the girl has been guilty of an offense which, if known, would have resulted in her rejection by the New York immigration office, she has now been formally admitted to this country. Whether she can now be deported is uncertain. What is certain, however, is that, if the matter is not decided soon there will be two fares instead of one for Uncle Sam to pay back to France.

Victim and Cliff over Which She Fell.

Mrs. Mabel Atwood Tweedy and the road "Olas Altas."

Meaning literally "High Waves." The dotted line indicates the point on the cliff, fifty feet high, at which the carriage containing Mrs. Atwood, her three children and their governess plunged over the brink, the two women being killed. The Mazatlan home of the Tweedys is just out of sight around the turn of the road.

Old Woman Takes Verdict of Jury Hard.

One woman was convicted yesterday of slaying her husband just as another went on trial for killing her lover. The unusual succession occurred in Judge Willis's branch of the criminal court, when Mrs. Irene Murphy, an old woman, was found guilty of manslaughter.

In the courtroom sat the young and beautiful Gabrielle Dardley, awaiting trial for the murder of Albert Topp. The Dardley trial has been set to fol-

JAPANESE CONSULATE.

Cablegram from Tokio Announces that New Office will be Opened in Los Angeles in July.

A cablegram from Tokio to H. T. Komani, manager of the Japanese Daily News, received yesterday, announces that a Japanese Consulate will be opened in Los Angeles in July. The office will be independent of the San Francisco Consulate. Its territory will be Southern California, Arizona and New Mexico.

The announcement will be received with satisfaction by the members of the Japanese colony, who have been working for the new office for about two years. The Japanese government finally was convinced that the large local Japanese population needed the Consulate.

HELM WILL RESIGN.

Chief of the Field Division of the Local Land Office Prefers Law Practice to Moving.

Gratz W. Helm, who since July 1, 1910, has been chief of the field division of the local Land Office, has tendered his resignation, to take effect July 1, next. Mr. Helm, with George W. Comerford, who came to Los Angeles with his chief five years ago, will embark in the practice of law, making a specialty of land litigation.

The field division that has been located at the Federal Building since 1910, will be removed to Santa Fe, N. M., having in charge public land matters arising in Arizona and New Mexico. The California questions will be transferred to the San Francisco office. The work of removing the records, files, papers and books of the local office, will begin immediately.

There are eleven employees in the local office, and they will be distributed between Santa Fe and San Francisco, as the exigencies of the service demanded.

TWO FOR BAD CHECKS.

Man and Woman Held on Serious Charges—He is Identified as Juvenile Hall Disturber.

Charles Forbes, who says he is 17 and whose age is declared by officers to be 21, was arrested at Long Beach yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Luckenbach on the charge of having passed worthless checks.

When Forbes reached the County Jail, much against his will, he was identified as the person who disturbed the peace a week ago in the small hours of the morning at Juvenile Hall, demanding the possession of one, Jessie Ridley.

Forbes denied that he was the man who held up the hall at the point of a gun, but county officers declare that he has been identified by attaches of the place.

Mrs. A. H. Lewis, also known as Mrs. E. L. Williams, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Larimer and Modie on a charge of passing worthless checks in Bakersfield, Riverside, Monrovia and elsewhere. She was found at No. 922 Towne avenue and placed in the County Jail.

Decline of Two Hundred Per Cent. in Two Months.

Defense Seeks to Show that Other Stocks did Too.

A stock-exchange atmosphere was injected into the trial of the eleven former officials of the Los Angeles Investment Company in the United States District Court yesterday afternoon when L. F. Parsons, manager and assistant secretary of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, read off the sales of stock of the company over a period of several months. Calling the date, the amount of shares sold and the quotation, he moved through the list with rapidity that caused the court stenographers to call a halt in order to catch the slide of quotations from $3.25 on September 3 to $1.15 on November 6. Attorneys for the defense interposed numerous objections and on being overruled, endeavored to show that other stocks had declined almost as rapidly. "Enumerate those stocks which were depressed from September 1 to November 6," said one of the attorneys for the defense.

"Nearly all of the stocks on the list showed depression, some as much as 20 per cent, and a detailed statement would necessitate considerable research," said Mr. Parsons, who further declared that high money rates and a strained financial fabric were the rule of that time. When questioned as to the effect of rumors on any stock, he stated that it might cause a decline.

United States Attorney Schoonover elicited the fact that no bank stock had shown so perceptible a depreciation over the same period. Mr. Parsons said that one of the banks, holding its stock at a par value of $100, was then selling at $650 and dropped as low as $625. Adjournment of the court at this time prevented further discussion of financial conditions as they might bear on the case.

EXPERT'S TESTIMONY.

Testimony of R. W. Watson, investigator for the R. G. Dun & Co., financial raters, brought out the fact that former President Elder had assured him that every dollar of dividends paid by the company was taken from the surplus earnings and that the real estate was worth consider-

DELEGATES TO ARRIVE SUNDAY.

MANY EASTERNERS COMING TO MUSIC FESTIVAL.

Special Train to Bring Representatives of Clubs Belonging to the National Federation, to Convention Which will be Held Here for Two Weeks, Beginning Next Monday.

A special train bringing the governing board of the National Federation of Music Clubs and 200 delegates from the East to the biennial convention and festival which is to be held in this city for two weeks beginning Monday, will arrive next Sunday at 5 p.m. The delegation will be headed by Mrs. Julius Eugene Kinney of Denver, president of the National Federation.

The local biennial board, headed by Mrs. Frank Garrett, its president, in fifty automobiles, decorated with orange-colored banners, will meet the incoming delegates. There will be a reception committee of seventy-five musicians.

A number of automobiles will be provided for the incoming delegates, who are to be showered with flowers, as well. Immediately upon their arrival the guests will be taken to their hotels.

Monday a second trainload of delegates is expected from the northern districts. Over a hundred delegates are expected on this. A large number of musicians beside these are expected here about the same time. Those who are to take part in the festival are already beginning to arrive in order to participate in the rehearsals for the musical events which are now taking place.

The Credential Committee will come to order on the mezzanine floor of the Alexandria Hotel on Tuesday morning, and the national board will hold sessions the first three days of the week. The first event of public interest will be the interpretative recital on the opera "Fairyland" at Ebell Club by Ethel Graham Lynde, assisted by a number of the "Fairyland" artists.

The fundamental purpose of the convention of the music clubs is the encouraging of musical development in America. Students' and composers' contests are held under the auspices of the federation, and prizes are awarded. The largest of these awards on this occasion was in the case of "Fairyland," the $10,000 prize opera, which is to be given its premiere July 1.

FOUNDRY IN BANKRUPTCY.

The T. P. Bruce Manufacturing Company, No. 2500 East Ninth street, filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday. The debts of the concern are scheduled at $3970.07, of which $2261.49 are unsecured. The assets are valued at $3196.90, the largest item of which is the tools and machinery, valued at $3000. The establishment is a brass and iron foundry.

Extortionate.

MORPHINE ON THE UPGRADE.

PRICE IS TWENTY CENTS FOR HALF-GRAIN PELLET.

Excessive Valuation Found in Correspondence of Two Young Women Accused of Illicit Drug Traffic. Much "Dope" Found in Their Home.

Under the gentians and begonias in the front yard, and within the ash can in the rear, were found 1000 pellets of morphine yesterday, and every pellet is worth 20 cents in the illicit commerce in which the owners, Mrs. G. F. Fields and Mrs. Hazel Burke, No. 167 West Thirty-sixth place, were engaged.

The value of 20 cents for a half-grain tablet of morphine is the highest yet known for the narcotic, but the price was established by correspondence found in possession of the two young women, in which Mrs. Fields's husband ordered her not to sell one tablet for less than 20 cents, and he predicted an early advance in the price.

This extortionate valuation placed on morphine is a result of the application of the new Federal law prohibiting the sale and use of the drug.

The two women under arrest, each less than 24 years old, with clear, healthy complexions and the appearance of pleasant shop girls, are believed to be units in a gang doing a mail-order business in the drug. Damaging correspondence was found, and the information the letters exposed will be used in succeeding prosecution in San Francisco and San Diego, where other members of the gang are believed to be operating.

When Inspector Roy Jones of the State Board of Pharmacy made the raid on the bungalow, where the neighbors thought two retired young matrons lived, Mrs. Fields and Mrs. Burke greeted him merrily, but denied the presence of any drugs.

The search developed into a desperate hunt, as not a vestige of the drug could be found in the usual hiding places. Finally Jones went to the front porch to hold a quiet meditation and solve the puzzle of the hiding place. He strolled into the yard and started to pluck a blue gentian, when his fingers clasped over one of the bottles. Tucked beneath the petals were found several other bottles.

Later in the rear of the house an old ash can, apparently discarded, was found to conceal within its dingy hold several more bottles.

The women will be held without bail pending the developments in the other cities.

SWEDISH BAZAAR.

The Swedish Good Templars will give a bazaar tomorrow evening in the Swedish Auditorium Building, Eighteenth and Flower streets. The equipment will include a "Midway" and various booths. Former State Senator Hurd will deliver an address. A musical programme has been arranged. Admission will be free.

DOZEN THOUSAND IN PAPER GONE.

REAL ESTATE MAN FINDS HIS DESK CLEANED OUT.

Returns After Two Weeks' Absence and Says Valuable Securities and Letters and Documents are Missing—Somebody with a Key "on the Job."

Yesterday afternoon, when James C. Anderson, a real estate dealer, returned to his office in room 210, Ferguson Building, for the first time after a two weeks' illness, he discovered that $12,000 worth of securities had been taken from his desk.

Not only were valuable securities and papers taken, but also all the letters and documents that are worthless to anyone but Mr. Anderson. In the words of the victim, everything was gone but the stenographer. And this young lady could explain nothing, as the closed desk of her employer did not signify to her that nothing remained but the wooden shell.

Mr. Anderson's trouble started May 31. On that day he fell from the second floor to the first floor of the Ferguson Building, bringing up with a thud on the big welcome mat at the foot of the stairs.

"I had gone to the office that day to get a little peace and quiet," Mr. Anderson said yesterday. "I live at No. 2011 Lanfranco street.

"As I was leaving the office to go to a moving-picture show, I fell down the stairs. I should have waited for the elevator, but as it was only one floor I thought I would walk. I fell instead.

"In that fall my kidneys were injured. Then I left home, so I could have medical attention without a fight. I stayed at some flats I own.

"When I left my office May 31 I had securities and bonds locked in my desk. They were worth $12,000. When I got out of bed and came down today there wasn't a thing left, although my desk was not scratched or forced open. Somebody had a key and got in.

"I don't know who took those securities. Fortunately my life insurance policy was in my vault in the bank."

Mr. Anderson has been a resident of Los Angeles eighteen years. He married seventeen years ago in Pomona. He has one son, Glenn, 16 years old. He said yesterday he will at once make an inventory of his stolen bonds and notify the police.

RECALLS FAMOUS BATTLE.

The local Society of the Sons of the American Revolution met at noon yesterday at the Clark to commemorate the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill. Sixty members were present. Arthur H. Waters presided. The principal speakers were Rev. Baker P. Lee, Marshall Stimson, Capt. C. H. Hance and Ingle Carpenter. Capt. Hance presented the local society with an original copy of the famous Boston Gazette, printed in 1777, which had been in his possession for many years.

VIADUCT PLANS ARE ADVANCED.

Utilities Board Report Due at Meeting Today.

Council Orders an Estimate for Fourth Street.

To Create Big Industrial District Included.

Another step in carrying out the comprehensive plan for a system of viaducts over the industrial district of Los Angeles was taken yesterday when the Public Works Committee of the Council drafted a resolution instructing the City Engineer to begin preliminary work for the Fourth-street crossing. Similar action has been taken with reference to Macy and Seventh street viaducts and the Public Utilities Board, the Board of Public Works and the City Engineer's department are co-operating with the Council in hastening these improvements.

The preliminary report of Traffic Engineer Howell of the Utilities Board, recommending the construction of the four viaducts at Macy, First, Fourth and Seventh streets, will be supplemented by a detailed report to be presented to the Public Utilities Board today.

This report will show in further detail the ideas of the Utilities Board for eliminating all dangerous grade crossings and transforming the territory known as "The Valley of the Shadow of Death" into one of the greatest industrial districts possessed by any city in the country.

"Benefits to be derived must figure in any estimate of the true cost of a comprehensive viaduct system and I believe the city administration will be able to show the people of the city and county that these viaducts should be regarded as investments rather than an expense," said President Lane of the Utilities Board. "The old idea of a viaduct was simply a bridge to get over a railroad, river or other obstruction to traffic. The new idea includes the old use but it also carries the purpose of affording safe and convenient travel over an entire district that needs to be unhampered by through traffic. In other words, while the people of Los Angeles need relief from the deadly grade crossing, the city has a vast need for a district where spur tracks and switches can be built wherever they will add to the industrial growth of the city. If the general plan for all four viaducts is carried out so that all of the necessary territory is bridged, land values will increase in the industrial district to an extent that will make the cost of the viaducts forgotten by the time they are completed."

CLEVER FORGER FOUND GUILTY.

HIS OPERATIONS MAKE MANY COMPANIES RUSTLE.

Canfield is Convicted on One of Three Counts Brought Against Him in Swindle Which He Worked While Posing with Two Names. He May Appeal.

With the conviction of Leonard C. Canfield on a charge of forgery by a jury in Judge Craig's court yesterday, announcement was made that Title Insurance and Trust Company, which figured in the Canfield transaction, has spent many thousand dollars revising its system of handling mortgages and trust deeds to prevent a recurrence of the swindle.

Other title and trust companies in the city, as well as trust and escrow departments of banks, are understood also to have adopted a swindle-proof method, having learned by experience that the old system is not invulnerable.

Canfield was charged with forgery on three counts. Deputy District Attorneys Becker and Selph prosecuted him and Paul Schenck defended. The case attracted considerable attention because of the cleverness with which Canfield had dealt with "clients" and banks under two names and as two different persons.

He was convicted on one count yesterday, and will be sentenced by Judge Willis next Monday. Attorney Schenck asserts that an appeal will be taken on the ground that three counts were submitted to the jury and that a verdict of guilty was returned upon only one.

Canfield was accused of forging a mortgage and selling it to Caroline Scherts for $2750. He became known at the German-American Trust and Savings Bank as Helmer Rabild. Here he opened an account.

The mortgage was assigned by "Rabild" to Canfield and placed in escrow with Title Insurance and Trust Company. The transaction led through a maze of red tape and it was some time before the fraud was discovered.

Detective Malcolm McLaren began an investigation, with the result that he caused the arrest of Canfield, who had purchased an equity in a palatial West Sixth street home. Later, he unearthed evidence that was instrumental in the conviction.

PLEA OF WIFE SAVES.

A Young Bridegroom Is Given Suspended Sentence on Charge of Stealing Automobile Parts.

Being a bridegroom helped James Bush get out of jail yesterday. When Police Judge Richardson learned Bush had been married but two weeks, and listened to the tearful and loving plea of the bride, the sentence for having stolen automobile parts was suspended.

He was arrested for having taken new parts of an automobile from the Woodward Garage and selling them at a reduced price to other dealers. He was caught in his bargaining, confessed his guilt, and then his bride came to his rescue. On her finger gleamed a new wedding ring.

"It's a bad start for a happy marriage, isn't it?" quizzed the police judge.

"No, Mr. Judge," said the bride, "this man is a good man, and I know he means to be honest, and he loves me, and we will be the happiest couple in the world if we just get over this trouble."

"All right," said the judge, and "good-bye" said the bailiff, and Bridegroom Bush went away with his release in one hand and the hand of his bride in the other.

Selling Railroad Tickets From a Drum.

The newest way of doing it.

In connection with increasing travel, the Southern Pacific announced yesterday that an innovation in expediting ticket selling, first tried at the Los Angeles station, has been adopted for use in the San Francisco and other new stations.

Via Los Angeles.

TRAVEL TOWARD WEST EXCEEDINGLY HEAVY.

TRANSCONTINENTAL west-bound traffic officials expect an average travel for May showed an increase of 120 per cent., compared with the same month of last year, according to a statement issued yesterday by the Southern Pacific passenger department.

The handling by the Southern Pacific alone through its El Paso, Ogden and Portland gateways was 32,042 persons. It handled 14,528 persons through the three gateways in May, 1914.

"Of those handled last month at least 95 per cent. were either routed through this city or held return-trip tickets reading via Los Angeles," said District Passenger Agent McGinnis.

The statement by the Southern Pacific, reinforced by indisputable figures, is a rending of the veil of the temple. Heretofore, railroad officials have contented themselves with mere statements that travel was heavier than ever before, or have used trains or cars handled in making their comparisons.

Though the Southern Pacific's May handling of more than 1000 persons west-bound a day established a record for the road, the day-by-day handling during June has been heavier. As for July and August, when everyone will be coming to this State, Southern daily handling of at least 3000 persons.

With the record travel via this city, pertinency attaches to the announcement yesterday that an innovation in expediting the sale of tickets in Los Angeles has been adopted by the Southern Pacific for use, will also be used in the new San Francisco station and other large stations the company may build.

This is the sale of tickets from a revolving wheel or drum. It is the old ticket-case taken from the wall and put into wheel form, so that a whirl of the practiced hand brings the desired ticket form uppermost. It is claimed that the drum arrangement both expedites sales and reduces the amount of space necessary to carry a stock of tickets, which includes 600 local forms for the Los Angeles office.

This drum arrangement of handling tickets was evolved by G. B. Harrington, Southern Pacific engineer, in charge of construction work here. It is another example of necessity being the mother of invention, for the Southern Pacific desired to make all ticket sales here over a counter, not from a walled-in ticket office. As a result, an upright ticket-case was out of the question and a substitute had to be found.

WOULD OUTRUN FLIVVER CAR.

YOUTHS ACCUSED OF THEFT SHOW GREAT SPEED IN A LONG CHASE.

After outfooting a small runabout for about ten blocks, in a mad race to escape, William Cox and William Smith, two young men with more speed than reputation, were caught yesterday by John W. Powell, special officer of the Automobile Club. They are accused of having stolen a purse containing $60 from Mrs. Frances Skillman, keeper of a rooming-house at Pico and Hill streets.

Mrs. Skillman complained Smith entered the house with Cox and asked to be shown a room. Cox remained in the front of the lodging-house while Mrs. Skillman went with Smith to inspect the vacant rooms.

With a wary eye on the man in front, Mrs. Skillman stood at the door while she showed Smith the accommodations available, and she said she saw Cox go into her private room and return with her purse in his hand. She shouted alarm and Cox and Smith both fled.

She was chasing them down the street, much to her disadvantage, when Powell drove by in a small runabout. He gave chase, and succeeded in stopping the man at Los Angeles street.

Cox, the police report says, threw away a quantity of cocaine when he realized he was to be caught. Both men were on probation on a charge of vagrancy, having been charged with extorting money from keepers of rooming-houses, under pretense they were deputy Sheriffs.

A Serious Malady.

[National Monthly:] Mrs. Boggs's colored maid, Bessie, had been in Washington only a few days, having come from a farm in Virginia. One morning Mrs. Rogers said to her: "If anyone calls me on the phone today say that I am ill with ptomaine poisoning."

Later, the telephone rang, and Bessie, answering, said: "Mrs. Boggs can't talk to you today—she got toe-nail pisenin'."

able in excess of the price at which it was carried on the books. I was shown a statement on which the items of real estate and options were carried at the original cost, but appraised at about $17,000,000," said Mr. Watson.

"Mr. Elder assured me that the real estate had been appraised at over $17,000,000," said the witness, after stating that the head of the corporation had offered to allow him or any representative of his company to look over the company's books.

Showing the large amounts spent by the Los Angeles Investment Company for advertising in various newspapers was one of the features of the afternoon. Dist.-Atty. Schoonover endeavored to bring out that much of the money went for advertising stock in the company in addition to advertising the actual real estate for sale. Among the witnesses called to check up on contracts and to furnish statements of receipts for advertising were P. H. Bowman, C. C. Sloanaker, L. B. McConville, Luther E. Fitch, M. E. Neighbors and O. D. Deluve.

"MILLIONAIRE SYNDICATE."

During the morning session, the story of the eastern millionaire syndicate that was being formed to buy the Baldwin tract from the Investment company at $18,000,000 was thoroughly thrashed out. The newspaper carrying the account of the proposed sale concluded with the statement that "the enormous profit of $8,000,000 is assured as the result of this deal," William P. Anderson, former real estate editor of an afternoon paper, testified that the "story," involving the huge figures and the profit mentioned, had been given him by President Elder and that he had submitted proofs to this official, which were approved.

H. A. Unruh, former executor of the estate of "Lucky" Baldwin, who handled the transaction resulting in the sale of 3593 acres included in the Baldwin ranch for the price of $2000 an acre, or more than $7,000,000, was called upon to testify as to whether Andrew Carnegie, Charles Schwab, Mr. Frick or any other eastern millionaire had made an offer for the property as represented in the newspaper article alleged to have been authorized by President Elder. He stated that nothing of this sort had ever occurred.

No testimony as to the deal which actually turned over the property from the Baldwin heirs to the Los Angeles Investment Company was called for.

SERVICE RALLY IS POSTPONED.

AFFAIR FOR THE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS WILL BE HELD THIS FALL.

The soldiers' and sailors' rally which was to have been held the 27th inst. at the First Methodist Church, has been postponed until fall. The definite date will be announced later.

Though the military officers who are interested and in charge of the work have during the past weeks made careful preparations and aroused much interest in the rally, a combination of circumstances makes it seem desirable to cancel the rally date.

Two companies of the National Guard would have been compelled to be absent; the military band, owing to a previous engagement, would have found difficulty in attending; a big musical event is scheduled for that day in Los Angeles, and the Baraca and Philathea' convention will be in session on that day at the First Methodist Church.

The rally would have been held under the auspices of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Protective League, which is earnestly working to arouse a sympathetic interest among American citizens for the men under the colors.

It is regretted in military circles that American citizens seem to feel contemptuous or indifferent toward the boys in uniform until, as Kipling says, "the guns begin to shoot." When the battle flags are flying, the league contends, everybody loves a soldier, but in times of peace the unenlightened civilian is prone to feel an unwarranted superiority for the men who stand ready night and day, year in and year out, to carry the flag where duty points the way.

WATER AT THE TOP.

Pasadena Park Superintendent Says Los Angeles Palms Failed Because Watered at Roots.

If Los Angeles had watered her palms at the top instead of at the bottom they would never have died, according to a statement made yesterday by Jacob Albrecht, superintendent, of the Pasadena park department, speaking of our unornamental potted street trees.

"A palm," says the superintendent, "is like a huge sponge and is filled with water. On account of this great inner supply of water a palm would live a long time even if it wasn't planted. If transplanted in the winter or fall the roots of the palms would rot and the plant would die.

"Similarly if the roots are watered when the palms are transplanted in the summer, the plant will die from rotting of the roots. What must be done is to water the outside of the palms and bank up the dirt around the trunk so that no water can reach the roots.

"The big palm that was transplanted to the Maryland grounds died because the roots were watered, but when a similar palm was transplanted to the Elks clubhouse, a waterpipe was run up to its crown with a valve on the ground and it was watered from the top, soaking it up like a sponge.

"That is the system we are using with the nineteen palms transplanted recently to Tournament Park, and the palms are all growing and sending out new leaves."

The Cost of Finding It Out

Many years ago a boy of an inquiring turn of mind took a tea-kettle full of water and after securely tying on the lid and corking the spout, placed it on a hot grate. After the grate and a considerable portion of the wall had been blown out of position, the young man was fully satisfied . . . but that's another story.

All experimental stages are dangerous only to the experimenters, but to the unsuspecting public. Experience such as is gained in thirty-three years actual contact with a business eliminates the "experimental element"—that is the length of time we have been assiduously applying ourselves to the selection and sale of good, clean, pure foods.

"I JUST LOVED HIM TO DEATH"

Asserts Wife of Physician Seeking Divorce.

Accuses Husband of too Many Strange Loves.

Sensational Episode Told; He Says Frame-up.

The wooing and wedding of Miss [illegible] C. Belcher, her brief unhappy matrimonial experience and the development which she declares was caused by her husband's fondness for another woman and which he asserts was a plot to trap him, were the component parts of a divorce case partially tried by Judge Shenk yesterday. Miss Belcher, now Mrs. [illegible] Haigh, wife of a local physician, was on the verge of hysterics as the former great love for the physician swept over her and her mind dwelt on the great wrong she alleges she suffered by his straying after other loves.

"I just loved him to death," she exclaimed on the stand. "I had to resign my position with Rowan & Co. and either to give up the doctor or my position. I was so in love with him that I gave up my position in obedience to the wishes of my friends and relatives.

"I'd expected to be married two years ago last February. Then I was going to be married in June. It ran along until September 30, 1914, when we were married."

She said that the doctor frequently told her about his conquests of other women; he even gave her their names and addresses.

"We did nothing but quarrel," she continued. "He did so many things that I objected to. I objected to his actions; I begged him to give it up."

A sensational statement she made at this point was ordered stricken out by the court. The incident of March 1st, which led to the filing of the divorce suit came on the heels of a reconciliation a month before. They separated because she refused to sign a [illegible] deed.

"He swore and grew angry and then told me to leave. I could get out [illegible] I did not like it there. I would not sign the deed and he was furious."

They parted and she said he wrote her a letter, requesting her to come back.

"He called me his 'Dear little sweetheart,'" she said with biting sarcasm, "but by then I knew his character—he had hunted me with his tales of other women."

ONE LIVELY NIGHT.

Mrs. Haigh employed J. R. Timberman, a private detective, to watch her husband. March 13, she said, she consulted her brother, Rex Belcher, Mrs. Edith Graves, and the detective in the Watson Hotel, No. 607 East Pico street, about 6:30 p.m. The detective had rented room 227. About 11 o'clock she said she heard Dr. Haigh greeting a woman at the door of room 226. With the detective and Mrs. Haigh entered [illegible] and found her husband and a woman. She declared both were scant [illegible]

"Oh, Fred, how could you be with that woman?" she cried. Wrought up by the harrowing experience the sobbing young woman's voice quivered, but with a great effort she composed herself and proceeded. Mr. Belcher and Mrs. Graves corroborated Mrs. Haigh as to this incident.

The detective told his story which was in effect that a woman he had seen entering Dr. Haigh's office March 13 rented room 226 at the Watson. In the adjoining room he had rented he said he heard her telephone an appointment for the following night. This time the night Mrs. Haigh says she overheard her husband. The woman in the case was given as Mrs. R. E. Williams on the hotel register.

Vindicating the line of defense Attorney Williams asked Mr. Timberman whether he had not used the woman before in getting evidence. The detective denied that he had denied that he had told Dr. Haigh that he had been trying to get [illegible] for two weeks.

"Did Dr. Haigh ask you when he was leaving the hotel, 'Shall I say good-by to this creature of yours?'" asked the attorney.

"He did not," said Mr. Timberman.

THE DEFENSE.

When the defense opened Mrs. [illegible]'s Mortimer was called and told how Ruth C. Lindsay, a friend of [illegible] known as "Billy," had said she had called on Mr. Timberman and asked if he had anything she could do. Later she said he told her he had something which involved a certain [illegible]. About March 12 or 13 "Billy" called her up and asked her not to follow her up as she was going under the name of Mrs. R. C. or R. E. Williams.

"The way I knew she used the name Mrs. Williams was when she called me up and said she was at the Watson," said Mr. Timberman.

Theodore S. Hamilton, manager of the Watson, testified that he had observed Mr. Timberman and "Mrs. Williams" conversing in the drug store of the hotel. Mr. Hamilton was indignant at the fracas at the hotel on the night of March 13.

Dr. Haigh, it is said, is not contesting the divorce, but is fighting to clear his good name, declaring that he was the victim of a plot, knew it and wished to investigate. Attorney Percy Thomson, counsel for Mrs. Haigh, declares there is no frame-up.

MORE TEARS MAY COME.

"Man With the Drooping Eye" Possible Subject for Federal Grand Jury Inquiry.

More tears are in sight for Newton [illegible], the "man with the weeping eye," who is under arrest on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

The Federal Grand Jury is about to investigate charges that he has been using the mails to defraud and there is said to be a mass of evidence bearing on the case.

Wilson is alleged to have evaded officers of the law for a good many years. His most profitable game is said to have been bilking insurance companies and others via the "insurance" eye route.

He is accused of having framed up a fight in which his eye was always injured. Because of the freak eye he is said to have collected thousands of dollars from accident insurance companies.

BADGES FOR THE REALTY DEALERS.

PREPARATIONS FOR DELEGATES TO CONVENTION NEAR COMPLETION.

The official souvenir badges of the big national realty convention which will open in this city next Monday have been received by the Realty Board and are being distributed among its members. The badge is of bronze and is engraved after a special design emblematic of the progress of Los Angeles and Southern California. Its pendant bears the inscription "Eighth Annual Convention National Association of Real Estate Exchanges, Los Angeles 1915." Thousands of these identifying souvenirs will be distributed among the delegates and visiting real estate men.

The quarters of the local realty organization, No. 631 South Spring, have been elaborately adorned with flags and bunting, and by the time the special trains of delegates begin to arrive on Sunday will have been converted into a bower of flowering plants and floral decorations as well. The board rooms will be open all day Sunday and until late at night every day thereafter during the convention.

A number of realty men from different parts of the United States have already arrived. Several of these have dropped in on Thomas Ingersoll, executive secretary of the national body, at his office in the Realty Board headquarters. Many more are expected tomorrow. The real rush, however, will start on Sunday, when the special cars and trains from the leading Eastern and Middle Western cities begin to come in. All have arranged to be here in time for the convention opening at 9 o'clock on Monday morning.

Hot Stuff.

TENNESSEE AS SELF-BOOSTER.

ITS CITIZENS REVEAD SOME STATE SECRETS.

Coming Here Today Hundred and Twenty-five Strong, They Send a Little Advance Copy Telling How Good and Interesting Their Home Country Is.

There will arrive in Los Angeles today a party of 125 prominent people from Nashville, which is the seat of government in Tennessee. For the benefit of those who may care to know what these friendly foreigners are like we will explain a little about their country. It is very long in shape, but the inhabitants do not wear long faces. It is bounded on the south by watermelons, on the west by cotton, on the north by fried spring chicken and on the east by squirrel and dumplings, unrevenued corn whisky and wild honeysuckle.

Nobody could get away with that old stuff about "no north, no south, no east, no west" in Tennessee. It is perfectly true that Tennessee has very little north or south, unless we wanted to risk our lives by going into the political aspect of its state of mind and geography, but it has more east and west than anything on the American continent. Back there a man is not merely a Tennesseean. He is either an East Tennesseean, a Middle Tennesseean or a West Tennesseean, and he regards the other two sections of his State as necessary evils and the inhabitants thereof as permanent suspects. If he is an East Tennesseean, he loves oratory and moonshine whisky and may be an expert at making both. He is also likely to go to Congress or become Governor if the revenue officer does not see him first. The principal products of East Tennessee are Farragut, David Crocker and Sam Houston, although friendly references are sometimes made to Blount, Severe and Andrew Jackson, with here and there a regret for Johnson and a little pleasant notoriety for Polk. Parson Brownlow also ran and, as a war Governor, he may have been said to have filled the bill.

You see, East Tennessee was settled first and naturally had the bulge on the other sections in the matter of political preference. They could draw on North Carolina and Kentucky for a fresh supply of pioneers any time the Indian activities made this necessary. Their State capital town that to this day probably has was once actually at Kingston, a not 500 people, although they still hold the county fair there every fall. The old Capitol building at Knoxville is a little frame structure down on Cumberland street, with an assembly hall that would not accommodate 200 people.

When Tennessee was 100 years old it gave an exposition of so much beauty that it would favorably compare with the one at San Diego.

Tennessee started out with a fair share of criminals in its prisons, but between Bob Taylor and Gov. Cooper they were all pardoned away. The eastern section of the State is exceedingly rich in coal, iron, timber and scenery. You can tell you are not in Switzerland when you are in upper East Tennessee by the fact that you did not cross the Atlantic Ocean to get there.

In Tennessee there is a general impression that the First Tennessee Regiment subdued the Philippines, but as Colorado thinks the First Colorado did it and Ohio is sure that it was the Thirty-first Volunteers, we refrain from making any further reference to this assumption beyond the admission that the Tennesseean is a good fighter when he is mad enough. We will not go into more detail at this writing, but will lay the burden of the further welcome of the Tennesseeans upon the unfailing hospitality of Los Angeles.

low immediately upon the conclusion of the Murphy case.

The elder woman, whose fate was hidden from her by an oak door and flight of stairs, looked across at the younger woman, whose fate will be unknown for several days.

Miss Dardley shuddered as the bailiff opened the door and the jurors filed solemnly into the courtroom. Not one of them looked at the gray-haired woman upon whose fate they had been deliberating.

Mrs. Murphy didn't seem to be nervous until the verdict was handed to the judge. When Judge Willis passed it back she moved restlessly in her seat and leaned toward her attorney, but her throat was parched and she said no word.

A frown multiplied the wrinkles on her brow and her head shot back a bit as though she had been struck a blow. The verdict had found her guilty of slaying her husband.

The crime was committed April 15 at the Murphy home in La Canada. William Murphy, her husband, had been found dead with the charge of a shotgun in his vitals. The case was almost entirely circumstantial, but Deputy District Attorney Keetch pieced it together and welded a convincing chain.

Gabrielle Dardley watched every detail from the time the jurymen entered the box until they took their hats and went home, discharged by Judge Willis. She traced the written verdict from one hand to another and missed nothing that transpired.

She is charged with a similar crime, the shooting of her paramour, Topp, on New Year's Day. Mrs. Murphy had denied that she killed her husband. Miss Dardley had admitted slaying her lover, but she has a reason, she says, which is something betwixt emotional insanity and the unwritten law.

Mrs. Murphy was led away and the jury box filled again. Criminal court judges looked at the passing of the old woman across the bridge of sighs and remarked that in their recollection she is the first woman in Los Angeles county to be convicted for manslaughter.

Deputy District Attorney Doran will prosecute Miss Dardley when the trial opens this morning. The jury was accepted last night. Earl Rogers and Frank Dominguez will defend her.

NEW STEEL PROCESS.

Inventor Here with Method for Cheap Handling of Iron by Use of Oil from Which Much is Hoped.

Stating that he has discovered a process through which, by an application of oil to the production of steel from iron ore the cost of such steel production is greatly reduced, M. Bourcoud, an inventor, is a visitor in this city. This process, patented in every country, was in actual practical operation in England previous to the outbreak of hostilities, M. Bourcoud said.

The present cost of production of steel from iron ore is from $38 to $42 per ton. M. Bourcoud says he can produce the same article at a cost ranging from $22 to $28 per ton. The sale of steel in the four Coast States averages 900,000 tons per year. The establishment of an iron industry in Los Angeles using M. Brourcoud's methods, he says, would mean not only an enormous growth but also a very large accretion of capital and wealth. The process depends for fuel and carbon entirely on oil, using nine barrels of oil per ton of steel produced.

Experts of this country and abroad have investigated the process, and pronounced it practical, it is stated. A syndicate headed by Sir William MacKenzie had erected a plant at Millwell, Eng., and had commenced production when the war stopped all work. M. Bourcoud is the guest of H. M. Dougherty while in Los Angeles.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) A general feeling of hesitancy prevailed in financial circles, operations being on a somewhat subdued scale. Investors say they would like to have more light on the foreign situation before engaging further in any deals of magnitude. Domestic securities, however, held their own, what recessions there were being in those issues having either foreign directorates or affiliations.

(Abroad:) Notice was given in the House of Commons that next Monday a further war credit of $1,750,000,000 would be asked. American securities were stronger on 'change.

(For details see financial pages.)

A WILLING SACRIFICE.

Carranza is a grand little composer of difficulties. He is perfectly willing to compromise by having himself recognized as President.

CHEAP FOOD?

Why fret about the high cost of living when you can get a medium-sized alligator pear grown right here in Southern California for only 65 cents.

PERPETUATING A HANGING.

There is one thing that the movies have not tackled. It is a representation of a public execution. Maybe some ambitious and public-spirited murderer will, when he is jerked to Paradise, consent—the Sheriff agreeing—to have the scene of his exit perpetuated for exhibition in Sunday-schools.

WHY LAUGH?

The marriage of Miss Mary Duke, the daughter or granddaughter of the "Duke cigarette" manufacturer, recalls the joke that was perpetrated on the famous tobacconist who, when he became a millionaire, concluded to have his coat of arms painted on the panel of his carriage. He applied to a friend learned in classical lore to furnish him with an appropriate motto. He was advised to adopt as his motto the words, "Quid rides."

GERMAN THRIFT.

The provident German people do not need our wheat nearly so much as the allies need American-made guns and ammunition. The press news from Berlin is that every rood of available German soil—including the public parks, the sides of the roads and the back yards of private residences—have been planted to something edible, and even front lawns have been turned into cabbage patches and beet beds.

GROWTH OF PAN-AMERICANISM.

The Monroe doctrine never knit the nations of the New World as closely together in feeling as the events of recent years have done. The Latin-American countries were pleased with the attitude of the United States in the Venezuela case. They were both pleased and surprised with our action with respect to Cuba, and they are satisfied that we do not propose armed intervention with a view of acquiring territory in Mexico. They are satisfied that international unity in this hemisphere is not merely a phrase of speech, but a certain and immediately-pending fact, and this feeling is aiding to promote Pan-American unity.

WATER AND DRY MUMM MIXED.

Gov. Hunt of Arizona, accompanied by several distinguished cactus statesmen, is on his way to the New York navy yard to attend the launching of the $15,000,000 superdreadnaught Arizona. They carry with them a bottle of water from the Roosevelt dam, intending to use it instead of the customary champagne to break upon the bow of the ship as she glides from the ways into the water.

They will thus emphasize the devotion of their State to the sacred cause of grape juice, and they will at the same time save the bottle of Pommery Sec for subsequent assimilation at the banquet when Gov. Hunt will sing the verse of the poet Poston—

"Arizona wastes are drear,
Her deserts sear,
Her tempests cold.
Still to her desert breast
The precious ore is pressed,
Her brow is copper tressed,
Her veins are gold."

INVESTMENTS IN SOUTH AMERICA.

The wealth of the United States is greater that of any other country in the world, and the annual income of its people thrice that of the people of any other country. Development of the resources of the West has offered opportunities for profitable investment, but many of these have been availed of so that of late years the rate of interest on money in the West, and especially on the Pacific Coast, has fallen one-half or more. Men doing business in Los Angeles remember when the bank rate of interest here was 15 per cent., and some old men will recollect when it was 24 per cent. in San Francisco, and 60 per cent. in Virginia City. What the West was to the East fifty years ago South America is now to the United States.

The European war has caused a sudden discontinuance of the investment of English, French and German money in Latin-American countries. There is an abundance of American capital that can find in Argentina, Brazil and Chile safe and profitable fields for investment. Greater facilities for communication and transportation will open this field to us, and the Pan-American conference will promote these facilities.

POPULATE THE ACRES.

Despite California's unrivaled agricultural and horticultural districts and her soil of such marvelous fertility that under intensive cultivation it would feed easily half the world, the trend of our ever-increasing population is towards the cities and away from the orchards and farms. In a statistical table just prepared by the State Controller the population of the State is estimated at 2,667,516, of which more than 85 per cent. is inclosed in the boundaries of our 140 incorporated cities.

"Back-to-the-farm" movements have engaged the spasmodic attention of statesmen and scientists for the last 2000 years. It is easy for a student of political economy to demonstrate that the growth of urban populations must mean a corresponding increase in the unproductive class, that the drones are outnumbering the workers in the human hive; but the accumulated wisdom of the ages has failed to discover a remedy.

With the increase of urban populations comes the inevitable increase in the cost of living. There is something appalling in the thought that the condition already exists in California in which every rural worker must produce enough food for fifteen mouths; for not more than half the country population can be estimated as actual producers. Of course each producer is aided in this by city-made machinery and manufactured phosphates; electrical and mineral power are replacing animal propulsion and cheapening production; good roads, automobiles and interurban railways are bringing city and country into closer touch; improved country school systems are removing the necessity of moving into town in order to give one's children a proper education; California leads the world in many of these, but 85 per cent. of our population resides in our incorporated cities.

Our remedies are palliative, not curative. We succeed in minimizing the effect, but not in removing the cause. The whole trend of modern civilization seems to render idleness more attractive. So long as white hands remain more alluring than brown; so long as the polish of the rolling stone is preferable to the moss of the rock that sustains the cliff; so long as adornment heightens desire; so long as fashion turns from the moonlight of the hedges and the meadows to woo the white lights of the boulevards and the cafes—so long, it would seem, the trend of population cityward must increase.

Progressive theorists have preached to us that the way to secure enduring prosperity is to spend more; they say we have been too niggardly; that we need more commissions, more public interference in affairs of the individual. They would keep business out of politics by injecting politics into more lines of business. But their remedy at its best produces a condition where there are too many poppies growing in the wheat. A field half green and half gold is a thing of wondrous beauty, but it never produces a bumper crop.

Ruy Lopez, the great chess strategist, proved centuries ago that a counter-attack is the secret of all defense. In California there are more than fifty societies interested in some kind of public welfare movement; yet a little band of real estate agents seems to be the only organized force working to populate our country districts, and their influence is lessened by the fact that the commission for the agent is the palpable incentive. Many European cities are suffocating from overpopulation; that condition does not prevail in California, where our cities are freer from slums than any others in the world. We may point with justifiable pride to the fact that our State population has increased half a million in five years; but there is food for thought in the reflection that 90 per cent. of that increase is located in our incorporated cities. With the opening of the Panama Canal the time is certainly ripe for an organized movement to develop and populate the millions of acres of our inland empire where opportunity stands with open arms to welcome the hardy cultivator of the soil. Even in our California civilization there are too many "bottle" babies; we need more nourished direct from the breast of Mother Nature.

HUMAN SACRIFICE.

In all countries since the dawn of history the vicarious shedding of blood has stained the lintel of civilization. During the dark ages thousands of lives were sacrificed to the dogmas of religious intolerance. Under the ethics of a heathen religion Montezuma and his Aztec priests sacrificed men, women and children on public altars. These forecast present Europe and modern Mexico.

At Carthage babies were thrust into the fiery mouth of the idol, Moloch. In more than a dozen places in the Old Testament we find the Israelites accused of burning their own children. Was not the patriarch, Abraham, commended for his willingness to offer up his own son as a burnt sacrifice to Jehovah? Ancient Greece, whose people had attained a high level of culture and refinement, considered the sacrifice of a beautiful woman to appease the wrath of the gods an act of sublime devotion. The spirit of gladiatorial Rome survives in the popularity of the modern prize fight.

Christianity has modulated but not changed human nature. The honor paid to the Druids of Britain and Gaul at their annual sacrifices of human victims finds vent in honor paid to successful generals after the slaughter on modern battlefields. So, too, the victims still rejoice in the sacrifice. Hindoo widows joined in the general protest when Great Britain abolished the suttee.

The same civilization that abhorred the burning of widows, a sacrifice to fetichism, later on consented to the blowing out of live Sepoys from the mouths of cannon—the sacrifice of revenge. In 1873 the Shah of Persia, while visiting Queen Victoria, was chagrined to find the British laws prevented him from garrotting a few of his courtiers as a public spectacle. This did not seem to him so dreadful as the slaughter of the Sepoys.

For five thousand years human sacrifice in one form or another has stained the world with blood. Is it any wonder, then, with this record of the cheapening of life, sometimes under the guise of religion, sometimes in the name of patriotism, the preaching of peace and respect for life too often falls on deaf ears and fails to change in a minute a trait in human nature that has been fortified by centuries of spectacular sacrifice?

Druid stone, Molochs, Aztec altars, juggernauts, suttees, racks, thumbscrews, stake burnings, massacres in the name of Mohammed, massacres in the name of Christ, surely the human race has inherited a taste for spectacular human sacrifice as hard to eradicate as smallpox, cancer and tuberculosis—and like these requiring heroic not sentimental treatment.

According to archaeologists all the primeval races of men were cannibals and it took a hundred generations of abstinence to breed out the appetite for human flesh. We are only just starting to breed out the excitement for international war. A hundred years back war was considered the natural method for settling national grievances and advancing national aspirations. Are Christians with a heritage handed down from long lines of fighting ancestors likely to be more responsive to the treatment of pacificists than a tubercular patient, handicapped by a hundred one-lunged progenitors, is to the serum of Dr. Koch?

The death of Christ upon the cross was more than a tragic truth—it was a tragic allegory. It symbolized the redemption of mankind through sacrifice alone—as without the relief of death there can be no continued existence of the species on this little planet, so without sacrifice there can be no immortality for the spirit in the world to come.

In its true significance this redemption passionately asseverates that any sacrifice of human life must be for a useful not for a useless purpose. Put to this test very few wars can be justified. For an eternal truth the innocent may perish for the guilty—no war should be waged except to uphold an eternal truth. Here is where the doctrines of Christianity part company with the ethics of militarism.

EUROPE IN ARMS, WHAT OF SPAIN?

Of the twenty nations of Europe, ten are now at war, but the belligerent countries comprise three-quarters of the area—2,720,000 square miles out of 3,800,000, and nine-tenths of the wealth.

Spain is the only important country not yet drawn into the giddy vortex—Spain, that once held world empire and dominated the seas. Spain, the adventurous, that loves a fight as no other nation, whose history is a record of brilliant wars.

And Spain is holding aloof with calm dignity, watching the fray with non-committal interest, benevolent superiority. Alas, we cannot hope to polish up our geography of Spain if she insists upon maintaining this attitude.

Spain is credited with an objection to partnerships. She likes to paddle her own canoe. And to choose her enemy for good sound, tangible, personal reasons. So Spain is playing the interested bystander, graciously, courteously aloof, her newspapers tentatively offering occasional patronizing advice to the various belligerents, with a slight leaning towards the allies in the matter of sympathy.

But Spain is watching Mexico, her revolting daughter republic, with more vivacious interest. Spain is Mexico's motherland, and mothers never lose interest in daughters, no matter what the happenings. One prominent Spaniard is credited with declaring that it is Spain's duty to bring order out of chaos in Mexico if the United States fails to take the helm. There is a political party in Spain that turns covetous eyes toward Mexico and is of opinion that their intervention in that country would be more welcome than any other. They see an opportunity for Spain to recover her lost dominion under the most plausible and logical conditions.

There have been hints of "conversations" with the European powers on the subject, and suggestions that Germany would be only too delighted to see Spain step into Mexico at this particular juncture. England, while professing firm political friendship with Spain, is understood to have discountenanced the idea. But the idea is there and is worth watching.

Especially as there is cause to believe that a section of the Mexican public casts a favorable eye upon this proposition. The United States must regretfully admit that it is not held in unqualified affection in Mexico—and blood is thicker than water.

WHAT IS INTERNATIONAL LAW?

International law is not law at all, for law is a rule of action prescribed by a superior to an inferior and which the inferior may be compelled to obey or be punished by the superior for transgressing. International law consists of a collection of uncodified ethical maxims unenforceable by anybody.

International law accepts war independently of the justice of its origin, as a relation which the parties to it may set up if they choose and which any nation may, if it chooses, impose upon another against its will. The law confines itself to nominally regulating the effects of the relation.

"That this last form of control is wholly illusory," says David J. Hill, "is evident from the fact that even such rules for the conduct of war as have been accepted and solemnly agreed to cannot be enforced by a non-belligerent cosignatory of the convention in which the agreement is made without itself going to war in order to execute that enforcement. Let us, then, frankly and honestly face the situation as it actually exists. So far as international law is concerned, Right is completely prostrate before the uplifted sword of Might."

Permanent Effects of the Exposition in San Francisco, Especially in Art and Education and Appreciation.

BY JEANNE REDMAN.

There can be no doubt that San Francisco and all California will profit permanently by the Panama-Pacific Exposition or that the incentive to development which has been felt throughout the city will have a lasting effect.

You know the feeling you have when you put on a new garment—that everything else in the way of integuments must be correspondingly new. And that tendency to clean the whole house after Christmas and throw away everything that is not quite fresh.

That is the feeling we San Franciscans have about the city and about ourselves; that we must live up to the exposition and be worthy of it; that we must know what goes to make this the greatest of all international expositions, and that we must deserve it.

I think that no one who has had an intimate part in the exposition or has learned to know it intimately will fail to profit by its inspiration. We all feel so intensely the influence of beauty and cleanliness that the exposition exudes that we shall never be content with ugliness and bad taste. We are becoming accustomed to the beauty and perfection of form; we have discovered a new loveliness in color and have learned which colors blend well with our California sky—which reminds me that one of the French artists who came to the exposition to assist in the building of the French pavilion says that California light is the same as that of the Mediterranean, which inspired the stone-cutters of ancient Greece and made of them famous architects and sculptors; and he predicts great things of California artists.

The educational values of the exposition are innumerable, and that they are taken advantage of is proven by the fact that of the 50,000 season tickets which were sold 25,000 at the least count come to the exposition every day, thereby evincing their determination to make a real study of it. This is the first time in the history of expositions that the season-ticket idea has been carried out, and the advantage accruing to the buyers is of course enormous. The five-cent admission for children is of great value also, and while there have been many complaints from the poor teachers who are ordered to bring their classes to the exposition twenty times during the term and teach them all they can during an afternoon, still the result of that will be felt, and indeed is even now noticeable.

Of great permanent advantage to the city and the students of art, in which class every true San Franciscan counts himself these days, is the plan to have the great murals moved to the building in the civic center of the city after the exposition is over and leave them there permanently. It is said that the gorgeous Brangwyn murals which are now in the Court of Abundance and which have attracted such wide attention will be among those to go to the civic center. Some of the most admired statues will be reproduced in lasting materials and placed in the same buildings.

It is an interesting fact that one can hear really intelligent comments from the very people who, at the beginning of the exposition, exposed their illiteracy to the four winds of heaven every time they found a listener; and if it is not their own actual study that has brought them thus far, they have gained something from the criticisms which they repeat. They have even learned to criticise the Tower of Jewels, saying that it is out of proportion to the rest of the exposition, and the fact that they did not discover that for themselves is not the point.

It took a critic of the standing of Royal Cortissoz to inform us that the great Fountain of Energy, made by A. Stirling Calder, which stands at the entrance at Scott street, is not perfect in artistic conception because of the two figures which stand on the shoulders of the equestrian figure. He says that they reduce the dignity of the figure of Energy by making it look like a circus rider, and he no sooner points this out than we all recognize the truth of it and look more discriminatingly at the next statue.

We are learning to speak quite familiarly and intelligently of the different types of architecture, from the early Gothic and Moorish to the Roman, French, elaborate Gothic and Italian Renaissance. All of which are represented at the exposition.

And the very same woman who at first stood in front of the great Gainsborough landscape in the Palace of Fine Arts and remarked that if she could not paint better than that she would not paint at all now explains to us that in those days the landscape painters did not paint out of doors, and that is what makes their landscapes look so promiscuous—as though they had been painted with a vegetable wagon as their inspiration.

The Chicago exposition is said to have given a great and permanent stimulus to Chicago art and helped to make that city a rival of Boston, as it is, in artistic fecundity.

As for music, we have heard the best that the world can produce at present, and we love and appreciate it more than ever before.

Oh, the advantage to the people of San Francisco is immense and will continue to be for all time, and some of us, whisper it, have learned how to pronounce "bas relief!"

THE JUNE BRIDE.

Fair bride of June, white bride of June, as lovely as a summer moon, the sweetest pebble on the beach, a joy, a vision and a peach! A truth it is—I know not why—that brides of August and July, of gusty
March and placid May, must yield to you the right of way. All brides are daisies when one tries their divers charms to analyze; they all are nature's noblest growth; when I see two I want them both; but still there's something out of tune, when brides loom up outside of June. The month's ordained and set aside and dedicated to the bride. In June the year is blithe and fair and has no silver in its hair, the skies are bright, the roses bloom, the winds are soft, there is no gloom, and here's the newly-wedded belle, who fits into the picture well!
Ah, would it might be always June, when birdlets sing and zephyrs croon; but zephyrs fail and tempest shrieks, and roses fade, and so do cheeks; the fleeting summer day departs, and Father Time will test all hearts. And when your bloom is gone away, may you be just as bright and gay as you are at your bridal noon, oh, bride of June, fair bride of June! WALT MASON.

Faith That Moves Mountains.

[National Monthly:] A prominent German farmer, who believes nothing that is printed in the English papers concerning the war, was accosted with the remark:

Delights of Camel Riding.

[Wide World Magazine:] It was my first experience of camel riding, and therefore interesting, if not altogether charming. The saddles used in this country are formed of large pads, one in front and one behind the hump. The driver climbs into place in front, with a huge peaked pad to keep him from falling off when the camel rises. Then the passenger mounts behind the hump, and the camel is with difficulty persuaded to rise. This he does hindquarters first, and the passenger finds himself thrust up in midair as if on a tower. The huge pad offers no possible support, and he can scarcely overcome his desire to prevent a fall by putting his feet on the driver's shoulders. That worthy, however, soon comes up to join him, and the expedition starts. The first sensation is of being astride a table, and as the miles go by the table increases alarmingly in width, and the tyro on the back seat begins to despair of ever getting his legs acquainted again.

HOW TO RUN GOVERNMENT.

San Diego is Given Much Free Advice.

School Gradings for Civil Service Suggested.

Many Questions Relating to Efficiency Discussed.

San Diego civil service requirements and methods should stand out distinctive in the annals of this system, this community being the only one in America which has had the advice of acknowledged experts in the matter. The delegates to the National Assembly of Civil Service Commissioners yesterday freely offered their suggestions on the numerous phases existing under the limitations of the charter provisions as adopted by the southern community only a few days ago at an election.

[illegible] O. Rusenberg, president of the San Diego Commission; Secretary [illegible] A. Pierce, Mrs. Sarah Sinks and [illegible] O. Hall were present to assimilate advice and have guaranteed to [illegible] their work the most efficient in the West unless unavoidable obstacles get in the way.

Last night the Friday Morning Club was host to the visitors as well as the general public, Mrs. Russell Waters, president of the organization being chairman of the occasion. Attorney Stephens, after welcoming the guests, discussed the progress of civil service in Los Angeles briefly. The clean-cut line between the politics and the politics of a community were clearly pointed out by Robert Catherwood of Chicago. The difference between classified service and policy-making service of an ordinary democratic government is as clearly and naturally marked as a range of mountains which make a "watershed," he declared. "When you understand that this line is not there when you ask for a Republican legal opinion, a Democratic scrubbed floor, a Socialist court calendar, a Progressive tax assessment, you deceive yourself to your own ultimate injury."

OTHER PAPERS.

Legislation bringing out this discussion provides an effective foundation for the control of the government by the public, not alone in theories, but over the business administration of all departments of government, he declared. Dr. Henry Suzzoritz, president of the New York Civil Service Commission, discussed some of the problems and their solution as obtaining in the greatest municipalities of America.

During the day's business session at the Normal Hill Center, W. F. Grant, [illegible] of the Colorado Commission, discussed the value of a bureau of information for all commissioners and advocated the formation of such a bureau or commission in connection with the national organization. In [illegible] of the accomplishments of civil service in his own State he pointed to the fact that the State Oil [illegible] had not only paid all of the salaries of his office, but had turned [illegible] to the State in the first [illegible] a halt under civil service, [illegible] previous heavy deficits in the [illegible] department. He advocated an [illegible] eligible list between [illegible] and possibly cities.

Although not able to be present [illegible] Harold N. Saxton, chief examiner for the State of New York Civil Service Commission, sent his paper, one of the most interesting of the day. It was revolutionary in suggesting that examinations for public appointments be abolished and that the educational institutions be called upon to train public servants, thus avoiding the expenditure of large amounts on candidates for jobs who are frequently unfit to appear even in the examination rooms.

Among other suggestions was one that the State Commission be empowered to apportion clerical appointments among the counties of the State according to population, requiring uniform examinations and allowing high schools to certify the names of graduates in order of their standing for positions. This form of competition would be based on four years of school work instead of four hours of a civil service examination room.

...Not able to be present ...Mr. Harold N. Saxton, chief ...examiner for the State of New York ...Civil Service Commission, sent his paper ...one of the most interesting of the ...day. It was revolutionary in suggesting ...that examinations for public appointments ...be abolished and that the ...educational institutions be called upon ...to train public servants, thus avoiding ...the expenditure of large amounts on ...examinations for jobs who are frequently ...unable to appear even in the examination ...room.

...Among other suggestions was one ...that the State Commission be empowered ...to apportion clerical appointments ...among the counties of the ...State according to population, requiring ...written examinations and allowing ...high schools to certify the names ...of graduates in order of their standing ...for positions. This form of competition ...would be based on four years ...of high school work instead of four hours ...of the civil service examination room.

PSYCHOLOGICALLY.

...C. C. Whitman, secretary of the ...California State Commission, described ...the psychological method of Hugo ...Munsterberg and the observational ...methods employed by large corporations ...in the selection and promotion ...of employees. He suggested the ...operation of civil service as a scientific ...employment bureau the functions of ...which, however, should extend beyond ...the selection of suitable eligibles and ...should supervise the promotion or ...elimination of those who are in State ...or civic service.

...The merit system in the public ...schools was thoroughly exploited by ...J. E. Campbell of the Pueblo (Colorado) Commission. He stated that ...this while not only fair to the teachers, would eliminate any bias on the ...part of supervisors or school officials ...and bring out the best efforts of the ...teacher. "Certain scales of credits ...and merit marks could easily be established to determine the promotion ...and increase of salaries for teachers," ...he stated. "At the end of the year ...the teachers could be divided into ...four classes, those to be eliminated ...entirely because of unpromising ...work, those to be retained without an increase of salary; those to ...be given a small increase because of ...more than average ability and those ...showing the best work to be given ...the maximum increase and choice of ...promotions."

...Dr. Francis B. Kellogg, former president of the local Civil Service Reform League, discussed the financing and management of the commission, urging that wherever permissable, the fund should be taken from the tax assessments as is done here. F. E. Doty, secretary of the Los Angeles County Commission, advised consolidation of all commissions occupying jointly the same territory, such as city and county commissions, thus increasing the efficiency and securing more easy co-operation of the State examiners.

...Today's programme contains many vital papers and this evening, the annual banquet is scheduled for the Alexandria Hotel. At this United States Senator James D. Phelan will make his first address in Southern California since his election.

Cumnock.

TWENTY-FIRST COMMENCEMENT.

SCHOOLS OF LIBERAL ARTS GRADUATE CLASSES.

Pupils and Members of the Faculty Participate in Programme that Ends up the Week's Ceremonies Excepting the Alumnae Banquet Tomorrow.

The Cumnock School of Expression and Cumnock Academy celebrated their twenty-first commencement last night with exercises in which the graduating classes of both schools took part. The programme took place in Cumnock Hall, which was crowded with parents and friends of the students. The stage was banked with thousands of large white poppies with gold centers, which transformed it into a bower of beauty.

Miss Jane Farley, a member of the faculty, gave three readings from Rabinadranath Tagore, "Love Songs," "Child Songs" and "The Postoffice." Miss Martha Weaver, principal of the academy, who will next year be director of the school, delivered the commencement address and distributed the diplomas. Music was furnished by a trio under the direction of Miss Ruth Hitchcock. Mrs. Eliza Tupper Wilkes delivered the invocation and the benediction.

The exercises last night were the culmination of the commencement week ceremonies. On Tuesday evening the members of the graduating class in the expression school presented their class play, "The Piper," in Eagle Rock Park. Wednesday morning the graduates in the academy held class day exercises on the lawn before "The House in the Garden." The final affair of the week, the alumnae banquet, takes place tomorrow. Mrs. Fred B. West, president of the Alumnae Association, will preside. Miss Ethel Phillips, a member of the senior class, will speak for them.

Those who graduated last night from the school of expression are: Marguerite Alsip, Oma Margaret Anderson, Hallie Best, Elizabeth Beveridge, Linnie Cooper, Ruth Dowling, Grace Gore, Helen Hardison, Marion Norris, Roberta Phillips, Gladys Smith, Ida Sutherland and Sara Walker.

The academy graduates are: Gladys Barnes, Ruth Bronson, Iva French, Rachael Fulks, Marion Gerard, Pauline Bowles, Myrtle Hostetter, Bernice Kitchen, Helen Lehman, Marcelle Mahan, Katharine Reynolds, Margaret Rose, Florence Wilson and Miriam Woodward.

Life's Gentler Side—Society, Music, Song and the Dance—The Theaters

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

SOCIETY has a treat in store tonight, at the Gamut Club.

For the clever Amateur Players are presenting two dramatic playlets, and one of these is from local playwrights—"The Quiet Beat," in which Alfred Allen and Ruth Comfort Mitchell collaborated, the dramatis personae featuring a man, a woman and a policeman, the characterizations to be taken by C. N. Mortenson, Mrs. Samuel Storrow and W. J. Dodd, respectively.

Barrie's "Twelve Pound Look" is to furnish the second part of the programme, with Mrs. Henry S. Van Dyke portraying the lead (Ethel Barrymore's role,) with Mrs. Louis Scott, Norwood Howard and Frank Seavers taking other parts.

There is absolutely nothing amateurish in the finished productions this credible coterie of students of the drama "put on" from time to time. And they are always brilliant social events.

Mrs. Burnham Here.

Mrs. William Burnham, who arrived yesterday from Kansas City, is to form the delightful inspiration for several social events of note, paramount of which is the tea Mrs. Henry Sharpe Cheney is to give on the afternoon of Tuesday, June 29, at her home on No. 1511 South Figueroa street. Mrs. Burnham, by the way, is Mrs. Cheney's niece and will be her house guest for some time. Over 150 cards were issued yesterday for the function.

A pretty farewell courtesy was extended by Mrs. G. Alexander Bobrick of No. 2869 West Eighth street, to Mrs. Elizabeth Coakley yesterday afternoon, in the form of a bridge luncheon of beautiful appointments.

The twenty-eight guests were seated at two large tables, each of which held a gorgeous lace cover, centered in a limpid miniature pool banked in ferns. The corsage bouquets of red sweet peas, gypsophila and maiden-hair fronds formed an outer border, and the flowers and ferns were placed over the board's surface with artistic arrangement.

In the drawing-room, where the ladies afterward enjoyed a contest at auction, enchantress carnations were used profusely.

Covers were placed for Mmes. Elizabeth Coakley, H. H. Rose, W. W. Neuer, George H. Rector, Michael F. Regan, F. H. Nichols, Robert Brunton, Estelle Larned, Ralph Hickox, Turner Elmer Weatherholt, Thomas Wright, Frank Blinn, Clair S. Tappan, H. Harrington, J. C. Cline, F. M. Pennell, J. H. Pelper, Ralph Deming, P. H. Bresee, George W. Saurret, Ira Chapman, J. Filbert Warfield, Frank Jay, Henry Bell, Ralph Hagan, R. J. Gibson and Lester Robinson.

Mrs. Coakley was a luncheon hostess on Wednesday, entertaining at the Alexandria. The ladies were seated at a board done in pink gladioli intermingled with gypsophila, covering being laid for Mrs. Lester Robinson, Mrs. George H. Rector, Mrs. Thomas Wright, Mrs. Turner Elmer Weatherholt, Mrs. G. Alexander Bobrick, Mrs. George W. Saurret, Mrs. J. Harry Pieper and Mrs. Coakley.

Mrs. Coakley leaves tomorrow for her home in Boston, after a decidedly happy visit in Los Angeles.

Warner-Warner.

A beautiful home wedding, sweet and simple, was that of Miss Marian Frances Warner to Dr. Horace Emory Warner on Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock, the service being read before a limited gathering of relatives and intimate friends at the home of the groom's parents, on No. 2237 Harvard boulevard. Dr. George Davidson of St. Johns was officiant, using the full Episcopal service.

Enchantress carnations, hydrangeas and palms converted the drawing-room into a floral bower, where stood the happy pair as they plighted their troth. The bride wore her tailleur of bronze-green taffeta with chic hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley.

An informal reception and supper followed, and Dr. and Mrs. Warner left on the evening train for the north.

The bride is the lovely daughter of Mrs. Frank Monroe Warner, formerly of Springfield, Mo., but has lived in Los Angeles the past four years. Dr. Warner is the fine young son of Emory A. Warner, long a resident of the city. They will be at home after August 1 at No. 2626 Kenwood avenue.

In Shasta Daisies.

Mrs. Lucius L. Vogel gave an attractive dinner recently at her home on No. 2271 Cambridge as a farewell to her brother and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. John Chalmers, who left on Monday for their home in Buffalo after a delightful three weeks' visit in Los Angeles. The table had a continued bed of Shasta daisies, veiled in gorgeous tulle bows, and covers were laid for Dr. and Mrs. Chalmers, Mr. and Mrs. James Chalmers of Ocean Park, D. Duncan Chalmers, Mr. and Mrs. William Diamond of Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fleming, Miss Wilma Rowe and the hostess.

Another Score for Cupid.

Rev. J. M. Schaefle of the Pico Heights First Congregational Church officiated at a pretty, though quiet wedding on Wednesday night, which united Miss Grace E. Ebanues, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Ebanues, No. 326 West Thirty-first street, and Wallace G. Daniels. Miss Fay C. Daniels, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and Lester Ebanues served as best man, while little Marjorie Prianix, the groom's niece, was flower girl.

Pink, white and green predominated in the decorations, with quantities of roses banked on mantels and showered in tall holders.

The bride wore a white taffeta frock with long tulle veil, which was banded to her hair in orange blossoms. Bride's roses and lilies of the valley formed her shower bouquet.

Mr. Daniels and his bride are honeymooning in San Diego, for which place they left in their machine immediately following the ceremony.

For Popular Visitor.

Matilija poppies graced the pretty luncheon board of Miss Biroque Baker yesterday, No. 1616 Vine street, when Miss Myrtle Lander, Miss Helen Dickey, Miss Mabelle Lewis, Miss Edith Tierson, Mrs. D. A. Moeller, Mrs. Harlan Thomas and Mrs. C. LeRoy Lowman were bidden in honor of Miss Harriet Arnold, who is the house guest of her sisters, Mrs. Lowman. Bridge was enjoyed.

—o—

Interesting Announcement.

Of interest to her many friends in Los Angeles is the announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Lavinia Fay, daughter of Mrs. William Fay of San Diego, to John Dudley Phelps of San Francisco, to be solemnized at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in the southern city next Wednesday.

The ceremony will be quiet, with only members of the families present.

—o—

Environed in Art.

A delightful meeting of old friends among lovers of art was that of Saturday in the library of Mrs. George A. Dobinson in the Little Theater Building. The walls of the library and hall were covered with art treasures brought out for the occasion and the flower decorations were yellow and gold.

Mrs. Ernest Loud of South Pasadena presided over the punch table while a bevy of girls served.

The meeting was the first of a series to be continued in the fall by Mrs. Dobinson, who will be assisted by Amanda Mathews Chase. The programme consisted of notes from the diary of Mrs. Chase, gathered while traveling in Ireland and reading of her Irish stories by Mrs. Dobinson. Mrs. Grace W. Mabee gave dainty Irish songs with Gertrude Ross at the piano.

—o—

Domiciled at the Huntley.

Mrs. H. W. Lamberton of Boise, M. Wineburgh and daughters of New York, Miss Ida Pratt of San Diego, Dr. H. Lionais of Montreal and Messrs. B. and V. E. Durdall of Portland are new arrivals at the Huntley.

—o—

Sorority Dinner.

Omicron chapter of the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority of the University of California held an initiation Saturday at the home of Mrs. Robert Phelps, No. 185 South Ardmore avenue.

They were afterwards entertained to dinner by Mrs. Edgar Cline of No. 203 North Wilton place. Decorations were in the sorority colors—red, buff and green, carried out in roses and ferns.

The visiting Alpha Gamma Delta members were Misses Florence Cadman and Helen Moore of Berkeley, Miss Lucy Keith of Riverside, Miss Helen Manske of Pomona, Miss Edith Waterhouse of Pasadena, Miss Helen Hall of National City, Miss Merle Young of Newhall, Miss Ione Kirk of Los Angeles and Miss Rose Nigg of Covina.

Those initiated were Misses Myrtle Young of Pasadena, Florence Byle, Charlotte Donaldson, Laura deCamp, Edith Wiggs, Hazel Wiggs, Mrs. Robert Phelps and Mrs. Edgar Cline of Los Angeles, Miss Verna Perrego of Pasadena, Miss Lillian Charlton of National City, Miss Lillian Wait of San Fernando and Mrs. W. M. Coman of Oxnard.

An alumnae chapter is to soon be formed in Los Angeles.

—o—

Birthday Garden Party.

Celebrating the birthday of their manly grandson, William Howe Kennedy Jr., the Dwight Saterlees are giving a garden party tomorrow. Tables will be laid for sixteen under the widespreading branches of a huge apricot tree. There will be place cards, gay with standing figures of animals in costume, flower girls, street musicians and attractive subjects. Lemonade will be served with straws and there will be a big birthday cake with burning tapers. After luncheon, surprise packages are to be opened and various out-door games enjoyed.

To Summer Here.

Mrs. W. S. Sultan and little daughter Charlotte arrived Tuesday from their home in Globe, Ariz., to spend the summer with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Fanta, No. 1610 West Tenth street. They are to spend the summer in Hermosa Beach, having taken a house from July first for the season.

A Recent Hostess.

At the Sierra Madre Club recently, Mrs. F. M. Pennell entertained members of the West Lake Auction Bridge Club and several guests at a pretty luncheon of pink decorations, the coterie being seated at four tables, centered in mounds of Cecil Brunner rose buds, with place cards done in pink flora. Bidden were Mesdames Ralph Hagan, William J. Varied, Frank Jay, George H. Rector, John W. Summerfield, Edwin J. Brent, J. Zemansky, Albert Mortenson, William Moorehouse, A. J. Sherer, John Cline, Frank Bowles, Fred Gollum, T. Elmer Weatherholt, G. Alexander Bobrick, Charles Kuns, Hall of South Pasadena, Leon Dogy, Donald Keeler and Miss Crowe.

Sail Today.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Tomblin of No. 720 West Twenty-eighth street leave today on the Kroonland for New York, via the Panama Canal. They will return inland, stopping to visit friends in Chicago, Omaha and San Francisco.

—o—

Home From the North.

Capt. and Mrs. Harmon Ryus returned last night from their motoring trip through Northern California and to the San Francisco Exposition. Their return was somewhat hurried for little Celeste's party tomorrow, when with Catherine Wise, she gives a dancing party at the Bryson—an auspicious event that is causing the large list of little ladies and escorts' hearts to flutter with anticipated joy. There is to be a real cotillion by this great human bouquet of tiny children.

With all the sangfroid of their elders, the small hostesses are to be assisted by little Flora Hollingsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Irving Hollingsworth, who will be dressed as Flora, the fairy goddess of the flowers; Louise Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Fitzgerald; Dorothy Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson; Elizabeth Lippincott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lippincott, and Master Tommy Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Lee.

Assisting Mrs. Wise and Mrs. Ryus will be Miss Dorothy Armstrong, Miss Emily Warner, Miss Laura May Gysin, Miss Bessie Hayward, Miss Beatriz Burnham, Miss Grace McCormick, Miss Willie McClelland and Miss Dorothy Jackins.

—o—

"Phi Alpha" Week-End Party.

Members of the Phi Alpha Fraternity gave a week-end house party at the Ford's cottage in Seaside Park. Dancing was enjoyed Saturday evening and Sunday was devoted to boating and swimming.

Those attending were: Misses Grace Parsons, Betty Miller, Ruth Taylor, Helen Mauzy, Bessie Simons, Adelia Rothgeb and Messrs. Howland Ford, Fred Ford, Jack Ferguson, Donald Ferguson, Donald Forker, Leon Hopkins, and Milton Ackerman. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. E. G. Taylor and Mrs. James Ferguson.

—o—

An Outing Worth While.

The young people of the Beverly Hills Hotel will go on an elaborate outing tomorrow, motoring down to the shore for a swim and then take their lunch up the beach for a picnic and spend the afternoon in motoring.

Mrs. Horace Emory Warner,
Who was Miss Marian Frances Warner.

FOR WOMEN AND MEN.

Facts, Features and Fancies.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

THESE are out-door days. Are you living up to the opportunity which they offer?

In-the-house becomes a habit; but now is the time to break it. If you are not of those who spend hours spinning along the alluring country roads in a motor car, you may at least live in the open upon your own place, if you have one. Upon the porch, which is furnished for summer, if you have no yard, you may disport from dawn till dusk and even spend the night. And anyhow, however you live and whatever you do not possess in the way of liberators from the in-door thraldom, you may take advantage of the lovely parks which are to be found in nearly all parts of the city and there you may lunch, dine—yes even breakfast! It has always been surprising to me that so little of this is done in our city. In eastern and northern cities the parks are utilized by all classes for the delightful out-door life which is so welcome a part of summer.

On Sunday morning, for instance, why not take the simple breakfast paraphernalia to the nearest park and there enjoy the fresh and glorious air while repasting, and afterward while reading the morning Times, saturate your body with the magnetism of earth—replenish your forces for the week to come. Why not—if you are the home-keeper—invite the family to meander parkward at close of the day's work, instead of going to the house, and when they arrive, have ready for them the out-door dinner, simple, palatable and even more than that—delectable by reason of the different surroundings. Do not feel that it is too much trouble to make this innovation. Do not—you need not—make it a trouble if you will adhere to the simplicity which such a meal demands. There are now so many papery things for making the out-in-the-open meal a success that almost no dishes are required.

A New Paper Package.

For the motor lunch or park dinner there is a new package purchasable for a single car-fare. It consists of a tablecloth of paper, six napkins, six drinking cups and a paper towel. For double the sum there is a package which includes in addition to the articles named, six picnic spoons, six paper plates. In fact, you may obtain at merely nominal cost nearly every article needed for the out-of-doors meal and the saving in laundry as well as in bother is worthy of consideration. Above all, such conveniences tempt to the open-air-life of which no one can have too much, especially in our lovely climate.

Enamel-ware Your Kitchen.

The opportunity to stock your kitchen with enamel ware in a lovely shade of blue is yours—or will be in a few days, the articles costing a phenomenally small sum. The ware is in Dutch blue, both inside and out and there is almost everything wanted to bedeck the space above the sink where hang such utensils as well as to stock the pantry with the wanted articles of every day and infrequent use. The provident housewife will—in case she does not need them now—supply herself for the future, will fill the emergency shelf with these wares. For the summer cottage at beach or mountain this is a real price-saving opportunity. Truly, I think that in the temporary home such articles with a dainty look, give even more pleasure than in the all-the-time home, where they are taken as a matter of course.

Fraternity Tables.

In that large household department of a lower Broadway store they make a specialty of preparing tables for college fraternities and for college clubs of all sorts.

For instance, they have placed at present a Yale table, set with china in appropriate coloring and having the big Yale football as a center piece and Yale emblems as souvenirs and place cards, as well as favors. The big blue "Y" is conspicuous and the little footballs at each place will for long remind the partakers of that feast. Any college or any fraternity may be there supplied with all the paraphernalia for a similarly bedecked table. The local high schools will also find it possible to here obtain their emblems for feasts.

A Powder Glove.

A wee glove for placing upon your two fingers and for keeping handy in your hand-bag, is a recently introduced aid to vanity. The glove is of fleece and is clasped within a tiny folded case of leather, which takes but small space in the hand-bag while insured by its outer covering for perfect cleanliness.

Star Cut.

Stars in the world of useful glass are those new tall tumblers, cut with the popular star of drinking glass favor. Those are for sale at just about the cost of the plain, undecorated tumblers. They are fine for serving iced tea, being tall, thin and of excellent shape as well as quality.

For the Tall Drink.

Perfectly proper and temperance is this tall drink, of which I shall tell. First place in a big, cool bowl the juice of as many lemons as there are persons to serve. Sweeten the juice—not too sweet—and add a few branches of mint well crushed. Allow this mixture to stand for a few moments or even for half an hour. Then add a piece of ice and allow to remain until quite cold. Fill with water—sufficient for say two glasses to each person or to each lemon—and then pour into the glasses which have been provided with a sprig of mint each and two fine ripe strawberries or if preferred two or three red raspberries. Possibly other fruits might do, but these add the required touch of color. This drink is delicious and most refreshing, the mint adding flavor and also just a shade of wickedness by thought association with called for, the southern julep.

A Gift for Him.

So infrequently is he thought about in the giving of wedding presents that it is pleasant to find one especially intended for him. I discovered it in that mid-Broadway jewelry house, where there is always something interesting and novel. It is a mixing bottle for making salad dressing. You know every man prides himself nowadays upon making some especially fine sort of salad dressing—that is every man of savoire faire. This bottle is of fine cut glass, and has a stopper of silver. There are several decorations upon the glass and no one not informed, would observe that among these are marks which indicate the amount of oil, of vinegar, etc., which shall go into the bottle to form the successful salad dressing. Of course he will not call attention to these occult marks, preferring to arrogate to himself all the credit for the delectable dressing, and the bottle will never proclaim the fraud. Of such are men and of such this bottle.

And a Marmalade Jar.

"Give us this day our morning marmalade." This might be said to be the devout petition of those—supposed to be principally English and Bostonese—who think no breakfast complete without its marmalade or bit of jam. To such the new and pretty jars seen in a jewelry house situated in the same Broadway number as the one above referred to, would strongly appeal. These new marmalade jars are of crystal and the stoppers of the dainty covers are done in enamel. Some are in white, but the one I most coveted was of turquoise. There is also a spoon with enameled handle to match the cover knob. Think of the additional favor given to the favorite marmalade by one of these artistic jars!

Shirt Sets.

For the new soft shirts for women, there is a new set of buttons and links. Lovely are these in either gold, enamel or in the newly popular crystal. One lovely set was of crystal inset with amethyst, which beautiful stone is coming into its own again. The set consists of six buttons for the front of the shirt and links for the over-turned cuffs. These would lend an air of elegance to the negligee which would redeem it from the common-place.

Awning Stripes.

Awning stripes, awning stripes everywhere! In the silk from which the summer frock is made, in the summer blouse, in the outing hat and even in the beach umbrella. The wider, the blacker and whiter, the better! Some of the new silks are almost amazing in the width of stripe—but since fashion has thus decreed, it is well.

Upon Fashion's Handbook.

White serge is very popular.

Belts will be used a great deal.

The small girl should wear jacket effects.

There are evening coats of white taffeta.

Scallops appear on colored linen dresses.

Fine rep serge is a very popular material.

Cotton crepe will make the little girl a picturesque dress.

Checked materials there are, and they cannot be too daring.

Striped handkerchief linen frocks for morning are charming.

Gainsborough hats are among the old-new types in millinery.

White organdie is the material for the cool summer frock.

Delightful summer suits are made of heavy cotton crepe.

"Midnight" blue is the favorite color for smart taffeta suits.

The fabric hat is more in evidence than the hat of straw.

Lingerie dresses made half of silk are novel and charming.

The dress of wash silk is cool and economical.

The all-white hat of cotton crepe is very smart.

The hat with a touch of cretonne is distinctly quaint.

Tussor silk and tulle are one of the new combinations.

Transparent hat brims have returned to favor.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, June 18.—Charles Y. [illegible], inventor of the Silent Knight [illegible] who came to Pasadena last [illegible] as a refugee from England, [illegible] purchased the Charles K. [illegible] place at No. 818 South Orange [illegible] avenue, for $50,000, according [illegible] Balsaborn-Hunter, who made [illegible] sale.

The property has a frontage of 132 [illegible] and a depth of 250 feet. It is [illegible] on South Orange Grove avenue [illegible] Bellefontaine street. The [illegible] is one of the handsomest [illegible] in the Crown City and is situated [illegible] a garden of flowers and [illegible] of wondrous beauty.

In the purchase of this property, [illegible] has become the permanent [illegible] of two of the best-known automobile men in the country. Last [illegible] John N. Willys bought the [illegible] home on Orange Grove avenue.

EDITOR MARRIES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, June 17.—Frantic with a blazing lantern at his heels a calf on S. S. Duntley's ranch at Cypress dashed into a barn and up a pile of loose hay. The hay caught afire in a dozen places and the barn was burned.

While driving two stubborn calves out of the barn and away from their mothers, Mr. Duntley set the lantern on the ground. One of the calves circled and made a desperate run for the barn. The end of a rope tied to the calf caught in the lantern. The calf ran like a dog with a tin can tied to his tail.

Mr. Duntley managed to get the calf and two cows out of the barn. The barn, six tons of hay and four tons of dried beet pulp were destroyed; loss, $400; insurance, $255.

SEEKS SAFETY IN JAIL FLEEING FROM MEXICO.

BRAWLEY, June 17.—Begging for the protection of a jail cell, Alexander D. Smith, 26 years old, rushed into the City Hall today asking shelter from Mexicali white slavers. Marshal Marshall locked him up and in his very apparent relief he related a weird story of arrest, imprisonment and escape from Mexican authorities.

Escaping across the line while bullets whizzed past his head, he says he brought word that an American girl is held in a Mexicali prison and that on one occasion, when he had seen her attacked by the jailors, he was prevented from going to her rescue by his bars and their bayonets.

He said he was in an opium den in Mexicali one night last week when some one charged he was an American customs officer. He was attacked and in the fight he struck a Chinese and for this he was sentenced to jail. When there he says three Carranzista spies were shot and later he heard the soldiers speak of the burial and "bloody blankets."

He also learned, he says, that Henry Marron, a Los Angeles boy, and an American from Tuscon are held prisoners in the Mexicali jail. He also gained an insight as to the methods of white slavers.

"On Monday I saw the girl brought into the corridor," says Smith, "and the guards assailed her. She was American, had auburn hair and was about five feet, nine inches tall. It was pitiable. Later as I was being led out to work on the road, I passed her and she pleaded 'for God's sake help me.'

"That afternoon, as we were working near the border, I watched my chance and ran for the American side. The guards fired at me but I got here. Since then I have been followed and I know my life is wanted because of what I saw. I could stand it no longer so came to the police."

Marshal Marshall believes the man is entirely sane and that his story is essentially true. He will report the case to the Federal officers on the border, although it is a question what action can be taken. The police telegraphed to Smith's father at Concord, near Oakland, and he answered that he was starting for Brawley tonight.

SPECTACULAR RESCUE ON HIGH POLE AT SANTA PAULA RODEO SHOW.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA PAULA, June 17.—More spectacular than the rescues made by movie actors was the one in real life at the Converse ranch rodeo, when Barnie Fernandez, after coming in contact with a high-power wire, was lariated and saved from electrocution by "Babe" Pratt and dropped safely to the ground.

Fernandez's right hand was burned to a crisp and his legs are badly burned. His arm will have to be amputated. Fernandez's rescue was made before the eyes of hundreds of people gathered on the Converse ranch to watch the big rodeo, the spectators including movie picture actors gathered to film the rodeo, musicians and spectators.

Fernandez climbed a high pole for the purpose of putting up a flag. He came in contact with the high power wire and began to shriek for help. Pratt was one of the first to see his danger, and instantly cuts his way up through the lower wires to a point near Fernandez, threw his rope about him, and let him down to the ground.

TAKE OVER SHIP AS A TRANSPORT.

CROWN OF SEVILLE IS SERVING BRITAIN TO CARRY HER TROOPS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, June 17.—The Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company, agents for the Harrison line, has received word that the British steamer Crown of Seville, which has been on berth at London to load general cargo for Balfour, Guthrie & Co., has been taken over by the British Admiralty for transport purposes. The steamer was scheduled to call here, and reached London only last week to take on cargo for Pacific Coast ports between California and British Columbia.

The Harrison line has suffered the loss of a number of ships that have been calling here besides those taken over by the Admiralty. Submarine attacks and guns from the Germans have sent to the bottom the Benefactor, Candidate, Diplomat and Centurion. The Wayfarer was also torpedoed, but managed to make port.

The Pacific Coast Company's steamer President, which sailed today for San Francisco and Puget Sound, will hereafter omit Victoria as port of call. This will apply also to the steamers Congress and Governor of the same line. Hereafter the three steamers will sail direct for San Francisco and Seattle, omitting the British Columbian port also on the south-bound trip.

The change has been made necessary on account of the shortening of the schedule of the big steamers, which will herafter give twice-a-week sailings on the through run to the Sound. The Southern California passengers for Victoria will be transferred to the City of Puebla and Umatilla at San Francisco.

CHANGE QUARTERS TO CENTRAL POST.

KANSAS CITY TO BE CENTER OF SOLDIERS' HOME AFFAIRS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOLDIERS' HOME, June 17.—The board of managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers have changed the headquarters office from New York to Kansas City.

The change is made in conformity with a long-mooted suggestion, that headquarters, for greater convenience, of all branches, should be more centrally situated.

Maj. Moses Harris, U.S.A. (retired.) for many years general treasurer of the National Home, has tendered his resignation, to take effect on June 30. His successor has not yet been named.

Col. J. F. Guilfoyle, commanding the Nnith Regiment, United States Cavalry, stationed at Naco, Ariz., who is enjoying a leave of absence, visited Gen. Barry, Governor of this branch, today. Col. Guilfoyle was at the Military Academy of Nebraska during the period when Gen. Barry was Adjutant-General of that State, and the old friends enjoyed an hour of pleasurable reminiscences. The colonel motored all the way from Naco to this place, and purposes continuing on to the exposition at San Francisco.

SEARCHING STATE FOR LITTLE DOG.

CORPS OF DETECTIVES ARE ON TRAIL OF TWO-POUND FRENCH TOY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, June 17.—Detectives have been searching Southern California during the past five weeks with all the zest that a man-hunt would evolve for a mite of a dog, a French toy, belonging to Mrs. C. L. Jordan, a wealthy resident of Rialto.

The dog, which weighs just about two pounds, was stolen by Mexicans from the Jordan automobile. It was traced by detectives to Colton, then to this city, and on to Ontario, where the trail closed up.

The object of the search resembles an insect more than an animal, and it would take an expert identification artist to develop the footprints of the pet on a roll of butter.

Mrs. Jordan has such a regard for the value of the dog that several sleuths have been in her employ for weeks, it is reported. The Mexicans who stole the animated fortune turned it over to others for a small amount. It has passed hands several times.

LOOK OVER GROUND.

While the court and jury is holding a session out-of-doors looking over the land and wells involved in the water suit of San Bernardino versus Riverside, the trial has been continued until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the large party of jurors, engineers and attorneys will return from the inspection with Judge Finlayson.

As soon as the court secures the geographical information desired the trial will continue and San Bernardino will present several historical witnesses and owners of wells in the valley artesian basin.

L. M. McFee, driving a wagon on the Fourth-street hill just west of the city, was struck from behind by a racing automobile and escaped death by a matter of inches. He was thrown clear of the wreck of his wagon. The auto, which bore a State license number issued to George D. Kamphefner of Glendora, drove on after the accident, McFee declares.

FAVOR OF DEFENDANTS.

Ostriches at Calipatria Not Proven to Be Frighteners of Horses, and $5000 Damage Suit is Lost.

EL CENTRO, June 17.—Judge Cole in the Superior Court today found for the defendant in the suit of W. R. Harper, a real estate agent, in his suit for $5000 personal damages against Carl Schader and associates.

He alleged that as a result of the wild antics and alarming shrieks of a herd of ostriches, then owned by the defendants, and confined in a corral in Calipatria, his team became frightened and ran away, throwing him to the ground. His leg was broken.

The preponderance of the evidence was to the effect that the birds, nearly a block from the scene of the runaway, were peaceful. Other evidence was introduced to show that one horse had run away before.

Judge Cole held that the plaintiff failed to prove that the birds were the approximate cause of the runaway.

Manager Arrested Charged with Operating Illegal Games at San Diego Exposition in Most Popular Concession—Campaign to Enforce Redlight Abatement Law in City.

SAN DIEGO, June 17.—Because the gambling which is carried on at the '49 camp of the exposition, the most popular concession there, is a violation of the State law, Dist.-Atty. Mahoney says he will put a stop to it. H. A. Burnside, manager of the games, was arrested late this afternoon on complaint of A. L. Beverly, a detective from the District Attorney's office.

Burnside is charged with violation of the laws governing gambling. He will be tried tomorrow morning before Justice Keating and the case will probably be made a test. Tonight the '49 camp was running the same as usual.

It is the contention of Burnside and those conducting the camp that the games played there, including roulette, craps, faro and other games, are not affected by the law, as only scrip is played for.

The District Attorney says the law covers the case, as it states that any game played for money or other representative of value is unlawful. The scrip which is purchased by players at the bank of the camp is accepted at the Cafe Cristobal in payment for meals, or at the department store of the camp, where various articles from downtown stores are kept.

The '49 camp is the best-paying concession at the fair and it is estimated that more than 75 per cent. of the gate attendance patronizes the layout, which is a representation of a mining camp.

Some weeks ago the District Attorney stated that it did not come under his jurisdiction as the park had been set aside by an act of the Legislature. Today the District Attorney stated he had not taken action at the camp before because he did not have the evidence of gambling, but that more arrests would follow that of Burnside.

The camp has been patronized by every class, including society folk, gamblers, sailors and marines.

A campaign for the enforcement of the redlight abatement law was begun here today. The plans were outlined today by Chief of Police Wilson and Dr. Robert C. Barton, secretary of the Morals Efficiency Committee of Southern California, who managed the State campaign for the passage of the law.

A warning has been issued to all property owners whose property is being used for immoral purposes and following this there will be prosecutions through the District Attorney's office.

POMONA PEOPLE SEE SEA-GREEN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, June 17.—The city is being searched for an exponent of the cubist art, there being great and righteous indignation because somebody striped every house in two blocks on East Fifth street with light green paint before daybreak Thursday morning.

The police have had to cope with parties who thought it great sport to paint the town red, but this is their first experience with a son of St. Patrick who couldn't confine his art work to his own back fence.

When the populace stirred itself Thursday morning and went out to pail the cows, the people residing on East Fifth street between Towne and Eleanor streets, began to see green. They investigated the streaks on the sides of their houses and found that the color was fresh green paint. Whoever did the job daubed every house on both sides of the street for two blocks. It is a very embarrassing moment for a painter who lives in one of the blocks.

OXNARD NOTES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OXNARD, June 17.—Union revival services, in which the Protestant churches of the city are joining, began this week in a big tent in the downtown section of the city, Dr. J. Q. A. Henry being the evangelist in charge of the meetings, which will continue for three weeks.

To grace the Mary Magdalene memorial chapel at Camarillo, a beautiful painting has been received by A. Camarillo, which he purchased in Puebla, Mex. The picture, which was painted by a Spanish artist in 1700, and is a life-size painting of St. Peter, was brought to Mexico 150 years ago and placed in the convent of San Francisco, in Puebla, where it was when Mr. Camarillo purchased it.

The Archbishop Francisco Mendoza, of Durango, Mex., presided at the dedication of the Church of Our Lady of Guadaloupe, a new Catholic chapel for the Spanish-speaking people, erected in the eastern section of Oxnard. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Fr. Miguel Ornate of the Plaza Church of Los Angeles.

The permanent wharfs of the Hueneme Wharf and Warehouse Company, erection of which has been begun, will cost $50,000, and will be of concrete and creosoted piles, according to the decision of the directors of the company.

Resolutions in favor of bonding the city of Oxnard for $90,000 for street improvement were passed by the Board of Trade with the recommendation that the issue be put through at once, so that the work might be done during the winter, to provide employment during the dull season.

ROUND TRIP FLIGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, June 17.—Lieut. Leslie MacDill, U.S.A., this morning made a flight in the army tractor No. 27 from Los Angeles to San Diego. The aeroplane was flown to Los Angeles yesterday by Lieut. Carlton G. Chapham in two hours and forty minutes. The return flight today was made in three hours and was accomplished without mishap of any kind.

FRUIT CAKE

A Simple Recipe That Is Proving Immensely Popular.

One of the most favored desserts in general use is Fruit Cake. Yet very few are able to make as satisfactory fruit cake as they would like. This is probably due in many cases to some fault in the recipe, although a little change in some of the ingredients used often produces surprising results. For instance, most recipes for Fruit Cake call for the use of molasses to a greater or less extent. It has been found, however, that a much better cake can be made by using Karo Syrup instead. The next time you bake, try the following recipe for Fruit Cake, which has become the favorite with thousands of good cooks:

One cup brown sugar; 1 cup butter; 1 cup milk; 2 cups Karo Syrup; 1 tablespoon each cinnamon and cloves; grated nutmeg; 4 eggs; 4½ cups flour; ½ cup Kingford's Cornstarch; 3 teaspoons baking powder; 1 cup each raisins and currants, well floured.

Beat the butter, sugar and Karo to a cream. Add the eggs, well beaten, the milk alternately with the dry ingredients sifted together and the spice. Turn in fruit last. Bake in a very moderate oven one hour. The Karo Syrup and Kingsford's Cornstarch can be found at all good grocers.

Many People Suffering From Ants

Thousands of People Welcome This Simple Method of Relief.

Certain pests are often confined by conditions to certain localities, but ants can be found most anywhere. Ants not only are an annoyance, but they are dangerous as well—spreading disease germs in the same manner as flies and mosquitoes. Nothing tries the patience of the good housewife any more than to find them in the sugar and the jam, and over-running the entire pantry.

There is no need of putting up with this annoyance any longer, however, for a very simple remedy is now available. It is known as Kellogg's Ant Paste and can be obtained at all modern druggists. This paste seems to have almost supernatural powers over ants. Not only will it drive every ant out of a house, but will prevent their ever getting a foothold in your place again.

Try a package today—the results will be a revelation.

Boost Organizations' Plan to Consolidate.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, June 17.—Charles Forbes, alias Floyd Rexall, aged 20, who was identified today as the youth who held up the matron of Juvenile Hall last week, demanding the release of his sweetheart, was arrested by Chief of Police Cole after a chase through the downtown streets last night. Today he was turned over to Deputy Sheriffs Luckenbach and Mattox.

The police assert that Forbes burglarized at least two places in this city and is wanted for automobile stealing and burglary in Los Angeles. The prisoner denies everything except the Juvenile Hall episode.

Fred Ward of this city, while motoring to Long Beach from Los Angeles Tuesday, passed a stripped Ford driven at a rapid rate by Forbes. As Ward drew up alongside the smaller car, Forbes drew a gun and told him to "beat it." Ward secured the number of the car and gave it to the police.

Police Sergeant Wilhite found the auto parked in the rear of a paint store and called Chief Cole. Wilhite attempted to place Forbes under arrest when he appeared, but that worthy broke away and ran up the rear steps of the Stevens apartments, where he had been staying. Chief Cole took up the chase when he emerged from the front of the place and captured the youth after a run of three blocks.

A garage rented by Forbes in the harbor district contained a large quantity of stolen goods, the police assert. The number on Forbes's machine is one taken from an auto owned in Hemet, stolen six weeks ago. Forbes says he has been driving a jitney bus in Los Angeles for the past six weeks.

MAY CONSOLIDATE.

A movement to consolidate the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association and the Realty Board was placed on foot at the meeting of the chamber today. W. H. Bennett, president of the M. & M., first proposed the union, saying that the sanction of H. P. Barbour, president of the Realty Board, had been given the proposed merger.

President Wallace of the chamber will appoint a committee to co-operate with the officials and members of the two other organizations in effecting the merger.

All three bodies have been handicapped by a lack of funds for boost work and often overlap each other in the work of putting the city forward.

MARRIED AT LAST.

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher of Los Angeles telephoned today that he had united in marriage Arthur L. Vissers and Miss Emile L. Edwards Wednesday afternoon at the Temple Baptist Church. The couple, however, had not returned to the residence of Mr. Vissers on Medio street as promised by the groom last evening, although a huge stock of groceries ordered and delivered last night is spoiling in the pantry.

PUBLIC BUYS VERY SPARINGLY.

DEALINGS INDICATE A STATE OF SUSPENDED ANIMATION.

Shares of Recognized Value and the Best of the War Equipment Group Show a Semblance of Strength, but Otherwise Recessions are the Rule.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Dealings in stocks today indicated a state of suspended animation, the output falling far below the average of the early days of the month. This condition may be ascribed largely to the absence of public interest, together with the increasing disinclination of professional traders to renew operations on a large scale pending the settlement or at least a more definite outcome of the international system.

Shares of recognized intrinsic value were under moderate pressure at intermittent periods, while specialties whose claims to public attention lies in war contracts, were more or less active. Even in these issues, however, the movement was not altogether in the one direction. Bethlehem Steel common and preferred receding materially, likewise Westinghouse and a few others of the same group.

Coppers and metals were mildly reactionary, perhaps because of the severe declining of copper metal abroad and intimations of a shading of recent high prices in the local market. Federal mining, one of the recent sensational features of the metal division by reason of its meteoric rise, suffered another break of 9 points, making a total of 25 points since Monday.

United States Steel was in steady demand, the common and preferred gaining a point each. In the final dealings all leading stocks yielded a point or more, the market closing with a heavy tone. Pressure of the Chesapeake & Ohio dividend helped to weaken the list, although the action of the directors was all but a foregone conclusion.

Total sales of stocks amounted to 837,000 shares.

Although French and Italian exchanges continued to move further in favor of this country, the foreign exchange market as a whole was not an element of importance in the day's developments. French checks made the new record of 5.46¾ and lires on Genoa was quoted at 5.95½, which means that it takes almost six lires (nominal value of 19 cents each) to buy an American dollar.

Bonds were steady, total sales (par value) being $3,060,000.

United States coupon fours declined ⅝ per cent. on call.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

More Activity on The Exchange. Oil Stocks in Demand—Good Prices Prevail in Mining Stocks.

Business picked up considerably on the exchange Thursday. There was some activity in all kinds of securities. Oil stocks were strong. Union Oil selling at 55.50 and Associated at 37.25. Fifteen hundred shares of United brought 25 cents a share, a two point gain over previous days. Consolidated Mines and Big Jim Gold were freely traded in at firm prices. A sale informally of two Union Oil bonds was also reported at 85.

Yellow Pine Mining stock sold at 58⅛ and 59. This company's property is near Good Springs, Nevada, and the stock is almost all held in Los Angeles. Their earnings have been running up rapidly of late as the result of the European war, the zinc produced by the company being used in the manufacture of war munitions. A dividend of 7 cents a share will be paid to their stockholders on June 25, an advance of 6 cents a share over the regular quarterly disbursement.

Try Murine Eye Remedy for Red, Weak, Watery Eyes and Granulated Eyelids.

COMMERCIAL.

The supply of refrigerated cars for the handling of the fruit crop this year will be more than adequate, and with the lowering of the icing rate by the Pacific Fruit Express Company as announced a few days ago, together with the large bumper crops expected, fruit should reach lower price levels than have been recorded for a number of years. White and red Astrachan apples of a nice quality continue to arrive, the former bringing $1.00 a lug box, and the red variety 5 cents a pound. Apricots are plentiful and cheaper. Plenty of plums are on hand and the supply is being constantly augmented. Small shipments of fancy gooseberries are coming in now from Utah, with larger quantities due in a few days. No Oregon gooseberries have arrived for the last day or two, so the Utah variety has the market to itself. White and yellow peaches are bringing 5 cents a pound.

Not many changes were noticed among the green vegetables. Green lima beans dropped and were offered at 8 and 9 cents per pound. Corn was more expensive and sold at 65 and 70 cents a lug box, but eggplant declined to 6½ and 7 cents a pound. Peas were also less and crooked neck squash appeared on the market at 45 a box. Tomatoes were very plentiful and were on the market in large amounts at cheap prices. New potatoes were quoted at 50 cents in lug boxes. Imperial Valley Bermuda onions were quite numerous and brought 80 cents a crate, but onions in sacks were cleaned off the market.

Trading in the produce exchange Thursday was light and confined to butter, creamery extras selling at 25 and 26. Eggs were weak with no sales. Receipts were 499 cases of eggs and 78,670 pounds of butter. Cheese to the extent of 3100 pounds arrived. The call for potatoes was slow and receipts were 107 sacks. The remainder of the receipts were 249 crates of onions and 40 sacks of beans.

They get gold.

Miss Dorothy V. M. Risdon (above) and Miss Gladys Sowers, two of the contestants in The Times Educational Contest, who were among the winners of the half-dozen special cash rewards for a two weeks' campaign just closed.

Among these five is the De Chauvenet Conservatory of Music, valuable scholarships for which instruction are being offered by The Times in the present educational contest. This institution is established in the large and well-lighted Fraternal Brotherhood Building, at Figueroa and Lincoln streets, and is under the direction of Jean de Chauvenet.

In addition to the unusually commodious rooms, the conservatory has at its disposal an excellent recital hall. The concert hall is a handsome Moorish room, ranking with the best auditoriums of this sort in the city, and containing a stage amply equipped for dramatic and musical entertainments.

Pupils' and teachers' recitals and choral and orchestral classes are special features of the conservatory work, in addition to instructive lectures on musical subjects.

Mr. De Chauvenet, dean of the conservatory and principal of the piano and organ departments, studied with eminent teachers of both America and Europe. He has traveled extensively as a concert pianist, and has held important organ positions in the East, in addition to having had charge of the music departments in three State universities.

Mr. De Chauvenet's talent for composition has met with commendation from the judges of awards of Musica, the Parisian musical journal, and from the great pianists of Europe, as well as from the world-celebrated professors in the National Conservatory at Paris.

Wilhelm Middelschulte of Berlin, the organ composer, and for years organist of the Chicago Orchestra, wrote the following:

"Mr. Jean de Chauvenet has been studying the organ with me for six years. Naturally gifted with musical talent, he has accomplished himself by close application. He is capable of performing difficult compositions of the classical and modern school with good technique and musical taste. Mr. De Chauvenet also has had experience in church playing, and I recommend him to churches in need of a reliable organist."

The vocal work of the De Chauvenet Conservatory of Music is one of the most thorough and popular of any of the departments of the school, and is under the supervision of Mme. Jean de Chauvenet. Mrs. De Chauvenet has had wide experience in the promotion of education and musical enterprises. She possesses in large measure the gift of the "natural teacher." She, however, places her work on a studied scientific basis, having had a thorough teaching course in psychology and pedagogy prior to her work as instructor, which covers public and private school teaching in educational and musical lines.

Mme. De Chauvenet possesses a pure lyric soprano voice of remarkable range. She has had most excellent advantages in musical instruction, having graduated with high honors at the Des Moines College of Music, completed a post-graduate course and special oratorio work under Mr. English of London, Eng., and having studied the Italian method under a well-known Italian artist. While recently in Europe she took special work and coaching under William Shakespeare in London and A. L. Hettich, instructor in the National Conservatory at Paris. She has also had wide experience in concert, oratorio and church work.

HIS LABORS TO DIE.

Man Works Five Hours for Forty Cents to Buy Poison with Which to End His Life.

Christopher Ehlshide, 45 years old and friendless, is dead. He worked five hours for forty cents and used the profits of his labor to purchase a strong poison. Then he returned to his home, No. 327 New High street, and swallowed the potion that brought death within two minutes.

Like all suicides, he had given the warning scream as he drank to his death, and other persons in the house notified the police. The body was taken to the Button morgue.

WHEAT PRICES ARE IRREGULAR.

NEWS THAT DARDANELLES ARE OPENED CAUSES FLURRY.

Later These Reports are Denied, but the Closing is Unsettled, Being a Fraction Either Way—Persistent Buying of Corn Adds Nearly a Cent to Values—Oats Variable.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 17.—Rumors of important success for the British and French in their efforts to reopen the Dardanelles did a good deal today to make wheat average lower in price. The market closed unsettled at ⅛@1 off to ⅛ advance. Corn finished unchanged to ⅛ higher, oats ⅛ down to a sixteenth up, and provisions the same as last night to 15c decline. Lowest prices of the day in the wheat pit came immediately after false report that the Dardanelles had been forced. It was not until after the close of the session that any definite news came indicating a genuine basis for claims of headway being made in naval attacks on the Turks. Before that time the attention of traders had largely reverted to the effects of heavy rains throughout the West and Southwest, conditions which at the beginning of the session had brought about a sharp bulge in the market.

Persistent buying on the part of houses with country connections more than counterbalanced in the corn market the effect of the weakness of wheat. Oats rallied with corn. Provisions ascended with hogs, but afterward headed down grade.

The Flaxseed Market.

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) June 17.—The flax seed market showed no change today. There was a ready demand and offerings were light. No. 1 seed sold at 1 to 2 cents under Duluth July price on spot and to arrive. No. 1 seed closed at 1.75 to 1.76 on spot and to arrive. Receipts today three cars; last year three cars. Shipments today none; last year one car. Linseed oil shipments totaled 157,950 pounds, oil cake and meal shipments 240,944 pounds. Duluth receipts today seven cars; last year nine cars. Winnipeg receipts today none; last year 22 cars.

Duluth Seed was strong on buying by crushers and crop damage reports. Outside of good bidding in the late trading the market in the seed was quiet. July flax closed one cent up; September 1 cent up and October ¼ cent up.

RECORD GOLD STRIKE.

Ore Found in Carter Group of Claims in Tom Reed District—Big Jim Starts Work on Shaft.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OATMAN (Ariz.) June 16.—A strike has been made on the Carter group of claims lying a half mile south of the Tom Reed in this district. On the 150-foot level a body of ore was struck that assays in spots $50 a ton in gold. This strike has caused quite a bit of excitement in its immediate vicinity as there are many promising prospects near by, with only shallow workings.

Under company management, development work has started on the Big Jim. A shaft is being sunk on the hanging wall side of the vein that crops on their ground which is believed to be the extension of the Tom Reed fissure. The new shaft is 4½x7 in the clear and is timbered all the way.

Despite the summer heat when work is usually temporarily suspended, there are more men working in the district than at anytime in its history. Operations are progressing on the Tom Reed, Gold Road, Mazona, Carter, Lexington, Pittsburgh, United Eastern, United Western, Big Jim, Telluride, Boundary Cone, Gold Cliff, Gold Reed, Gold Ore and Ivanhoe mines.

BANK DIVIDENDS DECLARED.

Where Is Your Rent Check?

Is it buying a home for YOU or some landlord?

Ever figure the "Buying Power" of that rent money you pay out each month?

Mother Earth has made fortunes for many and will continue to do so just as long as we have growing cities and men require homes in which to live.

One man bought a lot from us for $1300 on terms. Before he finished paying for it, it was resold for $3300 cash. We have sold hundreds of homes on our Easy Term Plan to men who had always paid rent and wondered why they never made progress. Today scores of them have deeds instead of a worthless bunch of rent receipts. Today they Own Their Own Homes, their former rent checks going into the bank for investment.

Our customers are our best advertisements. A home is a sure positive investment and a sure sign of prosperity and conservatism. It is not speculation. We have never sold a share of stock or a piece of property we could not deliver. Think it over—figure up that pile of "rent receipts" and see how easy you can own a home on this plan.

SAME AS THOUGH THEIR CHILDREN.

GIRLS RAISED BY THE BAKERS BEQUEATHED FORTUNE.

Will of Monrovia Man Who Owned Much Property Here and in San Bernardino Provides Sum for Care of Poor Children and Old Persons.

Girls whom he and his wife raised from childhood, but who were never legally adopted, are bequeathed valuable property in the will of Reuben M. Baker of Monrovia, filed for probate yesterday. These girls, grown to womanhood and married, are Edna Price, the wife of Charles H. Price, and Mrs. May Hazel Hosfield.

Mrs. Price receives property on Spring street between Eighth and Ninth streets and a half-interest in the Ruffen home place in San Bernardino.

Mrs. Hosfield is bequeathed the Sunset Hotel property in San Bernardino. Mr. Baker directs that Mrs. Hosfield shall "devote each year from the proceeds of said real property the sum of $1000 for the purpose of aiding and assisting poor children and worthy old and broken-down people in the counties of Los Angeles and San Bernardino."

The will provides that the children of Mrs. Price and Mrs. Hosfield are to inherit these estates, but if there are no children then the properties are to be placed in trust to be distributed to Protestant charitable institutions.

The late former Judge D. K. Trask and C. H. Price of this city and J. H. Bartle of Monrovia were selected as trustees in the Price estate. Judge Ben P. Bledsoe, W. S. Hooper and J. W. Curtis were to act in the Hosfield estate. The residue of the $450,000 estate is given to the widow.

Elijah Baker of Muscatine, Iowa, a brother, is given $100. The children of Elijah Baker are bequeathed $50 each and various nephews and nieces receive similar sums. The will notes that the adopted son, W. J. Baker, was deeded San Bernardino property. Mrs. Baker, the widow, renounces her right to act as executrix, and names John F. Hosfield as executor.

Mr. Baker's property on Cass street, San Bernardino, is left to Walter Folsom Trask, son of former Judge Trask, because of Mr. Baker's friendship for his father, "and because I wish to encourage the boy with some substantial evidence of my good wishes for his welfare."

HOW TO LOVE
THE "WAGNERIAN KISS."

The gentle art of making love was elucidated in Judge Taft's court yesterday in the divorce suit of Mrs. Clara Pierce against Fred C. Pierce. Mr. Pierce, a Salt Lake railroad man, was charged with an affinity. Mrs. Pierce objected when he came home, as she testified, with kiss bites on his neck and face.

Arthur Randall said he saw Mr. Pierce give Mrs. Blanche White a "Wagnerian kiss."

"Eh, what's that?" asked Judge Taft. "What is a Wagnerian kiss?"

"Well, it is an intermittent rhapsody," replied Mr. Randall.

"That would be what is called a clinging kiss, wouldn't it, if put in English?" queried the court.

"Yes—a prolonged kiss," said Mr. Randall.

Not only Mr. Randall but Mrs. Pierce say they saw the kiss as they passed Mrs. White's home on Chicago avenue.

"I told my husband I would not leave him if I lived to be 100 years old," testified Mrs. Pierce. "Mr. Pierce's reply was he would torment me until I would be forced to go." Evidently he succeeded, as the couple separated. The court granted Mrs. Pierce a decree and $40 a month alimony.

MUCH LYING.
GALE NOT DIVORCED.

"There has been a lot of lying in this case; some on both sides," commented Judge Wood yesterday in denying Mrs. Rose A. Gale a divorce from Warren D. Gale, owner of an extensive Angora goat ranch near Claremont. "I think that Mr. Gale got drunk and abused his wife," he continued, "and I think she abused him. In any event she knew what he was before she married him. She had been married before and was the mother of two daughters. She doubtless knew that Mr. Gale had a ranch; she took a chance and she lost out by it. I am not going to grant a decree. I am going to let them stay married."

Mrs. Gale, the court found, had not established extreme cruelty. He found that the couple had quarreled and that some of the quarrels had been provoked by the wife, but he warned Mr. Gale that this did not mean that he could bring a suit for divorce on the ground of cruelty and get away with it on this evidence.

The case was tried on Tuesday and continued until yesterday for further testimony. This bore on the question whether or not Mrs. Gale had drank not only in her home but at a winery. One witness said she did drink at the house, but another witness reluctantly testified that this witness' reputation was not good. No proof was adduced that she drank at the winery. Mrs. Gale most positively asserted that she drank nothing. She is the stepsister of Mrs. De Pauw, widow of John Singleton of the Yellow Aster mine. Mr. Gale is the son of a wealthy Chicago couple.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS.
RECALLED IN OAKWOOD CASE.

An echo of the good old days at Arcadia, when racing flourished and the Oakwood Hotel was headquarters for live wires from all over the country, was heard in Judge Finlayson's court yesterday with the start of the suit of H. A. Unruh, executor of the estate of E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, against J. J. Doyle, the Oakwood Hotel Company, W. H. Clune and the Maier Brewing Company for the recovery of rents aggregating $19,102. The suit has been pending since 1912.

The original lease of the hotel was entered into between Jack Doyle and Lucky Baldwin April 1, 1907. Mr. Clune and the Maier & Zobelein Brewery Company guaranteed the rent of $500 a month. The Maier Brewing Company became the successors of the Maier & Zobelein Company, and the complaint alleges assumed its liabilities. In July, 1907, Mr. Doyle assigned his interest in the lease to the Oakwood company. An extension of the lease was granted. From January 1, 1909, to March 1, 1912, it is claimed that no rent was paid for the hotel.

It became apparent after proceedings started yesterday that it was a question of "passing the buck." One answer set up that Mr. Doyle was the agent for Mr. Clune. It was also alleged that the Oakwood Hotel Company was responsible. The defense is that no rent was paid for three years, and no effort by the plaintiff was made to collect it in that time.

Attorneys McNab and Burke of San Francisco represent Anita Baldwin and Mrs. Clara Baldwin Stocker, heirs of the great Baldwin estate; Bradner W. Lee is counsel for Mr. Unruh; John G. Mott and Hutton & Williams represent the defendants.

FAMILY FEUD
BARED IN DAMAGE SUIT.

The $25,500 damage suit of Fred B. Frank, a bridge constructor, against Claude E. Halsell, his son-in-law, and owner of the Lyceum Theater, holds the story of a family feud. The complaint filed yesterday by Attorneys Shafer & Sproul alleges that Mr. Frank was falsely charged with the theft of Mrs. Halsell's diamonds, valued at $1500, and that his arrest in San Francisco on a charge of grand larceny was malicious.

Mr. Frank was bound over to the Superior Court by Justice Forbes at the preliminary examination April 16, last. Subsequently the complaint was dismissed by the District Attorney. In addition to the humiliation of being charged with the theft and the ignominy of being placed under arrest, Mr. Frank states that detectives of the Citizens' Agency beat him up while he was under bonds. An action for assault will be filed against the detectives, he says.

Mr. Frank married the mother of Mrs. Halsell and divorced her in Leavenworth, Kan., two years ago. He asserts that this engendered feeling in his wife's family which resulted in the diamond episode. He is constructing a bridge at St. Thomas, Nev., for the Midland Bridge Company of Kansas City.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.
PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

HUSBAND'S PLAINT. Hirokichi Nishi, a Japanese fisherman, passed many lonely hours on the deep ocean, and at such times his mind dwelt on his plump wife at home. He always returned with a glad heart, but soon his heart saddened, for he found that his wife prepared dainty fish dinners for S. Nagashuchi during his own absence. One night he discovered Nagashuchi embracing Mrs. Nishi in the kitchen of their home at East San Pedro. In the divorce court yesterday Nishi told his simple tale and was granted a decree.

MOOD CHANGES. Four years ago Clarence E. Williams eloped with Hazel E. Williams. Yesterday Mrs. Williams asked for a decree of divorce on the ground of desertion. She testified that Mr. Williams went into Imperial Valley in January, 1914, wrote her several letters, and since then she has not heard from him. Judge Wood denied the decree. Mrs. Williams wept bitter tears. Soon her tears dried when it was discovered that a charge of non-support had not been passed on. The decree was granted on this allegation.

VAIL ESTATE. Real estate and notes aggregating $72,000, the piece at Seventh and Main streets being in trust, are listed in the petition for the probate of the will of Willis I. Vail filed yesterday by his widow, Agnes B. Vail. The estate is community property. Mrs. Vail receives two-thirds, the other third going to his daughter, Agnes Baker Vail. The latter is to be held in trust. Miss Vail to receive her inheritance when she reaches the age of 21 years. Mr. Vail died on the 2d inst.

INCORPORATIONS. Growers' Chemical Company, incorporators F. W. Reese, Ida Strowig, Edward Walker, Fred Haver and J. C. MacFarland, capital stock $25,000, subscribed $5; Moore's Bird Store, incorporators G. C. Moore, Austin B. Byles and W. T. Hobson, capital stock $25,000, subscribed, $300.

HER VICTIM DIES.

San Francisco Business Girl Must Face Coroner's Jury Today—Struck Woman with Automobile.

Miss Margaret Mauzy, the San Francisco business girl who initiated her stay in Los Angeles by running down Miss Hanna Johnson with her automobile Wednesday, will be summoned before the Coroner's jury today to explain the details of the accident. Miss Johnson died early yesterday morning, her skull having been fractured by her fall when she was struck by the motor car.

The accident occurred at Fifth and Hill streets. Miss Mauzy came here to take a position in a big store.

BUDGET BOOSTED FOR VACATIONS.

NEW TWO-PLATOON SYSTEM CALLS FOR LARGER SUM.

Council Discovers that Ordinances Passed on Previous Day are in Conflict with Provisions in Referendum Measure Recently Adopted by Popular Vote.

While the Budget Committee of the Council was debating a proposed cut of $200 in the appropriation for furniture for the City Assessor's office, Deputy Auditor Fountain made a few pen scratches yesterday and informed the committee that the new two-platoon ordinance adopted at the last election will cost the city $407,549 instead of the $100,000 commonly believed. This brought the amount of budget requisitions over estimated revenue up to something over $3,000,000, while the city's revenue will be considerably less than last year.

The boost in the fire department expenses came with a reading of the two-platoon ordinance, which says that every member of the department who is injured or becomes sick while on duty is to receive full pay for the time he is disabled, and it was also discovered that each fireman who has served six months or more is entitled to fifteen days' vacation on full pay.

"We can fix that vacation matter by letting one or two men off at a time and run short-handed during the summer," said Chief Eley.

"Nothing doing," replied Secretary McKeag of the Fire Commission. "The ordinance provides that every company and firehouse must at all times have a full complement of men."

"There goes another $50,000," said President Whitten.

A casual reading of the two-platoon ordinance yesterday revealed the fact that the ordinance passed Wednesday providing compensation for disabled firemen from the Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act fund is in conflict and due for immediate repeal. This ordinance provides that beginning fifteen days after disability a fireman shall receive 65 per cent. of his salary during disability for not to exceed six months. The two-platoon ordinance says he shall receive full pay, beginning the day he is disabled. A similar ordinance was also passed Wednesday applying to members of the police department, and it is likely that this will be replaced by an ordinance giving the policemen the same treatment accorded the firemen.

TO INVESTIGATE.

Investigation of the Efficiency Commission by a special committee of the City Council will begin this morning immediately after the Council session. The committee named by President Whitten under authority of the Conwell resolution of Wednesday is headed by Councilman Roberts, chairman, with Councilmen Betkouski and Bryant. In the division of the Council Wednesday, when President Whitten presented a resolution seeking to abolish the Efficiency Commission, Mr. Roberts voted in favor of the commission, while Mr. Betkouski has been the leader of the opposition and Mr. Bryant his chief lieutenant.

Chairman Roberts said the committee will endeavor to hold a complete and fair investigation, and the report will be prepared and presented as soon as possible.

Councilman Conwell, chairman of the Efficiency Commission, says he will urge that the investigation be open to the public, but this question will be decided by the committee today.

In the event that the committee report is not satisfactory to the Municipal League, that organization is prepared to make public a report of its Executive Committee covering the same ground. Members of the league committee will attend the hearing today.

JITBUS BONDS.
ORDINANCE IS AMENDED.

Jitbus bonds were fixed by the City Council yesterday at a maximum of $10,000 for personal injuries where two or more persons are hurt and $1000 property damage liability. Incidentally, the drivers of the busses say, this action by the Council will unite all the automobile bus owners and drivers in their organization which can be used with more effect against any opposition or attempts at further regulation.

The addition of a $1000 bond to cover property damaged will bring the cost of bonds up to about twelve dollars a month, but by buying their bonds through their association, the cost will be lowered from one dollar to two dollars, offering a substantial refund on the one dollar a month dues to the Auto Bus Owners' and Drivers' Association. This, the jitbus drivers say, will bring practically all of the 1500 regular drivers into the association. At present the membership is said to be about 500.

The amendments to the ordinance adopted yesterday are the only changes made in the ordinance.

Money for Power Plant.

Completion of the city's power plant in San Francisquito Canyon at an early date will be made possible through an arrangement made yesterday whereby the city will use $290,000 of its sinking funds for the purchase of power bonds. This decision was reached yesterday at a conference between representatives of the Water Department and the Budget Committee. This deal will enable the city to complete the power plant and pursue the construction of a distributing system until the remainder of the $6,500,000 bond issue is sold.

It was learned yesterday that negotiations with prominent Eastern bond buyers for the sale of the $6,500,000 power bond issue are likely to be closed soon.

Farm Goes Back.

The city's inebriate farm near the Los Angeles river will be abandoned as such on August 1 and the property will thereafter be used by the Board of Education as a truant school. This was decided yesterday at a conference between the Board of Education and the Finance Committee of the Council. The property is owned by the Board of Education and has been leased to the city for several years. President Whitten said the Council will consider a new location for an inebriate farm with a view to establishing one on property already owned by the city, or buying a site that will be available for joint use when the city and county administrations consolidate.

Minor City Doings.

At the suggestion of the Public Utilities Board, the Public Welfare Committee of the Council will consider an amendment to the traffic ordinance establishing a safety zone for 200 feet on each side of a public hospital, within which the speed limit for all vehicles shall be twelve miles an hour.

The Board of Public Works was authorized yesterday to advertise for bids for cleaning the streets with power sweepers.

Final ordinances for the improvement of Adams street from Grand avenue to Hoover street and One Hundred Sixty-first street between Vermont and Orchard avenues were adopted yesterday.

"Yes, you have made a clean sweep of it this time," she said slowly, intensely. "Make the most of it. The banker always wins—in the end."

He turned from her, smilingly, but annoyed at her covert threat, and proceeded in the direction of the men under him.

V.

Charles Gilson was a "pillar of society." Ponderous and portly, he was endowed by nature with a dignified, heavy face, and pompous air that his snow-white hair and ivory-headed cane did a great deal toward making impressive. He was 56 years old and seemed 65. His deeply seamed face and massive jaw were his greatest assets, and would have vouched for him, had the rest of his appearance needed indorsement. His voice, also, never harsh or strident, had a peculiar booming quality that made his slightest utterance seem fraught with significance, its very tone commanding the respectful audience that many another voice of greater volume and more sincerity tried for in vain.

His Bible class reverenced that voice and unconsciously acknowledged its influence by an unusual proficiency in that part of its study relating to the prophets; his tenants in many a squalid, disease-breeding tenement of the east side, feared it, and shrank at its threatening boom as they might at the trumpet voice of a fearful herald, summoning them forth to a wrathful judgment. His real estate holdings were enormous and his social influence correspondingly tremendous, his wealth and swing creating a deference to his wishes in the political world that amounted practically to unquestioning obedience.

He sat at breakfast the morning after Mason's sensational raid, and at his butler's announcement of Sid Dodge and Clarice Adair, allowed his usually impassive face the luxury of an amazed expression at the personae of his early callers. Dodge and Clarice, after a night in a cell, had been released on heavy bail, and had come immediately to Gilson to apprise him of the raid and their arrest.

He smiled professionally at them as they entered.

"Good morning, Sid—what brings you here at this hour? I thought you always slept 'till eleven; what can I do for you?"

"Do? it's damn little you can do now, I guess. Look at this ——" and he spread a copy of a morning newspaper before the church vestryman. Across the top of the sheet in bold, staring type, ran the headline:

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY RAIDS BIG GAMBLING HALL.

Gilson was stunned—so stunned, in fact, that his attempt to conceal it was obvious and wasted on the two keenly attentive faces before him. He spoke, finally, his well-modulated voice betraying no consciousness of the concern so visible on his features.

"The Assistant District Attorney, eh?" he said, his eyes narrowing. "That's young Mason, isn't it?"

"Yes, damn him, Ellis Mason."

"Um." Then, a sudden thought manifesting itself in eager apprehension. "No hint escaped you that I am the real owner of the property?"

"No, but I don't see how we'll be able to conceal it once an investigation begins."

"Leave that to me. You go about your business; you'll hear from me later."

Gilson had engineered Bell's election and held the man's political destiny in his check book. He knew that any move from the District Attorney's office had first to be sanctioned by Bell, and was at a complete loss to realize the motive that had prompted this astounding break. He wasn't aware that Bell was out of town and found it impossible to reconcile Bell's usual obedient docility with his drastic action. He had descended the front stoop of his magnificent home, and was proceeding in the direction of the District Attorney's office when he was hailed by two men approaching from the opposite direction. He recognized them as John Drake and Albert Lesser, active members of the Commonwealth Club, of which he was an honorary member. He greeted them in his usual effusive, solicitous, booming way, and stood for a moment exchanging with them the commonplace courtesies of an unintimate acquaintance.

"We were just on our way to visit you," Drake said. "You've heard, of course, of young Mason's highly commendable raid on the gambling den?"

"Yes, indeed. Splendid. That young man has a great future,"—and then, to himself, "behind him."

"Yes, he certainly justifies our confidence in his ability as a fearless executive. But read this," and he handed Gilson an unsealed letter. "We were just on our way to deliver this to you at your home."

Gilson took the letter, opened and read it quickly.

"My dear Mr. Gilson," it read. "You have been selected chairman of a committee to notify Assistant District Attorney Mason that this club urges his candidacy for the District Attorneyship. We believe that Mr. Mason should accept in the interest of public welfare. Signed, A. C. Beane, secretary of the Commonwealth Club."

Gilson finished reading and his face betrayed for a moment the trepidation of his mind. He recovered quickly and spoke with well-feigned enthusiasm. "Certainly, I shall be most happy to inform Mr. Mason. We can go to his office directly, if it is convenient to you."

"We shall be pleased," said Lesser, and together they left for the office of the District Attorney's office, highly disconcerted at the evidence of it to encounter.

They arrived at the office and were shown in. Bell had returned from the court and was at peace with himself. He had passed the crisis and had obeyed the voice of conscience, and received the fine spiritual dignity that conquered his mortal thing. He was that his act was very pol litical shroud, but pro done, felt a positive finite self-satisfaction that his political stained by any act of promise. RUBE MAKES FINE CATCH.

With Bases Loaded and Two Men Down.

Ryan Pinch-hits Zeb Across the Platter.

Angels Wham the Ball with Much Vigor.

BY HARRY A WILLIAMS.

The Angels won, 3 to 2, but not until they had littered the place all up with base hits. In order for them to grab those three runs it was necessary for them to slam Skeet Fanning fourteen ways from the home plate.

Just how any club can make fourteen hits and yet make only three runs is not entirely clear. Seldom is anything like that seen in the best society. Still, that is what happened. The results speak for themselves. For one thing, the boys did not always show unfailing judgment on the bases, while Skeet was pretty tough in the pinches.

L. T. AGAIN.

Long Tom Hughes, undismayed by what happened to him Wednesday, followed his glove into the box and challenged the Seals to another scrap. He had them groveling in the dust much of the time, and held them to six hits, no two of which hppened in the same round. Yet so great are the uncertainties of life that he had the time of his career winning.

In fact, not until the last man had turned up his ties was it at all certain that he would win.

This fine pitching by Hughes was supplemented with some fine hitting by Jack Ryan. You've simply got to hand it to the Angel hitting staff. If they can't win one way they will another.

HE CONNECTS.

Jack, his noble chin all covered with tobacco juice, went to bat for Metzger in the eighth, and slammed a single to right that scored what proved to be the winning run. This topped a batting rally that had been inaugurated by Zeb, and busted a 2-to-2 tie which had remained adamant since the fourth inning. Two were gone when Ryan got in his artistic punch. Jack is a wonder in times of pith and moment. He is one of those rare guys who arise to great occasions. History has produced only a few of them. When Jack decides to give up pitching he can easily eke out a livelihood pinch-hitting.

SEALS FIGHT.

The Seals refused to acknowledge themselves crushed, and tried to overthrow the established order of things by filing up the bases in the ninth. With things in this critical condition and two out, Rube chased back almost to Main street and reaching over one ear caught a powerful fly from the bat of Mr. Block. Without exaggeration, it may be said that this splendid deed saved the game. It is now clear why Rube's life has been spared for the past three months. Providence was saving him up for that one difficult catch. Truly, Rube, while his batting average is not large, has not lived in vain. As a pinch-catcher of fly balls he has few equals. If Rube can be induced not to make any more triples, it is believed that he will finish the season in good condition.

The weather was warm enough to melt a brass monkey, and yet the athletes never lagged. Both sides were out to win, but that was not to be.

BUGS'S CASE.

Mr. Bugs Reisigl sat around and nursed his bum toe. Buks has a large hole cut in his shoe. The toe, which is about the size of a pawpaw, protrudes through this hole and enjoys the sunlight and air. All this makes it pretty soft for Bugs, but it reduces his value to the club. The toe is now regarded as a distinct detriment to the chances of the Seals. Unless the toe improves pretty soon the club trainer will take a hatchet and chop it off. Beyond this, Wolverton doesn't plan any cuts in his pitching staff.

Beef Koerner, the newest first baseman, arrived in town yesterday in time to eat before repairing to th epark. He had previously eaten a meal on the train coming dogn, so he was in pretty fair shape for the battle. Beef sawed off two hits, and accepted everything that came his way in the field with avidity. It looks like he would be able to bridge the crisis for us.

THEY START.

Meloan began the fine entertainment with a single. Schaller lined out to Wolter. Harry could have doubled Paul at first had he not paused to blow a cooling breath on his burning palms before throwing. Ping was squelched along with Meloan on a rapid double play, Zeb to McMullen to Beef.

Wolter created considerable excitement by tripling with two out in the first. Koener gave the pill a healthy rap into deep center. Ping ran back and caught it in a brilliant manner.

Hellman opened the second with a

MOTOR SHOW ON BROADWAY.

The great combination automobile and flower show, to be held next fall under the management of The Times, will be staged about October 1, just after the arrival of the full line of 1916 models. The show is to be located in the building on South Broadway, now occupied by the J. W. Robinson Company. The Times automobile and flower show promises to attract many eastern visitors and motorists from all sections of the great Southwest.

GLORIUS WIN FOR GOLFERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, June 17.—California scored the greatest victory in the history of the Tom Morris Golf Competition on Wednesday when not only did the Los Angeles Country Club capture the trophy for the third time, giving them permanent possession of the cup, but that state furnished the four leading teams and also the sixth.

Late returns today from clubs competing in the big golf event yesterday indicate that the Los Angeles Country Club won permanent possession of the trophy, its score of twenty-five down being better than any so far received.

Los Angeles was victor in 1912 with a score of 40 down and in 1913 with 235 down.

The California clubs furnished the first four leaders, the iVrginia Country Club of Long Beach was second with 38 down and the Annandale Country Club of Los Angeles third with 43 down. San Gabriel of Los Angeles was next with 54 the Kansas City Country Club was next with 55, then came Victoria Country Club of Riverside with 61 down.

SPRIGGAN WINS FEATURE EVENT.

Speedy Trotter Takes Two Out of Three.

But is Forced to Limit by Loeblossom.

Leata J. Captures Amateur Free-for-all.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Spriggan, the sensation of the exposition summer harness meet, who won the $20,000 purse last Saturday in the 2:10 trot, maintained his supremacy today by taking first in the first two heats and second in the third heat of the 2:20 class trot, thereby winning the major portion of the $2000 purse offered for the event.

V. K. Dunne's bay gelding won the first heat in hollow fashion, leading Tropic Dawn, who placed second, by six lengths. In the second heat Spriggan again held the lead, but was all but nosed out at the wire by Loeblossom's fine drive in the stretch. In the final heat Loeblossom, with Childs up, again fought for supremacy in the home stretch and this time just managed to pass Spriggan over the finishing line. The work of Edward Peterson's chestnut mare in these two heats was sensational in the extreme.

Leata J., with J. W. Jones up, won three straight heats in the amateur free-for-all pace. Jones' game little mare was the winner last Saturday of the free-for-all, which carried a $5000 purse, and was the favorite for today's event. Dick W. (Ottinger,) who placed second, broke several times and but for this would have proved a strong contender.

Brutus, with S. Christenson up, had no trouble in disposing of the field in the special trot by taking two in three heats.

SUMMARY.

Amateur free-for-all pacing; purse $1000; three heats:

Leata J., h.m. (Jones)	1	1	1
Dick W., h.g. (Ottinger)	3	3	2
W. I. K., b.g. (Smith)	2	2	3

Also started: Jobe Lincoln, br.g. (Daniels.)

Time 2:11, 2:12½, 2:11¾.

Special trotting; first prize only; two in three heats:

Brutus, b.g. (S. Christenson)	1	1	1
Modoc McKinney, ch.m. (D. Hoffman)	3	3	2
St. Patrick, br.g. (Ryan)	2	2	3

Also started: Blake, b.m. (M. Boyle.)

Time 2:14½, 2:18, 2:20¼.

2:20 class trotting; purse $2000; three heats:

Spriggan, b.g. (W. Jones)	1	1	1
Loeblossom, ch.m. (Childs)	2	2	2
Tropic Dawn, b.m. (Fleming)	3	3	3

Also started: James Carter, b.m. (Edwards) Baron Todd, b.h. (McDonald.)

PROFESSIONALS LEAD GOLFERS.

BARNES AND TELLIER OUT IN THE FOREGROUND.

Chick Evans and Jerome Travers are in the Lead in the Amateur Class Pretty Close Behind the Leaders — Ouimet is Practically Out of the Money.

SHORT HILLS (N. J.) June 17.—At the conclusion of today's play for the national open golf championship competition on the links of the Baltusrol Golf Club, James M. Barnes, the western open champion, and another professional, Louis Tellier, formerly champion of France, left the field with scores of 146 strokes each. Both of them equalled the professional record of the course, 71 for eighteen holes, during the day, a feat which was duplicated by three others, one of whom was "Chick" Evans of Chicago, the western amateur champion.

M. J. Brady finished only one stroke behind the leaders, and Jerome D. Travers, winner of many amateur titles, was fourth with a score of 148. Should he maintain this form tomorrow, Travers will stand an excellent chance to win the "open," the only important championship in this country to which he has yet to take title.

"Chick" Evans impressed the throng of spectators when he made his 71 in the morning. In fact, were it not for skying his iron tee shot from the seventeenth into the brook and losing a stroke he would have broken the record.

Francis Ouimet, the national amateur champion, had 77 for his first round, but was just able to get within two strokes of that on his second journey. With a total of 154 he will have to accomplish something phenomenal tomorrow to get among the prize winners.

The worst reversal of form during the day was shown by Gilbert Nicholls, the Wilmington (Del.) professional who set a dizzy pace in yesterday's qualifying round with the low score of 72-75—147. In the first round he had 78 and turned in 81 for the second round, a total of 159.

There were sixty-five starters, all but three of whom turned in cards for thirty-six holes. The committee probably will eliminate all those who had scores worse than 165, and if this is done the field tomorrow will be reduced about fifty players.

SALVESON GETS HIS RELEASE.

CAVALRY POLO ARTISTS WIN.

SHOW TOO MUCH CLASS WHEN STACKED UP AGAINST DEVON TEAM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—The polo team of the Fifth United States Cavalry defeated Devon, 12 goals to 5, in a semi-final match for the Fox Hunters' cup today at Bryn Mawr. The cavalrymen earned nine goals, were allowed four by handicap and lost one by penalty. Devon earned six goals and was penalized one.

HOME-RUN BAKER RIGHT ON THE JOB.

MAIN REASON FOR UPLAND DEFEATING CHESTER AGGREGATION.

Frank Baker, once home run king of the American League, had a good day with his Upland independent team on Memorial Day. Against Chester he hit a home run, a three-bagger and a double and was the chief reason for Upland beating Chester by a score of 7 to 1. Several hundred enthusiastic fans saw the game, being drawn by the power of Frank Baker's fame, and Baker collected his $100 right after the game.

VETERANS ON L.A.A.C. TEAM.

WEAVER EXPECTS TO CAPTURE ALL TITLES.

Far Western and National Junior and Senior Titles are Expected to Come South with Team—Olympic Club Only Aggregation Really Feared by Local Speed Demons.

The L.A.A.C. track team is composed of a gang of well-assorted cinder diggers. Several old exponents of the modern sports are on the lists and a good many youngsters still in the high schools. The combination is funny, but hard to beat.

Bob Weaver, the boss of the outfit, hopes to die, later in his life, if his team doesn't bring home the bacon. He asserts that twenty-five points will win the event and he has these, and more, neatly tucked away in his jeans. The far western meet will be a walkover for the L.A.A.C. The national tournament will be tougher by a good deal, but will go to the same place. "You can believe me on this," says Mr. Weaver.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club team has not been selected, but there are a number of men sure to go north. Fred Kelly, of course, will be one of the backbones of the aggregation, and can cop five or more points, sure as death or taxes. Fred has been training more or less during the spring and will begin serious work inside of two weeks.

Drew is the second world champion scheduled to grab things in the national meet. He is in excellent condition and will have no trouble at all in mobilizing an array of winning digits.

Kirkpatrick, Bonnett, Muller and Wood are down for several points apiece, and should be enough in themselves to finish up the twenty-five limit.

One beauty of the Athletic Club team is that it will be able to enter the junior as well as the senior meet. All of the men with the single exception of Fred Thompson are eligible for both events. This being the case, Bob hopes to hog everything in sight.

As soon as the team is selected (about July 1) practice will begin in earnest on the Y.M.C.A. field. The men will have to get out at least three times per week. And if they do not train hard they will be left out. "The men that train will be the men to go north and there will be no exceptions," said Mr. Weaver.

"The only bunch that we really fear," continued the boss, "is the Olympic Club. This team will be good and they have excellent opportunities of putting some first-class men in the field. They have the advantage of training on the exposition field and this will help a lot. Then they will get most of the Berkeley and Stanford men in their ranks. They will have a good team, but it will not be good enough."

The L.A.A.C. team will be selected from the following list: Bill Annin, H. Wood, Tipton, Cook, Ed Stanton, Odell, F. Watkins, House, S. Thompson, Anderson, Fred Thomson, Howard Drew, Fred Kelly, Harry Kirkpatrick, Borgstrum, Bagnard, Muller, Nichols, Gates, Conn, Herb Brown, Mick McClure, Fisher and Ben Ward.

The far western meet will be pulled off July 30-31. The national event is scheduled for August 6-7.

Twenty men will get in on the trip.

OUTFIELDERS ARE BOUNCED.

MANN AND HANFORD GET FRESH WITH UMPIRES AND SUSPENDED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 17.—Outfielders Leslie Mann and Charles Hanford of the Chicago Nationals have been suspended for three days each by President Gilmore on charges of umpire baiting at Kansas City.

HERB BROWN COMES BACK.

Another athletic antique was unearthed yesterday for the L.A.A.C. track brigade. Herb Brown, erstwhile Pomona and Stanford half-miler of quite some face, who was a has-been four years ago, has decided to stage a comeback. After digging out his moth-eaten flappers and mouldy spikes, Mr. Brown, more commonly known as "Lank," hired himself hither to some unfrequented spot and did a little running. The efforts of the ancient athlete were not witnessed as the former Stanford runner took care to evade his friends during his first rehearsal.

Cubs Smash Way to Top by Winning Terrific Nineteen Inning Struggle

National League.

CHICAGO WINS LENGTHY GAME.

Pfeffer and Zabel Pitch Nineteen Innings.

Erratic Support for Both Slabmen.

Season's Record for Number of Innings.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 17.—Battling neck and neck in a great exhibition of pitching, Zabel of Chicago and Pfeffer of Brooklyn today fought a nineteen-inning game to a finish, which was heart-breaking from the standpoint of the visiting pitcher, for the Cubs won, 4 to 3, despite his brilliant work. The game set a season's record for number of innings, but it was played rapidly. Pfeffer worked all through the contest and Zabel, succeeding Humphries when the latter's hand was split in the first inning, pitched nearly as long.

Erratic support was given both slabmen.

Every Brooklyn run was directly helped in by an error and two of the Chicago's were due to misplays. Twice the score was tied when the game seemed over. With two out in the eighth and Chicago leading 2 to 1, Fisher fumbled O'Mara's grounder and Myer scored him with a double.

In the fifteenth Cutshaw singled, took third because nobody covered second when Phelan threw there on Wheat's hit, and scored on Miller's drive. Then Saier tied the count again by slamming to the scoreboard for a home run.

Fisher's single in the nineteenth and Scull's long fly placed the former on second, whence he scored on Cutshaw's error.

Each pitcher fanned six and Zabel passed only one batter. Pfeffer walked eight, but three of his passes were designed to avoid danger from a heavy hitter and his judgment was proved right in each instance.

McCarty was injured by a collision with Getz and forced out of the play. The score:

Batting and Base Running Features.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—Eddie Collins's batting, fielding and base running were features of the game today in which Chicago defeated Philadelphia, 3 to 0. Eddie made two doubles and a single and drew a pass in four trips to the plate, stole two bases and drove in one run and scored another against his former team mates. In addition, he accepted ten chances. Scott pitched such splendid ball that the home team could not get a runner past first base.

FAR WESTERN TRACK MEET.

ENTRY BLANKS OUT FOR BIG EVENT TO SETTLE CHAMPIONSHIPS.

SA

Wad is Going into the Movie Business! By Gale.

Formidable.

LS HAVE BIG CHANCE.

Won Both at Home and on the Road.

Terrific Power at the Bat.

Pitching Staff is Improving.

BY R. A. WILLIAMS.

It is no fit time to pick a winner in a league which is the keenest and which boasts the best season in the world. Frankly, we are not going to attempt to do anything like that. Nevertheless, the circuit is perhaps a bench to the effect that the club which beats out San Francisco will be the next champion of the league. It, therefore, naturally follows that any of the other five clubs in this the Seals will win the pennant have been seen under all conditions, partly crippled and in good shape—also, they have been at home and abroad. They have struggled along in the curve of success. Whatever may have been their condition when they have managed to win many of their games, and, after mastering the half-way mark, held a lead of some magnitude.

Batting power, a pitching staff that is reaching the maximum of efficiency with the advent of warm weather following a chilly spring and early season, and a couple of young players whose work has steadily improved and will continue to improve as the season lengthens, are the elements which make the Seals exceedingly formidable.

Furthermore, the Seals are particularly formidable on their home grounds. Ask those who think that the high board fence at Recreation Park is the main ingredient of their success and they promptly forget it. The Seals are a tough club to beat, no matter where you tackle them. They have played at home exactly half of their games, and have lost two. Portland beat them four out of five, and the Oaklanders took them, four out of seven. They are now playing their sixth series on alien soil. Of the five series which they have completed away from home they have won one and lost four. They took this series by a comfortable margin that to date they have won more games on the road than they have lost.

Their record at home is twenty-seven games won and fifteen lost. On the road they have won sixteen and lost twenty-nine. This includes the three games played with Los Angeles in the present series, which breaks even on the season, and which is regarded as a strong contender—and a team does better than even while traveling and wins more than half of its games on its home grounds during the first dozen weeks of the season it is entitled to great respect. Any club with such a record is pernicious, to say the least.

The hitting power of the Seals never has been doubted. They are the only club in the league with a quartette of .300 hitters among the regulars, meaning Heilman, .349; Fitzgerald, .345; Bodie, .325, and Downs, .300. Meloan with .284 and Schaller with .282, lack considerable of being weaklings, and are liable to blossom into the .300 division at any time.

Los Angeles has two regulars in the charmed circle—Wolter, .345, and Maggert, .309.

Salt Lake his three—Gedeon, .318; Barbour, .312; Ryan, .311.

Portland has Bates, .361; Fisher, .336; Speas, .312, and Stumpf, .300. Fisher and Speas, however, are not on the job regularly, Speas frequently giving way to Doane when right-handers are pitching, and Fisher being yanked when southpaws are on the job.

Oakland boasts Johnson, .356; Ness, .329; Gardner, .327, and Elliott, .308. Gardner is a utility player, while Elliott, being a backstop, figures only in a part of the games.

The Tigers have not yet attained their normal hitting strength. Like one or two of the Angels, some of their sticksmiths who did great work last season, are not running true to form. Wilhoit is the only Tiger regular in the .300 class, and he has appeared in only forty-five championship games this year.

This, be it understood, is not an analysis of the six clubs in the league, but merely an effort to explain why the Seals have won so many games, and why they seem so dangerous.

As remarked a few lines astern, the ability of the Seals to hit never has been under a cloud, especialy since the addition of Bodie and Heilman. Fitzgerald last season gained recognition as one of the greatest stricksmiths in the circuit, while he generally is conceded to be the fastest man in baseball, although not always using his speed to the best advantage. With an inner defense of good men built around Corhan, there was little worry regarding the fielding department of the club.

Wolverton stated early in the season that his only concern was the pitching staff, and he promised to keep monkeying with that until it measured up to his ideas of what a ptiching staff should be.

Wolverton made a master move when he secured Hook'em Smith from the Cubs. Hook'em tops the San Francisco heavers with nine wins and only three defeats. He is shaded only by Scoggins of the Angels, who leads the pitchers of the league. Dent is the norminal leader with two wins and no defeats, but it is too early to pass judgment on him. Baum has been a willing worker and a consistent performer. Spider's record is eleven wins and six defeats.

Fanning, while he has won a majority of his games, has not been in his best form, but figures to improve. Killilay, known throughout the circuit as a hard-luck pitcher, is in the .500 class. Bugs Reisigi, of whom great things were expected, has not yet succeeded in getting in shape. First it was his arm, and now it is his toe. He has won two and lost three. His Bugleta figures much better than these statistics would indicate when his toe gets well. Wolverton has another pitcher coming—a party by the name of Brown, late of the Reds, who is supposed to join the Seals here this week. It will be Brown against the field for a regular place on the staff.

More pitchers will be imported, if it transpires that additional strength is needed in that important department.

Despite the fact that Wolverton is in a San Francisco hospital with a badly shattered frame, the club is playing good, aggressive ball. The regard of the players for Wolverton approximates adoration. Corhan, although in charge of the club, refuses to assume the title of acting manager. His attitude under the circumstances is admirable. Although in charge of the club, he obscures himself as much as possible. Corhan is not a poseur. He is loyal to his chief. He will be the happiest man on the club when Wolverton is able to resume the leadership.

During his last visit here, Wolverton predicted that the Seals would get better the further they went. He bases this conclusion on the probable improvement of the pitchers, and the development of Heilman and Jones at opposite corners of the diamond. Jones was little more than a "busher" at the start of the season. He has steadied up wonderfully, and looks 25 per cent. better than during his last appearance here.

Heilman also has shown steady improvement. Considering his limited experience, Heilman looms as one of the best first sackers in the country. He is long on natural ability. Wolverton has no hope of retaining him next season. His work is still crude in spots, but it must be borne in mind that he is little more than a loose-jointed youngster.

"Detroit is sure to recall Heilman next season," declared Wolverton in a recent conversation with the writer. "He is a terrific hitter and a sensational fielder. All that he needs is experience. Unless something goes wrong he is likely to develop into one of the greatest first basemen in the country."

Heilman pulled off some plays here early in the season that made him look a bit bad. Some attributed this to an excess of "ivory."

"Such a conclusion is absolutely wrong," declared Wolverton. "If Heilman has looked bad it was due to inexperience. Why, he is only a kid. He is just learning baseball. You know how awkward a thoroughbred colt looks at a certain age. Heilman is nothing more than a colt. He doesn't even know his own stride. Just watch him—that's all."

The race is not over yet—not by a long shot, meaning more than four months—and there are six high-class clubs in the league. It behooves five of them to be up and doing, for it certainly would be distasteful to have the 1915 flag unfurled in Recreation Park.

Some figure that McCredie will repeat. Possibly so. Mac, however, has not as strong a club as he had in 1914, and at least four of his rivals are stronger than they were at that time. With all due respect to Mac—for he sure is one of the best managers in the country—in every year that he copped the flag he has had a club which outclassed everything else in the league. Mac, of course, has strengthened the Beavers some since they were last seen here, and he may add a few more baseball sinews later.

T. J. Damody departed last night to attend a special and mysterious meeting of the Coast League in San Francisco. He took with him the proxies of President Powers and President Maier. Darmody refused to state whether the object of the meeting was to dicuss the finances of the league, the player limit or some other subject pertaining to the business end of the game.

It is understod that the question of taking Seattle and one other Northwestern League city into the Coast circuit will be discussed. There is nothing particularly new in this, however, as it has been known for some time that such a move probably would be made in 1914. Reports that Northwestern League is on the verge of "blowing" gave rise to the rumor that this step would be taken immediately. However, it would appear to be a physical impossibility to add two new clubs to the circuit in the middle of a championship race without starting the season all over again, and that is not likely to be done.

If any action is taken the league directors probably will merely "mit" Seattle and Spokane away for next season.

Rube Makes Fine Catch.

whale of a double to left. The sphere came within an inch of hitting the fence on the fly. Downs fouled to Boles, who made a splendid catch. Heilman strayed far from second base. Nobody had any idea what he could be doing away out there in the offing, so Boles shot the ball down to Zeb to find out about it. Instead of returning, Heilman beat it right along to third, sliding into that base safely under Zeb's throw to Metzger. Jones scored him with a fly to Maggert. Leard was salted on strikes.

ZEB HITS.

Zeb contributed a double in the second, but remained bogged down at the keystone sack. Maggert illuminated the third with an amazing catch of Skeet's distant and prabolic fly.

A walk to Schaller, Bodie's sacrifice and infield hit by Heilman and Jerry's out gave the Seals their second ace in the fourth.

The Angels tied it up in the home half of the fourth, using a flock of scratch hits, a walk and an error for the purpose. Koerner singled infield. Block flagged him stealing, but Leard dropped the ball in the scuffle at second base. Rube walked. Zeb drove over second. Leard knocked it down with one hand back of the base, but could not recover in time to make a play at any point. Every visible base in the place was now full. Boles dumped a Texas leaguer in left, and Beef came in with a run. With the infield drawn close in like a committee meeting, Metzger slammed to Leard. Bill juggled and could not get Ellis at the plate. He was forced to content himself with pegging out Metzger. Hughes swung at one on a level with his Adam's apple for the third strike.

STRANGE.

The Angels made three successive hits in the fifth without getting a man to third. This is something which calls for an explanation. McMullen tore off his second single of the game. Wolverr bunted to Skeet, and beat the latter's throw to first. McMullen tried to go all the way to third on it, and was nailed when Heilman whizzed the pill to Jones. Beef singled to right, and Wolter tried to go from first to third. Meloan's throw beat him there by a couple of yards. Rube grounded out.

After Hughes had fanned in the seventh, Maggert's double and McMullen's single, placed runners on first and third. Wolter drove to Leard, who hustled the pill into a fast double play.

In the eighth, Koerner fanned for the first time since becoming an Angel, and Rube flied to center. Zeb decided that it was high time to start something, and carved out his third hit, a single over second. He advanced a base when Boles slammed one through the box that Skeet sidestepped. Ryan, batting for Metzger, then soaked a beautiful single to right. Zeb scored from second, dragging one toe across the plate just ahead of Meloan's throw. Long Tom couldn't get the pill out of the diamond.

NEAR TROUBLE.

Hughes passed Bodie in the ninth. This looked bad, Ping being the first man up. Heilman singled, and a sacrifice by Downs placed runners on second and third. With things in this delicate condition, Long Tom discreetly walked Jones. He crowded on a few additional ponds of steam and fanned Leard. The third strike whizzed by so fast that Bill didn't unshoulder his bat. Block flied to Rube in deep left.

The score.

MILTON REED GETS BOUNCE.

SICKNESS PUTS SKIDS UNDER FORMER INFIELDER OF PHILLIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 17.—Milton Reed, an infielder from the Philadelphia Nationals, was released today by the Portland Coast League club. His release was due to illness which has prevented his playing since he came here several weeks ago. When Reed was sold to Portland he jumped to the Brooklyn Federals, but later was surrendered by them.

HAMILTON GOING TO MAKE GOOD.

MANAGER TURNS DOWN OFFER OF RAY COLLINS FROM CARRIGAN.

It is said that Manager Branch Rickey of the Browns turned down an even trade offered by Manager Carrigan of the Red Sox of Ray Collins for Earl Hamilton. Rickey believes Hamilton is going to make good in his promises this time. It seems pretty certain that if Rickey can't handle him, then Carrigan needn't try.

AT THE STAGE DOOR

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

The thirsty soul who hasn't had a draught of "The Elixir of Youth" for two years, viz., since Manager Morosco brewed it, will do well to call at the Burbank next week and order some.

Greasy Grind.

Over at the Burbank it's their "busy day, as the fly said." "So Long Betty" is being rehearsed by George Laske in one of the upper halls, while the peachy beauty chorus is being rehearsed by Billy Rock in another, and the male quartette is practicing yodles in Joe Montrose's office under the watchful ear of that harmony king. And Walter Catlett, who is playing in "Master Willie Hewes" and rehearsing in "So Long Betty" at the same time, is losing weight running upstairs to practice for the one and down for the other.

Who, Indeed?

The theaters are mad at the restaurants for running cabaret shows. But who ever heard of a poor restaurant owner complaining of the theater shows that take away folks' appetites?

Pink Thoughts.

Frances Nordstrum, who is on this week's bill at the Orpheum, is one of the cleverest writers of vaudeville sketches the stage has ever known.

She wrote the sketch in which she is appearing this week, and on Saturday will put on a new playlet at the Orpheum. She also wrote "Bits of Acting," in which her sister, Marie Nordstrum, will appear next week at the popular Broadway vaudeville house. This week she sold an act to Louise Galloway, which the latter will use next season.

Brow Stuff.

Mme. Yorska, protege of Sarah Bernhardt who appeared at the Orpheum a few weeks ago and who is to play at the Little Theater on Tuesday evening next, is arranging to tour the West this summer in a repertoire of acts from the plays of Racine, Moliere and Bernstein.

Mme. Yorska will appear in vaudeville next year in a new sketch dealing with socialistic problems.

Real Kicker.

Mlle. Yona Landoska, who will present a dancing act as a part of the Little Theater entertainment on Tuesday night, is a Parisian, and was a pupil of Mme. Mariquita and Mme. Chasles in Paris, and danced in the leading theaters of that city.

The Fantastic Toe.

Una Fleming, the lovely girl who charmed us with her Terpsichorean art in "Let's Get Married" and in the "Mission Play," is solo dancer in a new act just booked by Manager Drown for the Orpheum circuit next fall. Miss Fleming is a pupil of Mme. Matildida. She shows great originality in her work and has created a number of new dances for her Orpheum offering.

Preceding her Orpheum engagement she will appear in some of the Morosco musical plays.

Real Reel.

Henry Walthall does some of the most excellent acting of his career in the double role of Capt. Alving and Orswald in Ibsen's "Ghosts," being shown at the Woodley this week.

Will Feed 'Em.

Carter de Haven, dancing around at the Orpheum this week, says he dances with his dinner pail—that is, for a living ('cause he doesn't like dancing, not a-tall.)

Mr. De Haven claims to be the man who put the "hoo-ray" in cabaret. He also opened the Jardin de Danse in New York. Next year he proposes to open an entirely new and original sort of cafe in New York, the nature of which we are not at liberty to disclose, least somebody poach on Mr. De Haven's mental preserves. Suffice it, the enterprise which the genial dancer proposes should prove a delight to the jaded t.b.m.

Mr. De Haven writes all the sketches in which he and his pretty wife appear. He is at present engaged on a dramatic sketch for Gail Kane, which she will play in vaudeville next year.

The Carter de Havens are very domestic and have two youngsters, who travel with them but who are never permitted to come to the theater. "Nevertheless they dance and do nothing but play theater all the time," wails Mr. De Haven, who wants them to grow up and be good little shopkeepers, or dressmakers, or something.

Origin of Kewpie.

Mme. Aldrich of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who is singing at the Orpheum, is a close friend of the artist, Rosa O'Neill. In fact, their Missouri farms adjoin. Miss O'Neill designed the artistic gowns which Mme. Aldrich wears on the stage.

As regards Kewpies, Mme. Aldrich tells about their origin.

"Miss O'Neill, my children and I were out in my garden one summer afternoon," said the singer. "Miss O'Neill was amusing the youngsters with her drawings. She was idly sketching a Cupid; then to make the kiddies laugh she put a funny expression in Cupid's eyes and made his hair curl over. 'Oh, see the funny Cupie,' cried my youngest baby, and the children went wild with delight. Miss O'Neill sat and dreamed a minute. Then she clapped her hands and cried, 'Why Kewpies, of course! I just bet I can sell 'em!' And she surely has."

Grand Uproar.

Them Awful Roars.

Havemann, who has the nerviest animal act in captivity, and who is appearing with a trained lion and tiger act at the Orpheum, states he never whips his animals.

"When I get a new animal," he says, "I study him. All wild animals are different from one another, just as all people are different. I find an animal apt in a certain direction, but pet in another, and I do not attempt to make him learn what does not seem natural. I put the new animal in with the old trained ones, when I start his education and let him learn from watching the others.

"The leopards are the most difficult, because they never forget nor forgive."

Divine Sarah.

Sarah Bernhardt may appear in pictures for the Universal! That company is now negotiating to have her play a film version of her last season's play.

Funny Billy.

With Kolb & Dill at the Morosco next week will be Billy Jordan. Everybody in the world knows Billy, for he has been the announcer at every championship prize fight for years. There is a prize fight in the new Kolb & Dill show in which Jordan announces the referees. Advance information states that Jordan's peculiar style of announcement causes the audiences to moan with joy.

Big One, B'gosh.

Miller's Theater announces that they have just closed a contract for the largest and most expensive photoplayer pipe organ in the world, which is being specially constructed for the theater.

Batted Out.

"Polly," the domesticated ostrich at the Bostock Arena and Jungle, has succeeded in combining her inherited instincts with twentieth century necessities in an ingenious manner. Yesterday Joe MacField, superintendent of the arena, discovered that "Polly" was "setting." This being an unprecedented procedure on Polly's part, he decided to investigate. After much difficulty the bird was urged from her nest and the object of the incubatory efforts disclosed. It proved to be not on ostrich egg but a baseball!

Polly's pen is just back of the highboard fence that encloses the Washington ball park, and when the ball appeared she made a "home run" herself!

English Peg.

Moya Mannering has been secured to tour the English provinces playing the lead in "Peg o' My Heart."

Hurrah for George.

J. M. Barrie paid George M. Cohan a big compliment last week, when, needing a new lyric for his "Rosy Rapture Revue," he selected Mr. Cohan's "Life's a Funny Proposition After All," from twenty compositions, of none of which he knew the author's name.

Looks like another Peter Pan.

But happens to be Marjorie Rambeau in "Master Willie Hewes," being produced at the Burbank Theater this week. Her resemblance to Maude Adams is regarded as quite striking in this part.

MRS. BARLOW WINS EASTERN MEET.

DEFEATS MRS. VANDERBECK, THE FORMER TITLE HOLDER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ABSECON (N. J.) June 16.—Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow defeated Mrs. C. H. Vanderbeck, the eastern titleholder, in the final round of the invitation golf tournament at the Sea View Golf Club here today, 3 up and 2 to play. In the semi-final round Mrs. Barlow won from Mrs. C. F. Fox, 5 and 3, while Mrs. Vanderbeck defeated Miss Ethel Campbell, 2 up and 1 to play.

ROLLER SKATING COMING BACK.

UNIVERSAD CITY EXPERTS TO INDULGE IN SKATEFEST TONIGHT.

Roller skating experts from Universal City will be the guests at a skatefest tonight at the Broadway rink, given in their honor by the Roller Skates Association of Southern California. W. T. Norton, the new president of the organization, issued the invitations as one of his first official acts. While the rink will be largely turned over to the motion-picture stars, the general public will not be barred.

JOE KILLIAN IS DONE WITH GAME.

MANAGER OF WINNING TEAM TRIES THE CIGAR BUSINESS.

Joe Killian, manager of the three-time pennant-winning Oshkosh team in the defunct Wisconsin-Illinois League, has quit the game for the season and gone into the cigar business in Sterling, Ill. However, he won't desert the game entirely, for he is manager and catcher for the Elks' team at Sterling.

DONOVAN OFFERS FIRM, SOLID ALIBI.

Manager Bill Donovan of the Yankees has an alibi for the beating of his team at the hands of Joe Wood. He says Wood chewed licorice and smeared it on the ball, making one-half of the ball black and the other half white. Donovan expressed a couple of the balls to President Johnson, so he could see. Evidently then the umpires were blind.

Baseball.

COBB PLAYING HIS BEST GAME.

Wonderful Georgian at the Top of His Form.

Takes Game Alone from the New York Yankees.

With Him Tigers Look Like Possibilities.

If nothing happens to take Ty Cobb out of the line-up, as has frequently been the case in other years, those who are backing the Tigers this season will have a good chance to cash their bets.

With Cobb playing regularly the Tigers have advanced to the thick of the fighting in the American League and promise to stay there as long as Cobb stays in.

SOME HELP.

With Cobb the Detroit team is a serious contender. Without him they are just a ball club. Jennings still believes he would have won last year if his star had not been out so much.

The high-spirited Georgian always plays a good game, and it is not unnatural to see him leading the league in hitting and base stealing, but those who have watched him closely this season claim that he is playing the greatest game of his career.

NO FIGHTS.

With the changes that took place in the league over winter the Tigers have got the idea that this is their year, and Cobb has studiously avoided any entanglements which might keep him out of the game.

He has already won several games lone handed, and he captured another from the Yankees recently this way. With a three-base hit in the first inning, which led to a run, and a steal of home in the ninth, he delivered the attack that crushed the Yanks, while Jean Dubuc held them in check with his varied assortment of deliveries.

STEALS HOME.

Cobb's steal of home in the ninth inning, which led to the banishment of Ray Caldwell, was a spectacular finish for a personally-conducted run. There seemed to be no great demand for a run at this time, as the Tigers already had a good claim on the pastime, but it added to the excitement of some 6000 fans, most of whom went up there just to see him do something of that nature.

Having led off the inning with a base hit, Cobb worried Caldwell and Nunamaker until when he dashed for second and stole the base the Yank catcher made a wild heave. Cobb was on third before the ball was recovered and the next minute was over the plate.

MISSED PLATE.

However, if Nunamaker had been thinking as quickly as Cobb was the run might have been scratched off. As Cobb went over the plate he missed it and slid several feet. Nunamaker apparently did not notice this, and Cobb got to his feet and touched the base while the catcher held the ball and looked on. In the discussion which followed Caldwell was banished to the clubhouse.

ALEX SQUAIR ELIMINATED.

MARSHALL KETCHUM MANAGES TO WIN ANOTHER MATCH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, June 17.—Harold Gifford, former University of Chicago tennis star, defeated Alex Squair, present western and Illinois State champion, in the city championship tennis tournament at the Wanderers' Club today, 6-4, 6-2.

The result of this match came as a surprise to those who have been watching Squair's brilliant playing in both the doubles and the singles, and this victory makes Gifford the first man eligible for the semifinals in the singles. Ketchum, the California star, who has been winning in close matches in the last rounds of the preliminaries, won another close victory today over Hamilton, 6-2, 11-9.

FISHING NOTES.

Mrs. Clark of Carter's Camp reports fishing very good in that region. The streams are clear and the fish are biting exceedingly well. The roads to the camp are in excellent condition and the sport is hard to beat.

Al Reed and Bill Munson will leave Monday for a week's fishing on the Sespe.

Reports from the Big Bear Lake are enough to make a man quit his job and go fishing. Everyone is getting limit catches and the roads are in pretty fair condition. The road to Big Bear over the crest is now open and the trip itself is well worth the time and trouble.

Paul Wolfe, Jack Kelsey, Dr. Barber, G. P. Waltman, Forester Dereiaux, Mr. Murdock, Mrs. Wolfe and Mrs. Dereiaux will sail to the Santa Cruz Islands on a hunting and fishing trip. They will start Saturday night and will be gone two weeks or more.

BILLIARD EVENTS.

Garner and Rosen rushed off their last game in the horseshoe pocket-billiard tournament in 101 innings, and two hours and ten minutes of elapsed time. During the engagement Garner scored eight as high run, and made the total of 75 balls to 70, which made him victor and tied the two men for last place.

Clark and Evans finish the schedule tonight at the Nelms & Bird parlor.

THREE BASEMEN IN A SINGLE FAMILY.

Three first basemen in one family is probably a record in baseball. On a recent Saturday Jack Leary, formerly of the Utica team, played first base for the St. Louis Browns; another member of the family, Paul, played the same position for Waltham High School, and still a younger brother, Ted, was on first for Dean Academy.

"TYGERS" NAME GIVEN DETROIT.

When you see the Detroit team referred to as the "Tygers" don't think it is a mis-spelling. Several baseball scribes have agreed that Ty Cobb is the biggest part of the team and that its nickname should be so spelled as to compliment him. Nap Lajoie had a ball team named for him, why shouldn't Ty? So here's to the Tygers.

FIGHT FILMS OUT OF LUCK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, June 17.—The 8543 feet of movie film depicting the Ritchie-Welsh fight in London July, 1914, is to be destroyed by Federal authorities in accordance with an order issued by Judge Hough in the United States District Court today.

In vain the attorney for George Considine, who brought the films over, tried to convince Judge Hough that the Ritchie-Welsh affair was merely a boxing match, and as such, was not covered by the films law. Judge Hough ruled that the match was both a pugilistic encounter and a prize fight.

Tough Luck.

POMONA LOSES STAR ATHLETES.

GRIDIRON HEROES DROP FROM HEADLINES.

Heath, Overin, Reeves and Clary of Eleven will be Missing Next Year as will Daggs, La Follette, Powelson, Durkee and Metz from Track.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLAREMONT, June 17.—When the class of 1915 graduated yesterday it took with it one of the best collection of athletes that Pomona College has ever possessed.

Last year's championship football team will lose the services of four of its stars through graduation. Capt. Heath has represented Pomona for three years in football and four in track, and will be ineligible for further competition. He will have charge of the freshman football squad next year. Clary, Reeves and Overin, the latter two members of the all-southern team, are the other three lost.

The track team will also come in for its share. Seven men who have won track letters have pulled on their spikes for the last time, this number including Capt. La Follette, Daggs, Heath, Powelson, Durkee, Metz and Clary. Durkee holds the college record in both the shot and the discus.

The tennis team will suffer also through the graduation of Capt. Cate and Miss Mary Woodford. Both of these stars have represented the Huns on the courts for four years.

The loss of these men will be partially made up by the present freshmen class, which will become eligible for intercollegiate competition next September. Several stars such as Nisbit, Stone, Adkinson and Anderson will be in line to fill the places left vacant by the present graduating class.

SNOW MARTEN WINS STAKE.

WARTIME SUBSTITUTE FOR EPSOM OAKS RACE PULLED OFF.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

NEWMARKET (Eng.) June 17.—The New Oaks stake, a wartime substitute for the Epsom Oaks stakes of $25,000 for 3-year-old fillies, was run here today and won by Snow Marten. Bright was second and Silver Tag was third. Eleven horses, including Herman B. Duryea's Flash V, started.

LOWDERMILK EAGER TO PITCH BALL.

WORKS THREE SUCCESSIVE DAYS AND GETS BUMPED.

Grover Lowdermilk of the Browns is always ready to pitch and always asking for the chance. He worked in parts of games three successive days recently and in his third got a bumping from Cleveland, but the bumps probably would have been given any pitcher, for the Indians seemed to have it in their bats and bound to get it out.

RED SOX BOOTED FROM BIG LEAGUE.

The Boston Red Sox have transferred Infielder Mike McNally to Providence, presumably to make room for Bill Rodgers. In ordinary times McNally hardly would have been waived out of the major leagues and even in hard times he looks to be worth the waiver price from several clubs that might be named.

NEXT DATES FOR EASTERN EXCURSIONS ARE JUNE 23 and 24

After which follow July 2, 3, 5, 6 and others from the 14th on.
